San Jose Centennial Series Beg

Ed. note —This is one of six sketches being prepared in connection with the San Jose centennial.

Within the framework of Allen's Grove township are found the two villages of San Jose and Natrona.

First claim to the township was made by one Allen, as far back as 1830. His farming operations included some 50 acres of wheat, just east of the present grove. Allen, along with another bachelor named Smith, left very little mark upon the township in the two years that he lived in this area, before moving to St. Louis, Mo.

Next in line was David Taylor, from Tennessee, who purchased Allen's claim in the Spring of 1832, and continued to dwell in the township until his death. Until the coming of Benjamin Kellogg Jr., of Pekin, there were no actual land records and Kellogg's was entered in the patent office, dated Sept. 29, 1832.

Between '32 and '36, no further entries were made until the Horace P. Johnson, Ebenezer Montague and Robert Goggin purchased and claimed Sections

Hear Chief C.D. Figure

Civil Defense can prepare the nation for a military threat and, at the same time, act as a deterrent to war and as a weapon for peace, said Federal Civil Defense Administrator Leo A. Hoegh Sunday in a talk before a statewide meeting sponsored at Peoria by the Central Illinois Civil Defense Directors' association.

Several members of the Lincoln city CD corps attended the session at the Pere Marquette hotel, and those from Lincoln included Mayor Edward L. Spellman and City CD Director Larry B. Shroyer, who is secretary of the sponsoring organization.

Administrator Hoegh, former governor of Iowa, emphasized that Civil Defense is "a vital issue in the year 1958 because of the very existence of the threat brought about by the capability of the enemy to launch a massive attack."

Hoegh urged every American to support a bill now pending in the U.S. senate which would make CD a "partnership" between the federal, state and local governments; prepare and stock a family shelter; and learn the five simple steps to safety.

Other speakers on the program were: Peoria Mayor Eugene Leitter; Al Sellers, Pekin, president of the Central Illinois association; Gen. Robert Woodward, state CD director; and Gen. John L. Homer, state executive. More than 500 persons from 18 counties attended the meeting.

Fouls Cost Local Five Meet Title

Ritchhart's Jumping Jacks lost out in their title bid in the State A.A.U. tournament at Joliet Saturday afternoon as North Chicago took a 98-70 victory. Fouls were costly to the Jacks as practically the entire first string was benched before the last quarter even got a good start.

The local squad was down only six points when the last of the five went to the bench but the Chicago club pulled away from then on. Sideline fouling infractions were Jim Levi, Duane Wolzstein, Dick Aery, "Ace" Hinman, and Jerry Alberts. At the end of the first half, the Jacks had been called for fouls 18 times while the Chicago team was called for fouling only four times. funeral . . . . . paw 3 3 3

SCOUTING'S THANKS
Lincoln, Ill.
Feb. 28, 1958

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nugent
Lincoln Daily Courier
Lincoln, Illinois

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Nugent: May we extend our most sincere appreciation for the aid and cooperation of your newspaper in publishing and promoting our recent Prairie Trails District Scout-rama. The excellent coverage given the event in the Courier was unquestionably a major reason for the fine attendance and general public knowledge of Scouting's local show.

We feel sure you will be pleased to know that the Scout-rama was a success in every way. The event was a self-sustaining venture financially and certainly did a great deal to show what Scouting is doing for local boys. Even more important, boys participated in an experience which will be most beneficial to them. It goes without saying that any effort we make must have the support and aid of public-spirited, civic-minded folks such as you. The future of Scouting in the Prairie Trails District is bright. The cooperation and interest of local residents as evidenced in the Scout-rama will assure our continued success.

Sincerely,
Paul Haufler, Chairman
Camping and Activities Committee
Edward L. Spellman, Chairman

Flapper Cartoon Artist John Held Dies in N. Jersey

BELMAR, N. J. 18 — John Held Jr., cartoon chronicler of the "flapper" era, died at his home Sunday. He was 69. Held's clever line drawings of flappers were recognized and loved by an entire generation of Americans. His girls — dressed in the flat-cheeked, sack-dress fashion of the time — represented the "flaming youth" of the Roaring 20s. He was born in Salt Lake City Jan. 10, 1889. His father John Held Sr. had himself done some illustrating — although of a much different sort.

