Cool, Rainy, May Outlook

WASHINGTON (U)—The Weather Bureau said Wednesday it expects the month of May to bring more rainfall than normal except along the Pacific and Gulf Coasts and in the Northern Plains.

The bureau said: "The Weather Bureau's 30-day outlook for May calls for temperatures to average below seasonal normals over the northern half of the nation lying between the Rockies and the Appalachians. Above normal temperatures are indicated in West Coast, Gulf and Atlantic States as well as New England. In unspecified areas, near normal temperatures are anticipated. Large week-to-week fluctuations are indicated over most areas.

"Precipitation is expected to equal or exceed seasonal normals over most of the nation except for subnormal amounts along the Pacific and Gulf Coasts and in the Northern Plains."

Levels for Farm Prices Turn Higher

WASHINGTON (U)—Record high prices for fruits and vegetables and substantial rises in prices of cotton and some feed grains sent the general level of farm prices up another 1.14 per cent during the month ended April 5.

This increase came on top of a 4 per cent upturn in March to strengthen Secretary of Agriculture Benson in his forecast that farm income in 1958 would top that of 1957 by from 5 to 10 per cent. It put farm prices at the highest point since January 1953, the month the Eisenhower administration took office.

The April price movement, reported late Wednesday by the Federal Crop Reporting Board, was accompanied by a one per cent increase in the level of prices paid by farmers for goods and services used in production and family living.

As a consequence, farm prices remained at the March level of 87 per cent of parity. This compared with 82 per cent a year ago.

Wednesday's price report did not take into account modest declines in prices of hogs and cattle that have taken place since mid-April. These setbacks, which were seasonal in character, will show up in a price report to be issued a month from now.

Partly Offset
The increase in prices of fruits, vegetables, cotton and feed grains was offset in part by de-

Vice Pres. Ni Out on Pol

WASHINGTON (U)—President Eisenhower's statement he has no responsibility to groom a successor appeared today to have put Vice President Nixon in a political dilemma.

Nixon's expected bid for the 1960 Republican presidential nomination apparently must rise or fall largely on the record of a chief executive who now indicates he doesn't plan to push any particular aspirant as his successor. In case of a dispute over policies, this puts Nixon in the position of being forced to choose between an open break with Eisenhower—which no one expects—or going along on Eisenhower's policies and decisions without promise of the President's backing.

They're Close Friends

As Eisenhower noted, he and Nixon are warm friends, and Nixon is kept in close touch with government activities. He currently is in Buenos Aires as part of an official good will tour.

As an active participant in Cabinet and National Security Council deliberations, Nixon can help as an individual to shape the administration's course. There is no doubt he supports many of the decisions and policies enthusiastically.

4-H Members Inspect Plant

Thirteen Logan county 4-H members toured the local power plant Thursday night. The trip was part of the final meeting of the 4-H electricity project for this year.

Harry Miller and Paul Levi of the Central Illinois Electric and Gas Co. were in charge of taking the boys through the plant, which generates approximately one-third of the current used by the company's consumers in this area. Miller and Levi showed members the boilers, generators, switches, the yard where current is distributed into the various wire systems, and the pumps which pump water to the city of Lincoln.

Previous to the tour members met at the Farm Bureau building for an hour of instruction on using electric motors. The three main types of motors, split phase, capacitor and repulsion-induction were explained and their possible uses on the farm discussed.

Care of such motors was explained by Miller. He stressed that proper lubrication is needed. He also mentioned that protection against overloads must be provided. Motors must be kept dry, as a wet motor may short and cause serious damage to property or endanger life.

Levi conducted tests with several types of motors, showing the difference in torque and the amount of current needed to start the various types.

Tax Phraseology Even Stumps Panel, Others.

NEW YORK (AP) — A 212-word sentence in the Internal Revenue Code has stumped experts trying to boil it down for readability.

The passage, concerning tax estimates, roused the wrath last month of Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah). He offered a book on simplified English to anyone who could reduce its complexity.

A television program (The Last Word) took up the issue and announced it would add an encyclopedia to the prize offer. About 600 answers were examined by a panel of New York University professors.

Bill Weinstein, the program's producer, said the best answer contained five errors.

He said the professional panel suggested that a few periods could be put in, adding: "But there just wasn't any way of simplifying the phraseology."

Not For Individual

"The law says that it is the individual's place to consider his own particular housing situation and decide that he will build. The State has no power over the individual's authority to make decisions for himself.

