Space Age Effects of Concern to Churchmen

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
(AP Religion Writer)

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U.P.) — Church leaders said today Christian forces in America are pulling together as never before but that they face somber, new challenges in a dawning age of nuclear power and space travel.

The relation of "nuclear-space" developments to religious faith was brought up in an opening business session of the Triennial General Assembly of the big National Council of Churches.

There also was a prediction that the Council, a varied cross-section of U. S. churches, will send a deputation to renew contacts with Christian leaders in Red China when feasible.

Overshadow

At the same time, an executive report said that advances in man's physical powers — including explorations into outer space — threaten to overshadow the greater values of spiritual strength.

"Mankind is awed by these new dimensions of physical

Blake, of Philadelphia, the Council's president, said participation of churches still outside the Council is needed to make a stronger Christian impact on the life of the nation. He mentioned specifically the Southern Baptists and the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod.

These two bodies, along with the Roman Catholic Church, are the only large denominations not in the Council.

The assembly opened Sunday night with a colorful worship service. Twin lines of robed delegates marched down the aisles of the city's big Kiel Auditorium to the strains of organ music and highnoted trumpet calls.

Still Living, Memorial Idea

"They cannot wholly pass away," Dr. Raymond Dooley, president of Lincoln college, said Sunday afternoon at the annual memorial service of B.P.O. Elks. The college president spoke of the six lodge members who died in the past year.

The lodge of sorrows ritual was presented by Don McKinlay, exalted ruler, and the other lodge officers. Appropriate music was sung by the girls trio from L.H.S.; Linda Layman, Mary Molen and Marilyn Yeates, accompanied by Helen Rodemer. Lodge members, members of the deceased brothers' families and friends attended.

Holding forth the belief those departed are not eternally lost, the memorial speaker said each possessed an individual soul that was different. It is unique, he pointed out, that each and every human is different. And each left a mark that is indelible in the memories of loved ones and friends, as well as their activities in the community.

Douse Blaze On Engine

A fire that started somewhere near Lincoln Monday finally was extinguished in Bloomington.

The blaze was in a diesel unit of the Abraham Lincoln, Gulf Mobile & Ohio train.

Lincoln firemen were called to N. Sangamon street at 11:30 a.m. but when they arrived the train had left. Crewmen of the train thought they had extinguished the blaze but as the train sped towards Bloomington the fire flared up again.

Bloomington firemen were called and put it out, this time permanently. The train was delayed 69 minutes at Bloomington while the damaged diesel unit was replaced.

The fire was in a heating unit of the second section of the diesel. Oil apparently got into the heating unit and caught fire. Damage was not estimated.

Prospects of about a two billion dollar increase in defense spending in the next fiscal year concentrated on missiles and anti-submarine devices, provided the background for demand in missiles and shipbuilding shares.

Pleased by CROP Report

Logan County C.R.O.P. met last night at St. John's to hear initial reports of the year's rural drive for food relief. All areas are in the midst of collections and the extremely late harvest township has completed.

One county elevator C.R.O.P. a $2.00 premium on every bushel of corn. Already there have been individual 50 bushel load donations. In many cases information that $10.00 will buy a ton of surplus food over the hands of refugees is a pattern for giving.

"Farm Bureau is as American as the Constitution itself," declared Floyd Evans, organization secretary of the Logan County Farm Bureau, speaking before Saturday's session of the group's annual meeting in Chester-East Lincoln school.

Evans, in his annual report, reviewed the year's activities and urged 100 per cent participation in Farm Bureau by each member.

"Last year was a very profitable year for the IAA and all affiliated companies," Evans said. "These companies did over a quarter of a billion dollars worth of business and returned over 11 million dollars in patronage refunds to Farm Bureau members in Illinois."

Averages Over $55
"This is an average of over $55 for every member in the state," he added.

"Even greater accomplishments" were forecast by Evans for next year. "The place that we must start to improve is at home," he asserted, "the reason being that we in Illinois are the nucleus of the agricultural world and we must set a pattern or precedent for the rest of the nation."

Evans revealed that increased dues has not greatly affected the membership, as there are presently 2,297 Farm Bureau members in the county, as compared to 2,330 last year.

For Farm Bureau to move forward, Evans declared that original objectives must not be forgotten. These he outlined as improving the society of farming, doing a job farmers wanted done, done by the farmers themselves, working cooperatively.