He had illustrated the "Book of Mormon" for the Church of Christ of Latter Day Saints. To N.Y. in 1900

The son began his humorous art career at the Salt Lake Tribune. In 1909, with $4 in his pocket, he came to New York.

Soon after his first flappers appeared in the old Life, a humor magazine, they caught on in startling fashion.

Legend has it that his work was so popular that editors sent him blank checks and told him to fill in his own figure for his work.

Cohn Funeral Big

HOLLYWOOD, 18 — Hollywood gave stern Harry Cohn the biggest funeral in movieland history.

The movie czar — his rule on Columbia's lot was as absolute as any monarch's — was entombed Sunday after rites attended by 1,500 of Hollywood's great and near great.

The turnout belied the legend that Cohn had built up about himself — a legend of fear and iron-fisted autocracy. The mourners included some of his most famous adversaries.

The setting was unusual—even for Hollywood. Cohn's funeral was held on Sound Stage 12 on the Columbia lot. It was fitting — a monument that he had built for himself.

Stocks Move Up Slightly

NEW YORK (U) — Steels and selected issues gave the stock market a slight boost in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Key issues were ahead fractions to about a point. Some losers spotted the list, notably among aircrafts and chemicals. Oils continued their recent rise but demand slackened. Motors and copers also advanced.

The market was mixed in very quiet early trading. Prices firmed in mid-morning and volume picked up. Steels were helped by industry reports that consumer inventories are approaching a minimum level. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic were all up fractions.

Among the oils, Texas Co. and Sinclair advanced fractionally. Curtiss — Wright dropped about two points for a while then halved its loss.

Peoria Journal-Star Press Rolls Again; Strike Over

PEORIA, Ill. (U) — The Peoria Journal Star published an afternoon edition for the first time in more than two months today after settlement of a strike by the American Newspaper Guild and four craft unions.

The walkout began Jan. 2 and ended Monday with ratification by Guild members of an agreement reached Sunday by Guild representatives and management. Workers returned to their jobs Monday night and prepared this morning's edition.

Under the ratified agreement, all employees receive a $4 weekly pay boost, bringing the scale for editorial workers with five years' experience to a minimum of $113.50 a week.

Sign New Contract

Along with the Guild agreement, a new contract has been signed with the International Typographical Union. The typographers' previous scale was $123.35 for the night workers and $117.35 for day workers.

Russell Perry, the newspaper's community relations director, said three other unions also agreed to return to work when the guild settled its dispute. They are the International Stereotypers and Electrotypers, the International Malters and the Inter### national Printing Pressmen.

The question of sick pay eligibility was one of the main issues in the strike. It will be submitted to arbitration as a part of the agreement.

The guild has demanded that sick benefits commence with the first day of illness. Management offered to pay such benefits after the seventh day.

The new minimum wage for circulation workers will be $108.50 a week plus a guaranteed minimum of $5 weekly in commissions. Vacation benefits are also a part of the package.

Had No Paper

The shutdown at the Journal Star, which publishes morning, afternoon and Sunday editions, left this city of 112,000 without a daily newspaper.

The original tentative agreement on wages, which was dropped after the strike was called, provided a $110 top minimum for experienced Guild members and a $3 weekly raise for those earning more than $110.

Supervisors Set $20 Per Day Election Judge Pay

Election judges in Logan county will receive $20 for their work in each election, in accordance with a motion adopted by the board of supervisors by a vote of 13 to 8 Wednesday afternoon.

Considerable discussion preceded the vote on the matter, with Board Chairman Hernan Henry explaining the new state law changing the number of workers at the polls from six to five.

Henry pointed out that the law also requires the polls to remain open until 6 p.m., which is an hour later than previous elections. The chairman suggested that the pay be raised to $24 per judge, resulting in the same total payment by the county as was previously made to the six workers.

Not For Townships

The judges, he added, will receive an additional payment for coming to the courthouse to obtain the ballots, and for returning the votes to the clerk's office.

The pay scale decided by the board affects only those elections handled through the county clerk's office, and does not include workers for township elections.

Supervisor Wilbur G. Colburn supported the proposition to raise judges' pay to $24, and stated that he had checked the total vote of the various precincts in the last general election, and found that only four of the county's 34 precincts had less than 200 voters.