With the rapid extension of public projects in our country are we not proceeding in the same direction?

Farmand Magazine also quotes Per Thomsen as defining the difference between the totalitarian state and the welfare state as follows: the former "you shall, whether you will or not;" while the latter "if only you will, you'll be made to."

In spite of the great liberties in Scandinavia, Americans never tire of talking socialism in that quarter. For instance, Paul Samuelson's Economics — An Introductory Analysis says "... Scandian and other Socialist countries retained all the familiar liberties and individual freedoms that are guaranteed our own Constitution."

Commissioners Will Meet Tuesday Night

"Highway Hearing," a film prepared by the Dow Chemical Co., will be shown during the annual meeting of Logan county highway commissioners Tuesday evening at the courthouse.

According to County Highway Supt. Conrad Miller, the film depicts problems besetting a community when the state and federal governments locate an interstate, limited access highway around their city.

In view of the fact that Lincoln will be bypassed, probably to the east, by a relocation of route 66 when it becomes interstate route 3, Miller has invited Mayor Edward L. Spellman and city councilmen to attend the meeting.

Spring was still struggling for a comeback in the Logan area Wednesday. The official thermometer here skipped down to 32 degrees in the night and frost was much in evidence early Wednesday morning — to the disgust of early gardeners.

Partly cloudy and a little warmer was the outlook Thursday.

A high of 61 degrees shared by Moline, Peoria, Rockford and Springfield was the warmest reading in the state Tuesday. Chicago's top was a chilly 49.

Poppy Day to Be May 23rd

A goal of three and one-half million poppies to be sold on Poppy Day, Saturday, May 23 in Illinois has been set by state American Legion and Auxillary headquarters.

More than 50,000 men and women volunteers in cities and towns throughout Illinois will sell poppies for the benefit of needy and disabled veterans and their families.

The taggers will include not only Legionnaires and members of the Auxillary, but citizens from every walk of life who will join their neighbors in the task.

The poppies are made by veterans in hospitals throughout the state. Anthony Badamo, Commander, Department of Illinois, American Legion, said. "The veterans are paid for the poppies they make, giving most of them the only chance they have to earn money for their families while hospitalized. Remember this when you are approached to buy a Poppy. Remember the veteran, and give generously."

Set Volunteer Study at L.S.S.

Announcement is made by Dr. Joseph Albama, at Lincoln State School, of the fourth orientation training course for new volunteers. The course will be given May 19 and 26 in the recreation room of the Staff House.

At the present time, 26 individual volunteers from Lincoln and the surrounding communities are visiting the School each week. Assigned to nursing service, the recreation department, the Chaplaincy program and various other departments in the institution, they supplement the work of staff with "extra" services to the patients.

Volunteers are selected for their warmth, understanding, sympathy and recognition of the great needs of those less fortunate than themselves. After attending a day and a half orientation training course, they are assigned according to their interests and the needs of the institution.

Volunteer service is a state coordinated program operating in 11 hospitals for the mentally ill and two schools for the retarded. Undertaken as a pilot study in 1951, and incorporated under the Department of Public Welfare in 1953, the program now brings over 5,000 individuals into the state institutions for weekly or monthly visits.