To Be Realized
"I am sure if we talk to the founders of Farm Bureau we will soon get a grim realization that many of the results we enjoy today did not come to us as individuals, but rather by cooperative operation," he asserted.

Pointing out the various Farm Bureau affiliated companies, Evans noted that the "highly competitive business spirit has been caused because you, through your Farm Bureau organization, have provided service, quality and savings to farm people. Let us all take inventory of our operations and make certain that we are using all services available to us."

More participation is needed in the field of supporting policy, Evans said. During the past year, 256 members participated in the policy development program, which represented a 150 per cent increase, he explained.

By BOB LITER

For the first time since grandma was a girl, and probably for the first time ever, All America football selections in the United States have been big news in Iran.

Iran, also called Persia, is one of the oldest countries in the Arabian peninsula in southwest Asia, is more than twice the size of Texas and is a pretty rugged place to hang your hat, what with mountains and deserts. However, the women are very pretty and that may explain why Jim Bakhtiar came to the United States to play football. Perhaps he hoped to dazzle the beautiful dames of his native country as the song says, "You gotta be a football hero to get along with a beautiful girl."

Anyway Jim Bakhtiar is the reason why football All American selections here are making big news there. Jim plays fullback for the University of Virginia and he has been named to the Associated Press All America squad, to the football writers squad and probably to many others. Bakhtiar (pronounced Bakhtiar) has been a hero at the Virginia school since 1955 and has been a national hero in Iran since then as well.

When Bakhtiar visited his homeland not so long ago he found in the bazaars of Tehran, the Iranian capital, pictures of himself, decked out in football togs. The pictures sold for $2 each. Two thousand had been placed there by the U.S. Information Agency.

It was Bakhtiar's first trip home in nine years. The 22-year-old Virginia team captain is a native of Abadan. His father, 77-year-old Dr. Abol Ghassem Bakhtiar, practices medicine and operates a 20-bed hospital there. Several hundred Iranians turned out at 5 a.m. at the Tehran airport to greet Jim when he arrived in June.

However, he lost 10 pounds during a siege of Asian flu; sweated in 120-degree temperatures and suffocated from humidity and slept right through an earthquake that claimed more than 600 lives near Tehran.

"I don't remember much about that earthquake," says the strapping 200-pounder who was one of this country's top ground-gainers in 1955, 1956 and this year. "I was in Tehran and it was so hot we were sleeping on the roof. I recall waking up once and seeing y folks standing up and talking. I went back to sleep. In the morning they told me what had happened."

At the USIA he saw films of Virginia football games.

Bakhtiar found the Iranians curious and mildly amused with football — "They couldn't get over the sight of 22 men shoving each other around for an odd-shaped leather ball. . . . They wanted to know what happened to my shoulders. They didn't know I was wearing pads."

For the second consecutive year, an all-time record was established in Logan county by the I.A.A. Insurance Service, it was reported today during the annual Farm Bureau meeting at Chester-East Lincoln school.

Gregory was a member of the school board, and served a three-year term on the Pike County F.H.A. advisory committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory plan to reside at Atlanta. He has been assigned to Eminence, Atlanta and Oran townships.

Representatives honored during the annual meeting include:

Santa and the STRONG BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

(SYNOPSIS: Prince Richard, seeking Santa Claus, joins a circus traveling North. The circus bills him as the Strongest Boy in the World.)

(Chapter Four)

THE STRONG BOY

That night the circus opened in Mitzenpoo.

First there was the elephant act. Then the trapeze artists. Then the bareback riders.

Finally Mr. Maxim came into the ring. He wore white riding pants and a tall coat. He carried a long black whip.

"Ladies and gentlemen!" he announced. "I now present to you the Strongest Boy in the World!"

The band began to play and all the children in the audience cheered and the grownups twisted in their seats to see.

But there was no Strong Boy to be seen.

At the door of the tent Prince Richard cringed behind a seat. "Go on!" cried the lion tamer.

"They're waiting for you!" Richard clung to the seat. "I don't dare!"

"Of course you dare!" said the lion tamer giving Richard a shove. "You're the Strongest Boy in the World!"

Goes Sprawling

The shove sent Richard sprawling into the tent. The band stopped playing and people stared at the boy in astonishment. Richard picked himself up and went slowly up to Mr. Maxim.