Corvin Township Supervisor Homer T. Brown, however, said he believed $24 to be too much, and made the motion that the rate be set at $20. The motion was seconded by Supervisor L. Miller, West Lincoln township.

How They Voted
Supervisors voting in favor of the $20 rate were: Brown, Miller, S. L. Bair, A. J. Englebrecht, T. J. Gilechrist, Thomas Guppton, Edward Harmon, James W. Kindred, Jacob E. Lauer, Albert Reiterman, John L. Scheetz, Paul Smith, Thomas Steller.

Voting against the $20 rate, and favoring a higher pay for the election judges, were Chairman Henry, Colburn, Fred J. Armbrust, Walter L. Ebel, Harry M. Randolph, Emil Sandel, Ralph E. Schmidt and Floyd M. Wendell.

Appointment of five election judges by County Judge Leland H. Dunham was accepted and placed on file by the board. New appointments are:

Pearl Musick, to fill a vacancy in West Lincoln township precinct 5, created by the death of Beatrice Edwards.

Ruth Wallace, East Lincoln 3, to succeed Mary Carolyn Glinther, who resigned.

Ruth Nickols, East Lincoln 3, to replace J. A. Starkey, who resigned.

Naline Tibbs, Corvin 1, to succeed Marlene Fay Tibbs, who resigned.

Effie Ann Rademaker, Orvil 1, to succeed Frieda Behrends, who resigned.

Hoisted Engine Gives No Clue

TWO RIVERS, Wis. (U)—A muddy diesel locomotive was hoisted out of Lake Michigan Wednesday, but authorities were unable to find immediately any clue why it went into the harbor a week ago.

There was nothing in the cab to indicate anyone had tampered with the controls, according to Frank Ellis of Chicago, chief special agent for the Chicago & North Western, owner of the engine.

Ellis said the engine would be taken to the yards at Green Bay for a minute mechanical inspection to determine whether a faulty mechanism had sent the engine and nine loaded freight cars on an unmanned trip from Manitowish last Friday.

Authorities did not discard the theory that the train might have been stolen while the crew was eating breakfast in Manitowish. The thief could have jumped clear.

Two freight cars followed the engine into the water. The other cars remained on the tracks.

SEATO Takes Swipe at Danger - Sleepy Nations

MANILA (U)—The SEATO Council ended its fourth annual conference today with a swipe at neutral nations which "don't recognize the danger of communism and a promise of only slightly more economic aid to help the Asian pact members develop their resources.

The foreign ministers of the eight nations outlined the results of their meeting in a 1,200-word communique which pinpointed "the insidious character" of Communist subversion as Southeast Asia's "most substantial current menace."

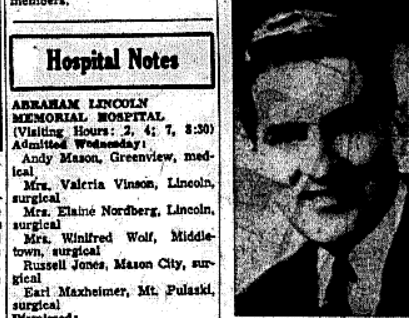

Without naming them, the council warned "some non-Communist governments" against "failing to distinguish between the aims and ideals of the free world and the purposes of international communism." The communique said because of "the insidious character of Communist subversions, there was particular danger arising" from these governments.

The communique announced no big new program of economic aid to meet Pakistani charges that such neutral nations as India were getting more help than free world allies.

Mostly From U.S.
Instead the Council of Ministers pointed out that SEATO's three Asian member — Pakistan, Thailand and the Philippines — had gotten more than 100 million dollars in economic aid in the past year, principally from the United States.

The communique said the programs of extensive bilateral and other economic arrangements between the SEATO countries were continuing. In addition, it cited U.S. Secretary of State Dulles' announcement that the United States would put up two million dollars for a program of vocational and on-the-job training for Asian members, and the Australian grant of one million pounds ($2,230,000) to the Asian members.

Review of Livestock Market at Chicago For Week of March 9-1

CHICAGO — Demand for fed steers changed course somewhat this week at the Chicago Stock Yards as orders were shifted slightly from the high choice and prime steers to lower grades. Numbers of high choice and prime continued very light but the over-all quality of steers and heifers was slightly improved from previous weeks.