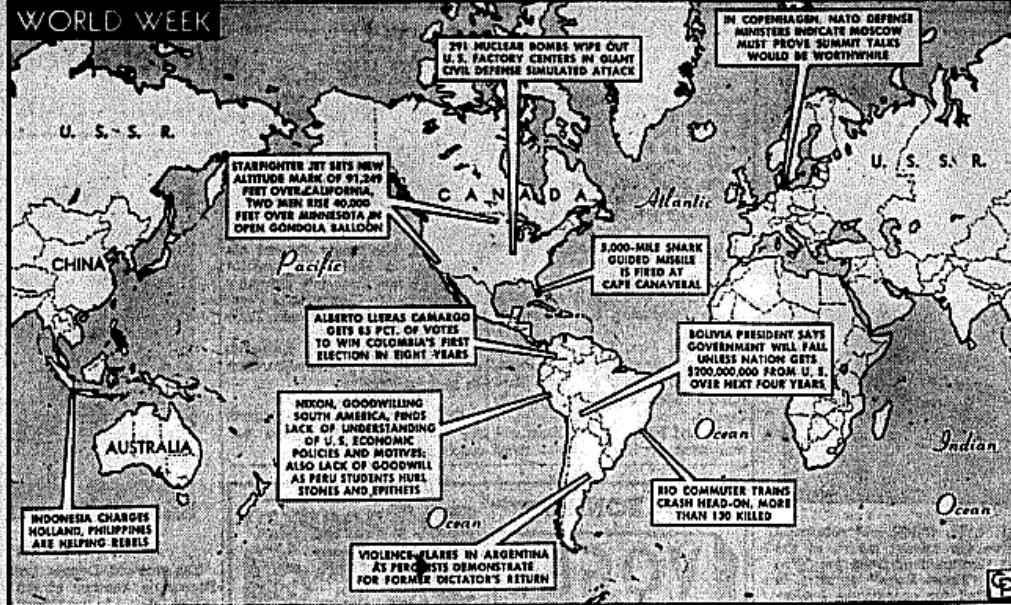

Applications for enrollment in the fourth orientation training course will be accepted through May 21. Anyone interested may contact Mrs. Mary Lou Proctor, volunteer supervisor, at the Lincoln State School.

4-H Camp Plans Will Be Shaped

Members of the Logan County extension staff will go to Monticello Tuesday, May 13, to help make plans for the 4-H camping period which will start soon.

Campers from Logan county will go to the camp in two periods. Those from age 10 to 13 will attend from July 14 through 18. Campers 14 years of age and over will be at the 4-H Memorial camp at Monticello July 7 through 11, according to Assistant Farm Adviser Glenn Vevington.

Some of the things that 4-H campers have the opportunity to do are to learn to swim, meet many new friends, make things at the handicraft shop.

This will be the first year for Logan county 4-H members to attend the Memorial camp since the county's share of the camp fund was paid. Some $3400 was paid in March after a drive to raise the needed amount went over the goal.

Traveling Circus Here July 24th

Cristiani Brothers' circus, which will play in Lincoln July 24 under auspices of the Lincoln Lions club, is the subject of a nostalgic study of the Big Top in America which appeared last September in the Saturday Evening Post magazine.

"Don't Tell Them the Circus Is Dead" is the title of the article, which describes and pictures the varied acts included in the largest traveling circus still playing to audiences in the U.S.A.

As colorful as the circus itself is the story of the Cristiani family from Italy, one of the world's largest and oldest circus families, headed by Ernesto Cristiani, who refused to abandon the traditional tent entertainment at a time when Ringling Brothers and other larger circuses ceased their travels.

Known as "Dainty" Papa Ernesto is the oldest performer in the family, with about 36 of the 60 performers being members of the family. Mama Cristiani, now more than 70, supervises the cookhouse, but was known as "The Dainty Signorina Vittoria" in her heyday as an aerialist.

Featured acts of the circus include the Cristiani Family, high wire artists, Capt. Kuhn and his wild animals, midgits, clowns, and a "human cannonball."

Afternoon and evening performances will be given at grounds off route 121 near Chester-East Lincoln school.

A preview glimpse of the entertainment in store under the big top July 24 will be given Lincoln residents during a downtown circus parade, complete with animal menagerie and old-time callopes.

Space Flight For Practice

NORFOLK, Va. — Lt. Cmdr. Jack Neiman Jr. neared the half-way point of his "space flight" here today and scientists watching him in the sealed low pressure chamber said he should easily make the full trip of 48 hours.

Grain Mart Trendless

CHICAGO, Illinois. — The current week was another one of almost complete lack of uniformity of trend in the various grain futures on the Chicago Board of Trade. About the only point on which there was any great similarity of action was in the cases of wheat, corn, oats and rye, the May future showed independent strength but on soybeans, the maturing future was the easiest.

Net changes were as follows: wheat, old crop May from 1½ to 1½ cents higher and the new crop positions, down from 1½ to 1½ cents per bushel; corn, old crop deliveries were from 1 cent lower to 1½ cents higher and the new, old 1½ to 2½ cents; oats, down from ½ to 2½¢ higher; rye, 3½ lower to 3½ cents up; soybeans, down ½ to ½ cent on the old crop months and from ½ to 1 cent off on the new crop positions.

The main feature in the wheat futures during the week was the independent strength in the maturing May delivery; while it made no new highs for the season its premium over the new crop July went out by far the widest so far with tonight's closing spread at 34 cents per bushel.

During the previous week, stocks of "free" wheat in store at Chicago fell off 251,000 bushels and out-shippments of 223 carlots and one barge of 26,000 bushels, this week, still another decrease in the amount of "free" wheat stored locally is in prospect. Weather and crop news from the winter wheat area continued uniformly good although there were some spots in the Southwest where they are complaining of too much moisture.