"What shall I do?" he quavered. "Pick up one of those weights," whispered Mr. Maxim pointing to a pile of heavy bars. "See how heavy a one you can lift."

Richard leaned over and picked up a 100 pound bar. Instead of putting it down he laid it over his shoulder and picked up a 200 pound bar. He added this to the one on his shoulder and reached for the 300 pound bar.

While Mr. Maxim and the crowd looked on in stunned silence Richard added weight after weight to his shoulders.

Finally he had all the weights on his back and he turned to Mr. Maxim and asked, "What shall I lift now?"

Nothing To Lift

Mr. Maxim looked frantically

The Lion Tamer Urged Richard Into the Ring

around. There was nothing left for Richard to lift. Mr. Maxim had a desperate idea. "Lift me!" he gasped.

Richard reached out and picked up Mr. Maxim and put him on his shoulder.

The crowd stood and cheered. "Hooray! Hooray for the Strongest Boy in the World!"

Then a strange thing happened. A rooster escaped from a clown act and came squawking into the ring. He flew at Richard and pecked at his legs. Richard looked down in horror. He had never seen a rooster in his life. To him it was a baby dragon.

"Help!" he screamed.

He began to run round and round the ring carrying the ton of weights on his shoulders and Mr. Maxim on his head.

The rooster followed squawking and pecking at his heels while the crowd roared with laughter.

Races After Him

Suddenly Richard dumped Mr. Maxim and the weights from his back and clambered under the seats and out of the tent. He never would have stopped running if Mr. Maxim had not raced after him and caught him on the edge of the circus grounds.

Richard threw himself. He put his head in his arms and sobbed.

"Boy," said Mr. Maxim, have you to cry about? The best clown this circus ever had. Why there's been anything so funny Strong Boy pretending afraid of a chicken!"

"I wasn't pretending," Richard. "I was afraid. I don't want to be a clown. I want to get to the North and see Santa Claus."

Must Keep Him
The boy is daft, though Maxim, but we must keep him with the show.

He said, "The circus only one night in each town. Each day we'll be one day to the North Pole. Stay! and we'll get you where you want to go."

Richard was ashamed of himself as a cowardly but to be one was the one he knew to get to Santa. So, shivering unhappily, he backed into the tent for the show.

Fire Follows Blast At Hotel in Texas

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — A shattering explosion crashed through the three-story Beckham Hotel Wednesday night and was followed by a stubborn fire.

One of the 32 registered guests was still missing early today.

Three persons were hospitalized and others were treated for cuts, bruises and shock. Fifteen elderly men lived at the hotel, which also was popular with traveling men. All of the elderly were among the 31 accounted for.

Forced Into Cold
Many guests were forced sniveling and half-dressed into the 26-degree cold. Several were routed from their beds and fled down fire escapes and ladders.

The explosion blew out all the windows in the hotel and shatclerk Luther Owens. "It kind of knocked me goofy," he said. Owens said he could see little flame at first, "although some fire licked up with west entrance of the hotel. It was so smokey I couldn't see who got out."

Gas Cut Off

Earl Benson, manager of the Greenville office of Lone Star Gas Co., said the gas was cut off for two blocks in all directions from the hotel at the time of the explosion while 20 men worked on a gas leak.

The explosion, described by most as a "dull thud," was heard at least seven miles from this north Texas city of 20,000.

Stocks Stay on Uptrend Friday

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels were in active demand and rails followed through a bit on their big rise of Thursday as the stock market advanced early this afternoon.

Turnover was moderate. Key stocks rose from fractions to around a point. There was a scattering of losers.

Wall Street analysts regarded the rise as chiefly technical, noting that business and industrial news remained spotty.

The market was generally higher in a lively opening. Then the number of losers increased as trading quieted. Buying interest had a spurt in mid-morning and prices improved, holding their gains as trading went into the afternoon.

Springer --

After his Navy service, Springer returned to Champaign to practice law and was elected county judge of Champaign County in November, 1946. He served in that post four years and was elected to Congress in 1950.

Upon his arrival in Washington, Springer was appointed to the House Veterans Affairs Committee and served on the subcommittee which wrote the Korean G. I. Bill of Rights. He continued to serve on that committee, as chairman of the subcommittee on Education and Training during the 83rd Congress which was Republican controlled. Springer, as head of that group, initiated and drafted a number of major amendments to the bill. As a result of these efforts in the field of G. I. education, he was honored in June, 1953, with doctor of laws degree by Millikin University.