The top on steers moved up to $37.50 to record another five year high. However, the bulk of high choice and prime kinds were under some pressure and sold weak to 50 cents lower. Prices on these grades ranged mostly from $30. to $35.50. The strength of the market was on the average choice steers which sold steadily to strong; mostly from $28.25 to $29.50.

Demand Improved

The lower grades, mixed good and low choice kinds, met with a slightly improved demand also. Steers in this class cashed mostly from $24.25 to $28.25. The plainer standard and utility kinds found an active trade at prices from $20. to $24.

Increased interest in heifers forced advances from 25 to 50 cents this week and the trade closed with a much stronger undertone. This was largely due to the increased orders on heifers which formerly were filled with steers. The top for the week was $29.50 paid for a load of mixed high choice and prime heifers. The bulk of the top heifers in the trade sold from $28. and up.

Mixed loads of average to high choice cashed from $26.50 to $28. Good and low choice kinds sold from $24. to $26.50. Some of the lighter weight standard and utility kinds sold from $20. to $23.50.

The cow market was strong to 50 cents higher with all cows, regardless of weight or grade, showing advances. Canner and cutter cows cashed from $14.50 to $17.25; utility and commercial from $17. to $20. Heiferette type cows remained strong and sold to $22. Bulls and vealers were weak to 50 cents lower with a dull undertone on both classes. Prices Not Dented

Increased supplies of lighter weight fall crop barrows and gilts failed to make a dent in hog prices at Chicago this week. Advances of 35 to 50 cents were recorded on all weights and grades. A top of $21.75 was reported at midweek with the meaty quality kinds from $21.25 to $21.50. Butcher weights up to 250 pounds as well as the lightweighters, sold from $21. to $21.25. Medium weight kinds cashed $20.50 to $21. Heavy butcher small numbers sold mostly $19.25 to $20.25. The supply of heavier butchers was very active and there was active demand both from the Eastern and local packers for all they find. The meat trade reported shortage of heavier weight at this time. The supply of derweight hogs from 180 and down was slightly reduced this week. Most of these sold from $17.50 to $20.75.

Sows found excellent demand and prices advanced to the previous high level. A top of $2 paid most of the week for top sows weighing around pounds. Most of the lighter brought $19.25 to $18.75; medium weight sows ranged from $19.25; heavyweight of weighing near 600 pounds from $17.75 to $18.

The slowness at the close of last week's sheep and lamb market in sympathy with the dull lamb market continued week at Chicago. The close was incomplete on early afternoon trading sessions. With reduced numbers late week, a complete clearance made. In the absence of choice or prime light lambs midweek top was $23.75. Bulk of the supply this week strong weight offerings played an important part slowing up of trade. Lower mixed wool and clip lagging near 110 pound from $22.25 to $23. Strong wools cashed from $22. to slaughter ewes remained at prices from $7. to $10.

Higher Standards For Air Force

Effective March 1st the Air Force instituted even higher standards for enlistment of former servicemen than has been the case since its recruiting service was organized in July, 1954. The increasing complexity of missiles and jet age aircraft has resulted in more of a demand for young men with high technical aptitude, according to Major Robert W. Hopkins, Commander of Detachment no. 512, St. Louis, Mo.

A limit on the number of veterans who can be enlisted each month was established in March. In order to weld a more compact, efficient combat force, the Air Force recruiting service is putting more stress on quality than on quantity.

Specifically, there will be a limitation on the number of servicemen from other branches who will be allowed to enlist, regardless of length of separation from active duty. There will also be a ceiling on the number of former airmen who may enlist if they've been discharged more than 90 days.

"In addition, the Air Force will require higher scores on its written mental qualification tests beginning in March", Major Hopkins stated. These changes in qualifications and target objectives for enlisting veterans are the first since the Air Force became a separate recruiting service.

Additional information on the Prior Service Program can be attained at the local Air Force Recruiting Office, Room no. 13, Post Office Building, Springfield, Ill.

A Fish Story

Personal Letter From Latham

Dear Friends:
How many of you readers have hobbies or something of interest to do besides the regular routine of daily duties? I visited in a home a few days ago where the lady of the house had three main hobbies. The first thing that caught my eye was a china cabinet completely filled with salt and pepper sets of every size, shape and color. Some had come from Hawaii. Others represented over 13 states in the U.S.A.