Winter Wheat Production to Be Increased

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department late Friday forecast this year's winter wheat crop at 1,009,754,000 bushels.

This estimate is 46,118,000 bushels more than last month's forecast of 963,636,000. It compares with 707,201,000 produced last year and 849,604,000 for the 10-year-1947-56 average.

No forecast was given for spring wheat, but officials have said a crop of 225 million bushels appears possible. This would give a combined winter and spring production of 1,234,754,000 compared with 947,000,000 last year and 1,030,000,000 for the 10-year average.

Average at 24 Bushels The department estimated the yield of winter wheat will average 24 bushels per harvested acre compared with 22.4 last year and 18.9 for the 10-year average.

The acreage to be harvested was estimated at 42,125,000 acres compared with 31,613,000 last year and 45,196,000 for the 10-year average. The percentage of the seeded acreage not expected to be harvested for grain was forecast at 4.1 compared with 15.8 last year and 16 for the 10-year average.

This year's indicated big wheat crop will be supplemented by reserve and surplus stocks of about 880 million bushels from past crops, most of which is held by the government under price supports.

The condition of the rye crop was indicated at 92 per cent of normal compared with 88 per cent a year ago and 86 per cent for the 10-year May 1 average. The condition of the hay crop was put at 90 per cent of normal compared with 88 per cent a year ago and 84 for the 10-year average.

Report on Pasture The condition of pastures was reported at 89 per cent of normal compared with 85 a year ago and 80 for the 10-year average.

Milk production in April was reported at 11,412,000,000 pounds compared with 10,944,000,000 in March, 11,412,000,000 in April last year and 10,599,000,000 for the 10-year April average.

Egg production in April was put at 5,435,00,000 compared with 5,458,000,000 in March, 5,680,000 in April last year and 5,849,000,000 for the 1-year April average. The acreage of winter wheat for harvest in Illinois was placed at 1,769,000, the yield per acre at 29 bushels, and total production at 51,301,000 bushels.

Livestock Prices Bolstered at Chicago Yards for This Week

CHICAGO. — Continued strong Eastern order-buyer activity for all livestock plus broad local demand, prompted by the strong consumer demand for meat, helped to bolster livestock prices at the Chicago Stock Yards this week.

A slight increase in cattle receipts failed to lower prices. With nearly 43,000 cattle in the trade, prices on most all grades and weight of steers held steady, while heifers moved into a stronger position.

If there was any spot where buyer pressure was apparent, it was on prime steers. However, there was not a strictly top load of high prime cattle comparable to the $36. cattle a week ago. As a result, the top price paid for steers this week was $34.75. Most of the prime grades sold from $32. and up, with mixes high choice and prime from $31. to $32. Average to high choice steers carrying some weight sold from $28. to $30. Good and low choice grades once again sold stronger at prices mostly from $25.75 to $28. The lower grade standard and utility steers sold mostly from $22. to $26. Closely Related

At the present time, because of the scarcity of plainer grades of steers, there is a close price relationship between lower grade good steers and average choice kinds. It is easy to sell these lower grades from $27. to $27.25, while the choice kinds are not selling too much over the $28. mark.

Heifer trading continued to move at a fast tempo as demand was broad from all buying interests. High choice and prime offerings received the most action at prices from $29. and up. Some of these grades were 50 to 75 cents higher. The top at midweek was $30.75 on a load of strictly prime heifers weighing 1,151 pounds. Average choice heifers sold mostly steady from $25.50 to $27.50. The plainer standard and utility kinds cashed from $25.50 and down.

The supply of butcher stock was comparatively light all week and price advances were recorded on all classes. The cow market advanced 25 to 50 cents. Canner and cutter cows closed from $16. to $19.50; utility and commercial from $19.25 to $22.50 with some young standard beef cows up to $24. The bull market was active and strong to 50 cents higher the top at $24.50. Vealers turned at $1.00 higher prices. Prime kinds topped at $34. with the bulk of good, choice and prime calves from $20. to $32.

The Chicago hog market enjoyed one of the most active weeks of trading in 1958 as strong Eastern influence stimulated a 75 cents to $1.00 higher market. Very few lightweight meaty hogs capable of setting a top on the market were in the trade this week. As a result, the top several days was misleadingly low.

Top Goes To $22.75

The bulk sold from $21.50 to Medium weight butchers from $20.50 to $21.50; weight kinds weighing ne pounds sold from $18.75 to $19.75.