Serves On Committee

Springer has since become a member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce which has given him an opportunity to keep a close watch on foreign trade, particularly as it affects U.S. agricultural exports. He has also been a member of the Subcommittee on Transportation and Communication, which has legislative jurisdiction over a large segment of the American economy.

In making his bid for re-election, Springer said he hopes to be able to concentrate more heavily this coming year on the problems of the Midwestern farmer.

He further stated: "In the second session of the 85th Congress, which will convene in January, an effort will be made to rewrite a large part of the present legislation covering the entire field of agriculture. The purpose will be to keep that which is good, to discard that which has not worked well, and to implement the whole field of agricultural legislation in order to raise the income level of farmers generally. Plan Major Effort

"The Committee on Agriculture has been working on all of these problems in the time since Congress adjourned. Correction of inequities in acreage allotments will be one of the major efforts. Some parts of this program passed the Congress last year, a new corn program will have to be written in 1958. Included along with this will have to be an overall look at the entire question of feed grains. I don't believe we can continue to handle feed grains separately. We have reached a point where they will have to be legislated in a package arrangement."

Springer was married in 1942 to the former Elsie Mattis of Champaign. They have three daughters, Katherine, 13, Ann, 11, and Georgia, 9.

Stock Market Lower Monday

NEW YORK — Steels, motors and rails fell in a stock market sinking spell today, but in the early afternoon prices were holding around their lows of the session.

Gain by coppers were clashed as the market assumed a lower tone in late morning after an irregular pattern earlier. Trading was moderate.

Generally depressing economic news, including a forecast of another decline in steel operations and a prediction by a U. S. Chamber of Commerce spokesman of a 1958 business recession at least as severe as 1949 and 1954 brought gloom to Wall Street.

General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were down to new lows for 1957, with Chrysler off more than a point.

Leading issues took losses of fractions to around two points.

Girard Wants Average Life

OTTAWA, Ill. — William Girard, just another GI until he became the center of an international legal wrangle, says he only wants to be an average citizen.

Girard was discharged from the U. S. Army at Ft. Sheridan Wednesday and returned to his home town, Ottawa.

"I just want to be an average citizen, a good husband and to earn a living," he told a newsman Thursday. "I hope I never get into the limelight again."

Girard, 22, broke into the news after he shot a Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, while she was hunting scrap metal on an Army firing range near Tokyo. He termed the shooting an accident, but was convicted Nov. 19 in a Japanese court and given a three-year suspended sentence. Didn't See Her Girard said Thursday he didn't aim at the Japanese woman and that he didn't even see her on the range.

Wearing civilian sports garb, Girard said, he felt that Communists fired up Japanese public opinion in his case. And he added that he feels no bitterness toward the Army or the Japanese people.

Girard and his Japanese bride, Haru (Candy), are staying with his older brother, Louis. The ex-GI said he doesn't know what he'll do for a living.

Stock Market Trend Mixed

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was mixed in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses to fractions to around a point were the general rule for key stocks and there was little in the way of emphatic group action.

Gains and losses of fractions to pointment that the Federal Reserve Board had not taken some action such as reducing reserve requirements of members banks after the close Thursday. Meanwhile, there were crosscurrents in the business news which gave no plain sign of which way the economic wind was blowing.

Armco Steel and National Supply were ahead as financial quarters anticipated announcement of their merger plan. When the news was announced each stock shaded its earlier price.

Chrysler was off around two points.

New Farm Corn Acre Allotment

Any producer who intends to plant corn in 1958 on a farm where there was no corn acreage during the years 1955, 1956, or 1957 must apply for a corn allotment if he desires price support or if he wants to participate in any other phase of the Soil Bank Program other than the Acreage Reserve Program for corn in 1958, Gerald E. Gehrke, chairman of the Logan County Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee, said today.

Marketing quotas do not apply to corn, he explained. However, under the present program, the production of corn in 1958 on a farm which has no corn acreage allotment would make the corn produced on such farm ineligible for price support in 1958 as well as affect participation in the Soil Bank Program.

Application forms for a corn allotment are available at the base county office. Jan. 31, is the last day such applications may be filed.