On into another room was the hobby that interested me most. In various aquariums and fish bowls were over 500 tropical fish of various species. Feb. 3, 1957, a friend gave Mrs. Florence Richner four fish and from these four fish and a few she later purchased herself she now has a very pretty display of several kinds.

Has Many Species
Among some species she has the Lime Tail, Blue Tail and Scarf Tail Guppies; the Angel fish; the Colorana; Black Mollies; the Red Moons, Blue Moons, Bronze Moons, Painted Moons and several breeds of scavengers, such as, skunk, spotted and sucker catfish. There were also several snails in the smaller aquariums.

The larger aquariums were very picturesque with natural deep sea scenes painted on the back, colored rocks on the bottom, the fresh green moss floating in the water and several had a water wheel which turned by air being pumped into the containers.

Each large container was individually lighted; making them much more attractive. Many of the smaller bowls contained a mother fish with her babies. As you know many of the tropical fish reproduce their young alive instead of laying eggs as the gold fish do. Many of these mature fish were only three fourths of an inch long. This is certainly an interesting study and hobby with a lot of work connected with it.

Mrs. Richner also makes Pom Pom rugs. They are made with wool rug yarn and worked into a design on a piece of heavy crash. Besides her household duties, gardening and raising flowers Mrs. Richner works away from home at an 8-hour a day job, so her days are very well filled.

Club Sponsors Supper
The Warrensburg-Latham band boosters club sponsored a ham, bean and cornbread supper at the new W-L high school last Saturday night, with a very good crowd attending.

Mr. and Mrs. James Garvin and daughter Mary Frances of Granite City were visitors in the home of Mrs. Garvin's mother, Mrs. Flora Rager, over last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Anderson and daughter Lorna of Beards of Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Cates, over last weekend.

The W-L Unit 11 school did not have school March 7 because of teachers institute.

Stevie Stinnett, Lloyd and Floyd Buckley, Kimmy England, and Lane Friend of Warrensburg were visitors in the home of Roger Weston recently. The boys had a slumber party although they did not retire until 4 a.m. They spent the evening watching T.V., playing records, and various games. No school next day, probably a good thing for some sleepyheads. Right boys?

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wubben and son Larry have moved to the country and are now living with Ralph's father, Mr. William Wubben.

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Buckley that they are grandparents of a son born to A-IC and Mrs. Dwight Buckner, who are now stationed in western Germany. The baby, born Feb. 13, has been named Kenneth Edward. Mrs. Buckner, was Jeannette Buckley before her marriage.

Home Sold
Mrs. Sally Talbot, having sold her home along R. 121 has moved into property just east of Mrs. S. W. Reeves.

Mrs. Barbara Mileham reported that her infant daughter is progressing very nicely and last Wednesday she weighed 2 pounds 8 ounces. Paula Jean must weigh 5 pounds before she is allowed to be brought home.

Mr. Grover Gasaway is still confined to the Decatur and Macon County Hospital having undergone surgery several days ago. He is improving as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Rosetta Phillips is still confined to the hospital, but is much improved.

This is almost the middle of March, the little crocuses and tulips are trying to peek over the leaves that have covered them so warmly all winter, but when I awakened to find the largest snow of the season on the ground, I think I will recede into hibernation, don't know what the poor little flowers will do.

We'll visit again.

Mrs. Floyd Buckley

IN APPRECIATION

Mrs. Logan Rademaker

Royal Rumpus Swirls About Ruler's Statue in London

Proposal to Move King James II Rouses British

LONDON (AP)—A dreadful row has broken out here over a proposed change in site for a famous statue of King James II. George Washington, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Sir Walter Raleigh have been dragged in, along with the American tourist trade.

Leading artists, architects and art lovers are beating each other over the head with adjectives.

So far Jimmy the Two—as he is known to the Cockney element—is still firmly planted next to George Washington in front of the National Gallery, overshadowed by the towering Admiral Nelson monument in Trafalgar Square. Sentiment on what to do with him seems divided among these propositions:

1. Leave him where he is.
2. Set him up in front of the Foreign office.
3. Chuck him in the Thames River.

Announced Move

The royal rumpus was touched off March 4 by the National Ministry of works. It announced in the House of Commons it plans to move Jimmy the Two to make way for a new statue of Sir Walter Raleigh, the old cloak-and-puddle man. It added that the King's statue would be re-sited at the Foreign Office.

The to-do which followed got Jimmy the Two more publicity than at any time since 1688, when the English ran him off the throne for tampering in high religious matters.

The first shot was fired by Roger Fulford, a writer of British royal histories, who thundered in a letter to the Times: "Let the King continue to stand close to George Washington so that American visitors may gaze with respect on that Stuart sovereign who, when Duke of York, gave his name to their most famous crown."

Bertsche Baby Dies in Hospital

MT. PULASKI Nathan Leon Bertsche, infant son of Bernard and Sharon Parks Bertsche died at 7:50 p.m., Thursday in St. John's hospital at Springfield shortly after birth. The body was taken to Schall Funeral home and graveside services were at 4 p.m., Friday in Mt. Pulaski cemetery with the Rev. Ray O. Zumstain officiating.

Besides the parents, other survivors are the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bertsche of Williamsville and Mrs. Winifred Parks of Decatur.

Too Late to

James in Trafalgar and set Sir Walter up next to Franklin D. Roosevelt in Grosvenor Square.

What may have been the next-to-last word came from historian George Macaulay Trevelyan, who wanted James left with Washington for this reason:

"It seems to me peculiarly suitable to have the statue of the man whom we got rid of on one side and the man who got rid of us on the other."

The last word, from the Ministry of Works, is yet to come.

The betting is that James will get what he got in 1688: his walking papers.

TO USE POLICE DOGS

ST. LOUIS (AP)—St. Louis probably will be using dog combat crime by next September. Top police officials indicated Thursday training of select police officials in handling dogs will start in London, three or four weeks. A training program then would be established here. "If we can use these dogs on the street, women will be safer," President H. Sam Priest of the board of police commissioners said.

Draft Exam Instructions Come May 1

Application cards and instructions for the selective service college qualification examination to be conducted May 1 may now be obtained from the Logan county draft board office, located on the first floor of the courthouse, according to Mrs. Erma Funk, local clerk.

Applications must be postmarked no later than midnight, April 11, and will be for the only test offered for the 1937-38 school year, Lt. Col. F. B. Woodworth, acting state director of selective service for Illinois, announces.

Scores made on the test are used by local boards as a guide in considering requests for deferment from military service to continue studies. A student's standing in his class is also considered.

Insures Manpower
Student deferments, which test scores have helped determine since 1931, have been a major factor in insuring the nation its present supply of specialized manpower, Col. Woodworth points out.

Many students deferred since the testing program was begun are now scientists, engineers and specialists in technical fields, the social sciences, teaching and humanities.

Test scores, with other information which each registrant is required to furnish his local board, will help the boards continue to insure the national strength by making the best possible decisions on how and when a man may most effectively contribute to the national defense.

Many men are able to complete undergraduate study before reaching an age when induction can be expected and do not need to seek a deferment, Col. Woodworth states. Draft calls presently are for men 22 years of age and older.

Logan Delegates At IAA Session

Herbert Knollenberg, president of the Logan County Farm Bureau, served on the steering committee during a special meeting of the Illinois Agricultural Association at Springfield Monday.

Motions were offered which finally resulted in approval of a new IAA headquarters to be constructed in a downstate city.

Other Logan delegates were Melvin Gehlbach, E. T. Culnan, Elmer Krusemark, Walter Jaggi and Harold Tendick, all of whom voted for moving the headquarters from Chicago.

The Logan Farm Bureau was one of several which supported the proposition when it was first brought up two years ago, and the board of directors recently adopted a resolution again favoring moving the office.

Supporters of the measure argued during the session that headquarters should be nearer the bulk of the membership which is downstate, and that a new building, which is required, would cost less to construct if it were located in a central Illinois city rather than in Chicago.

At Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower settled down today for a quiet weekend at their country estate. A weekend as quiet, that is, as the presence of two busy, exuberant grandchildren might permit.

White House officials ruled out the possibility of golf for the President. The Gettysburg Country Club course is mushy from rain and melting snow.

But Eisenhower's private green provided a possibility for giving grandson David a putting lesson or two. The forecast was for clear, moderate weather.