Girl Silent for Six Months Says 1 Word—'Mama'

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — A 12-year-old San Diego, Calif., girl, unconscious for nearly six months, gave her mother a Christmas present early. She spoke.

Her first word was "Mama." Mrs. Joseph B. Schow cried with joy.

It was July 1 at a swimming pool in Escondido, a suburb of San Diego, that young Maurine nearly drowned. She was pulled from the water after several minutes-some thought, at the time, close to 20 minutes.

STAYED UNCONSCIOUS

She was revived—that is, she started breathing again. But her brain had been deprived of oxygen for a critical period. The brain cannot stand lack of oxygen for very long.

Maurine was unconscious, and she stayed that way. The Schows used to live in Utah. The family arranged to have her flown to the Latterday Saints Primary Hospital here in August.

Mrs. Schow stayed at her daughter's bedside. Occasionally Maurine's eyes opened. But there was no sound of her voice, no apparent recognition-until about two weeks ago.

FINALLY SPEAKS

At that time, Maurine did recognize her mother, she did speak. And the first word was "Mama."

Doctors say Maurine may be able to become completely rehabilitated. In the past few days she was able to sit in a wheelchair for periods as long as two hours.

The rehabilitation period may be long, the doctors say, perhaps years.

'Greatest' Describes Christmas, L.C. Told

"Christmas, as all of you know, has many meanings and many associations," said Dr. J. T. Burns Friday, at Lincoln College's final assembly for 1957.

"Christmas is either the greatest thing that has happened or the greatest hoax ever perpetrated," he continued. "It is the evidence that the highest creation is man and that God cares for him."

The college's annual Christmas assembly began with an organ prelude by Mrs. Marie Bolley. Miss Julia Anderson, sophomore from Lincoln, gave the invocation. The Lincoln College Chorus, under the direction of James B. Deininger, sang traditional Christmas music.

Roger Nelson, sophomore from Chicago, gave the benediction which closed the program. Before and after the assembly coffee was served in the foyer of the Administration Building by President and Mrs. Raymond Dooley.

The assembly was the last event before the Christmas recess which began at 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon. Classes will resume Monday, Jan. 6, at 8:00 o'clock.

Ralph Ary Last Rite Monday in Town of Atlanta

ATLANTA — Ralph Ary 75, Atlanta police magistrate for several years, and retired lawyer, was found dead at 4:55 p.m. Saturday at his office in City Hall. Coroner John Barry said that Ary died of a gunshot wound in his head, apparently self-inflicted. A .38 calibre pistol was found nearby.

Ary suffered from ill health and had just recently undergone surgery in a Decatur hospital, and a hospital re-admission order was found on his desk.

Ary's office in the City Hall was found through the window shattered in his chair as she passed by. The summoned Floyd Hargis, Edna L. Ford, and Charles Ford, who entered the building. The coroner and Sheriff William A. Hargis investigated.

Inspector A. E. Adams and Richard J. Brown had seen the police magistrate alive at 4:30 p.m. Friday when he received his 50-year pension from Atlanta Lodge A.F.A.M. No. 165, at a special meeting in Atlanta.

The body was taken to the Quiram Funeral Home and they removed to the G. Harry Tuttle residence where services were Monday at 2 p.m. with the Rev. Roy Burrill officiating. Services were conducted at the grave by Masonic lodge and burial was in Ary Mausoleum in Atlanta cemetery.

He was born Dec. 26, 1891, in Xenia, Ohio, a son of James Harmon and Eliza Dalby Ary. When a small boy he came to Atlanta where he attended school. He was graduated from John Marshall Law school in Chicago, passed the bar in 1913 and was engaged in law practice in Illinois and Ohio until a few years ago. He is survived by his wife, Enid I. Ary, of Chicago. He also leaves two nephews, Sinnett Ary of Atlanta, and Major John H. Downing, in Paris, France.

Keenan Conviction Be Appealed

CHICAGO (U) — The road ahead loomed rocky today for Frank Keenan, Cook County Assessor, convicted of evading more than $211,000 in federal income taxes.

The 64-year-old Democrat-turned-Republican faced a possible jail term or fine, possible loss of his job and political exile.

But Sunday Keenan promised a battle on all fronts.

"I'm not guilty. I've done nothing wrong," he said.

Blames Politics

At a news conference Sunday he said his conviction Saturday in Danville was politically motivated. His attorneys already have said they plan to file a motion for a new trial. If this fails, he said, he will appeal to high courts.

He asserted he will not resign as assessor and will fight any efforts to remove him from office. This referred to a statement Saturday by State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski that he would have to determine whether the law requires Keenan be ousted.

Keenan also said he "bitterly resented" the Oct. 29 statement by Adamowski and Gov. Stratt-

1956. He

Fire Spreads to Used Tire Pile

LOS ANGELES (U)—Fire starting in a shed spread to two huge piles of used tires covering a square block at the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. plant today. Firemen of Los Angeles County and the city of South Gate quickly surrounded the fire. The blaze which broke out shortly before 1 a.m. was under control at 5 a.m. There were no reported injuries.

The only building involved at the big plant was the pigment shed, which was destroyed. It was estimated there were at least 100,000 used tires in each pile.

Firemen said the blaze evidently started with an explosion, from an undetermined cause, in the pigment shed.

A company spokesman said damage might run between $500,000 and a million dollars.

FIRE DAMAGES SHED

A shed at the Henry Dirks residence, 822 Pulaski st., was slightly damaged by fire Tuesday at 2:36 p.m. City firemen were called to the scene. They also were called to 702 S. Madison street at 2:12 p.m. Tuesday where there was a grass fire. No damage was reported.

Lower Price Supports Will Be Asked, Expected

WASHINGTON (U)—The administration apparently is preparing to ask Congress to set lower minimum price support levels for all farm products now having a legal minimum of 75 per cent parity.

The new minimum would be 60 per cent of parity, which is the price goal of federal farm programs.

Products now having the 75 per cent minimum include the basic crops—wheat, corn, cotton, rice, tobacco and peanuts—as well as dairy products, honey, and tung nuts.

ESTABLISHED BY LAW

Parity is a price standard declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to the costs of what they buy.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson already has stated a 60 per cent minimum would be sought for the basic crops.

So far, he has not publicly stated what the administration's position will be regarding the other commodity. His aides merely say the matter has been put up to the White House for a

CLEAR ACROSS BOARD

But leaders of some of the big farm organizations say they have been informed by department officials that the administration will seek 60 per cent parity floors clear across the board, except in the case of those commodities which, under present law, may be supported between zero and 90 per cent.

In this latter class are oats, rye, barley, sorghum grain, soybeans, flaxseed, cottonseed, dry peas, and the like.

APPEALING AGAIN

WASHINGTON (U)—The Agriculture Department is making new appeals for improvements in facilities for marketing fresh fruits and vegetables in the nation's urban centers.

Studies show, it says in a marketing report, that many of these markets are inefficient. As a consequence, the department says, retail prices are higher than they should be, with both the consumer and producer suffering.

The department says, for example, it now costs 27 million dollars a year to move fresh produce through the New York City market. It estimates that nine million of this could be saved if more efficient facilities were established.

CHANCES POOR

WASHINGTON (U)—The Agriculture Department sees little chance of prices of this year's record soybean crop advancing much above the support level averaging $2.04 a bushel.

Prices have been at about the support level, but 23 cents below prices a year ago.

"The proportion of the crop marketed early in the season was smaller than usual because of the late harvest and the tendency for producers to hold beans," the department said in a market report.

"This will mean larger marketings later which will tend to limit any seasonal upswing in prices. The upswing will be small unless the fats and oil picture changes greatly."

BEING OPPOSED

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) urged Congress today to nullify Agriculture Secretary Benson's order lowering dairy price supports.

Potter—breaking a silence on the subject by Michigan Republican congressmen—said Congress should set a rigid limit below which support prices cannot fall rather than permit absolute discretion by the secretary of agriculture.

"The secretary's action in lowering dairy price supports was very disappointing to me," said Potter.

He and Michigan's GOP House members maintained silence last week after Benson ordered dairy supports cut from about 82 per cent of parity to 75 per cent.

The Michigan Republicans reportedly were checking with constituents to determine the reaction to Benson's move.

Daily Worker, Communist Paper, May Be Near End

NEW YORK (U)—The Daily Worker, for 34 years the best-known voice of communism in the United States, appears destined to go out of existence next week.