MAN OF MONTH:

American Legion, Scout Activities Busy Scott Crum

His life membership in the American Legion, awarded for outstanding work as athletic officer of Logan post 283 and the 17th district, and his family of four children are a source of pride for Scott S. Crum.

Crum, who is sales supervisor for Central Illinois Electric and Gas Co., is The Lincoln Daily Courier's "Man of the Month" for March.

Many hours of his spare time since coming to Lincoln in 1931 have been devoted to Legion Boy Scout and Community Chest affairs. The Man of the Month has also been active in the Methodist church.

Born on Farm

Born and reared on a farm in Stark county, Illinois, Crum is familiar with the hard chores and long hours of work on a "family farm." He helped his father as a youth, and remained on the farm after being graduated from high school.

Crum attended rural grade schools and was graduated from Wyoming high school. He left the farm in 1925 to start his own appliance business, and also worked at Peoria for the Frigidaire distributor, coming to Lincoln in the fall of 1931 to sell Frigidaire appliances.

He has been with Central Illinois Electric and Gas Co. since coming to the city, and during the years has become more and more familiar with the appliance line, which he describes as "radically improved in shape and form."

Served in Army

Crum served in the states with the U.S. Army during World War I, and following the war became a charter member of the American Legion at Wyoming.

He was a member of the early group of Legionnaires who met regularly in what is now the office of A. J. Berryhill, service officer for the Illinois Veterans Commission, at the county courthouse.

Later, he and a few other Legionnaires were instrumental in getting a home started on Chicago st. which flourished during the war years, not only as a Legion home but as a Service Center and "home away from home" for servicemen on leave or traveling through Lincoln.

From this beginning there developed the Legion Building Corp., which purchased the pres-ilities be expanded.

In this connection, he feels that most serious consideration should be given to a lighted baseball field at the new high school and conversion of the present Woodlawn field into a recreational park, incorporating pony league diamonds with hard and softball diamonds, together with provisions for other outdoor sports and, perhaps, a swimming pool.

"Would Be Mistake"

"Diversion of this ideal location to any other purpose would be a serious mistake," Crum asserts, and adds that several thousands of dollars in the Centennial fund (which is earmarked for park purposes and expenditure of which is controlled by the Legion) is available for this purpose.

"Boy Scouting is taking a new lease on life in this area," Crum believes, as he notes activities of the various troops, and the recent success of the Scout-O-Rama here.

Crum joined the Scout movement when his oldest son, Morris, became a Scout age, and looks back to more than 25 years of association with Scouting in its various phases. He served as chairman when the first Cub pack in Lincoln was organized at Central school.

For 10 years Crum was institutional representative for Methodist church troop 102, and he has been active in Boy Scout fund drives for the past nine years, serving as chairman for sustaining memberships.

Also a member of the Scout executive board of the Corn Belt council, Crum has been named Prairie Trails district finance chairman for 1936.

Plugs For Chest

For two years, Crum was chairman of the Logan County Community Chest, and is one of many local people who believe Lincoln should have a Fund Appeal for its various city drives.

In support of a Community Chest here, Crum spoke several organizations has giving frank answers to a Chest effort had not been necessary. It was during World War II, he explained, and one of the agencies, and one required 100 per cent of its funds, thereby reducing many other local charities have received.

Under present conditions, believes, the united effort greatly benefit Lincoln residents.

A member of Lincoln M. church, Crum is chairman project committee of the club. His hobbies are sports, fishing, baseball and horse dening. He and his wife are fond of traveling, and are looking forward to the "Golden Year" the hope of fulfilling their wish to see more of the United States and neighboring countries.

Planning Trip West

Crum and his wife, the Bernice Morris, reside at College st., where it is quieter as each child home. Their only daughter, Barbara, is married to Dr. Robert Bates, now state San Diego, California. Crum's plans are a trip to visit their daughter soon.

Their oldest son, Morris, is assistant manager of Metropolitan, Washington, Pa., other son, Wendell, is near with the Edsel Ford the Ford Motor Co. at Dearborn, Mich.

The youngest son, Jesse, is senior at Lincoln central high school. All were graduates from Lincoln high school, and father takes great satisfaction in seeing them find their place in life as young adults.

When Crum was looking for a company, he described him as a "man who planned his work and his plans."

The "Man of the Month" slogan to work with brought his sales ability and his love of serving youth in the Lincoln area.