The National Executive Committee of the Communist party reportedly voted in a secret meeting last weekend to discontinue the paper as of next Tuesday. This move would leave only the Sunday paper, The Worker, as the party newspaper in New York and the Eastern area.

But the paper's editor, John Gates, said he did not regard the vote as binding and would try to continue publishing indefinitely.

Gates said in a formal statement that "in any case, the Daily Worker will cease to exist only when it alone says so." Gates is a National Executive Committee member.

Endorsement Refused
The party leaders at the secret meeting also reportedly refused to endorse the 12-nation international Communist party declaration issued in Moscow last month. This hailed the Soviet Union as leader of the Communist world and called modification of this belief the principal danger Communists must fight.

The decision reportedly reversed a previous 4-3 vote by the party's National Administrative Committee to endorse the declaration.

A continuing drop in circulation and increasing financial losses have kept the Daily Worker pleading for funds from supporters for years.

Last weekend's vote reportedly went against continuation of the paper because of depletion of Communist party funds and what were called Gates' "right-wing" views.

In October, the paper reported its average paid circulation in the preceding 12 months was 5,574. A year before, an official statement put it at 7,355.

Gates said at the time that the Daily Worker's peak circulation was in 1938, when it hit around 20,000. The Sunday Worker, he said, once had a circulation of 80,000, but was down to about 12,000 by October this year.

Consolidation Complete

Saying "So Long" To Rural Schools

Picturesque rural schools will be nothing but a fond memory for Logan countians soon, as the last five rural schools will be replaced by a modern central structure in the near future.

The five rural schools in West Lincoln township are already in a newly-formed consolidated district, and voters recently approved a $190,000 school building to serve the area. A bond issue to finance the building will be sold Jan. 17.

Many generations have been well educated in their rural neighborhood schools, some having only one room to house classes from grades one through eight.

The West Lincoln rural schools are Sigg, Rabbit Flat, Burtonview, Rothchild and Mt. Pleasant. Classes continue to meet in the old buildings, where school bells will be silent after the new building is completed.

Consolidation of the schools completes a county-wide reorganization program began in 1945, at which time there were 107 rural schools, in addition to 15 elementary districts in towns, nine high school districts and one non-high school district.

Picture of Today

With the West Lincoln consolidation, there are now 13 community consolidated districts, two unit school districts, six high school districts and one common district.

In 1945, a state law was passed that allowed local school boards to elect a survey committee, and this started the reorganization program in Logan county.

On the local committee were: Chairman Clem Garton of Lincoln; Vice Chairman Ross Quisenberry, Emden; Hardin Ellis, Atlanta; Carl Dittus and William R. McGee, Mt. Pleasant; Ralph Shelton, New Holland; Harry Randolph, Beason; and Fred Wiggers, r. r. 4, with Supt. E. H. Lukenbill as secretary for the group.

The committee was aided by township advisers, and conducted meetings throughout the county to determine what the people wanted in regard to better schools. Studies were made, and recommendations were presented to the various boards of education.

Boundaries Change

Complicating the work was the matter of boundary changes, often requested when it became advisable to divide a district. Supt. Lukenbill granted several petitions for boundary changes until a new law gave that authority to the county judge, who handled many more changes. Later the county board of school trustees was granted this authority.

First rural schools to join into a community consolidated district were located in Chester and East Lincoln townships, and resulted in the present Chester-East Lincoln school at the southeast edge of Lincoln.

Rural schools making up this district were Pleasant Grove, Sugar Grove, Industry, Doolittle, Layman, Pegram, Fair, Hatton, Duff, Straight Row, Hunting and Musick.

The school survey committee, in advising districts throughout the county, was successful in maintaining a thoughtful approach toward reorganization.

While many counties rushed to form large consolidated districts, Logan county educators took a slower, more studied approach.

Overlook Local Pride

They urged residents of the school districts to decide on their schools on the basis of sound educational advantages for their young people, rather than false local pride.

Standing as fruits of their work are the community consolidated buildings throughout the county, which provide auditoriums for community activities and serve as a bond between the people, as well as offering a thorough education to rural students without making them travel too far to school.

Supt. Lukenbill has just completed preparation of a new map showing present boundaries of all 22 school districts.

Following sale of the West Lincoln bond issue, the school board will advertise for construction bids on the newest consolidated school, which will be located on the Louis Lauer farm west of Lincoln on route 10.