The sow market did not follow the trend of the light. The general trade was at 50 cents higher with the gain on smooth, lightweight. The top moved up to $19. most light kinds cashed $18.75 to $19.50. Medium offerings sold from $17.25 to $18.75, while fat, heavy sows were at prices from $16.75 to $18.75.

Eastern buyers provided a dependable outlet for the number of slaughter lambs trade at Chicago this week. Strong local interests were in the trade. The combine these two elements sent prices to a higher level the top up to $22. on offerings. Clip lambs at No. 1 pelts and lighter v also cashed in on the free $22. top. The bulk of the of the better lambs sold $20. to $21.50 with wool at lambs of below choice qu prices from $21. and $22. Slaughter ewes sold steady. Prices on the bulk trade were from $8.50 to $10. choice handweight ewes at $10.

Flood Recedes

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. — "We've been lucky. We're in shape now," Mayor C. Gibbs said as his town prepared to dig out of mud left by the overflow swollen rivers.

The Big Sandy and the rose nearly six feet over stage here Friday, but the waters began receding overnight.

When the Big Sandy reached Catlettsburg, which flows into the Ohio, the eastern Kentucky ended. But the Ohio, also, above flood stage, continued to roll over low lying areas in Kentucky and Ohio basins. Crests were expected at night Sunday and Louisville day.

Americans, bound for ports, should apply for their ports at least three weeks departure date.

Sentiment Against Tax Cut Growing in Congress

WASHINGTON — Sentiment appeared to be solidifying in Congress today against any general tax reduction and in favor of cuts in some excise levies.

Four key senators said in separate interviews they believe excise reductions would give a greater stimulus to the economy than action to lower income taxes.

President Eisenhower was described by an influential Republican senator as indicating at White House meetings that he is opposed to a general tax cut.

This Republican said the President always brings up the issue of where the money is coming from to pay for government expenses if taxes are reduced.

This sort of thinking appeared to be taking hold among some Democrats.

Backed By Kerr

Sen. Robert S. Kerr (D-Okla.), a member of the Senate Finance Committee, said he will support action to revise the 10 per cent levy on automobiles, the 3 per cent on freight and the 10 per cent charge on passenger transportation.

Kerr predicted corporation taxes will be held at 52 per cent and that individual income levies will remain unchanged.

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) discounted chances of a general tax cut this year.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.), a finance committeeman, said he doesn't find any sentiment, particularly from his state, for a general tax reduction. He said he would favor readjustment of the excise levies.

Sen. John Bricker (R-Ohio) said he will vote to wipe out all of the excise levies except those on tobacco and liquor.

In other developments Wednesday:

Prices Going Up

1. In New York, the National Industrial Conference Board reported that consumer prices rose 3.2 per cent above the level a year ago to set a new high for the 24th consecutive month. Food prices rose most.

2. The Federal Reserve Board said production in mines and factories dropped in April for the eighth straight month, reaching the lowest point since 1954.

3. The Senate, as a means of increasing automobile sales, passed a bill to require that all new passenger cars carry the manufacturer's suggested retail price along with prices of extras and accessories.

Lebanon Cold War Gets Hot

Political Situation Remains Complicated

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The assassination of an obscure local editor has pitted brother against brother in this little Switzerland of the Middle East and has brought the region's cold war to the boiling point.

Here one finds the spectacle of Moslem against Christian, Christian against Moslem, Christian against Christian and the mountain Druze tribes against Christians and each other.

Here also is the Middle East cold war in capsule. Pro-Nasserite battles anti-Nasserite, pro-Western supporter of the pro-Western government fights anti-Westerners who would like to bring the government down.

Warfare rages between remnants of the old pan-Syrian nationalist movement and the underground Communists. The Reds themselves eagerly aid Syrian and Egyptian agents in the subversion and exploitation of the local political situation.

The slain editor — Nasib Matni — had been pro-Nasser, also had echoed Syrian pro-Sovietism to the extent that he believed Russian assisted Arab nationalism.

When it came to Lebanon, Matni, a Maronite Christian, stood for complete independence as opposed to membership in any federation.

No one professes to know who killed Matni, but his murder was a handy excuse for many comments here to take off on a bit of violence.

The government may ride this particular storm. But there are more storms to come, cause Lebanon is an obstacle to the goals of extreme Arab nationalism.

The situation which exists today has been building up more than two years, during which the nation has been under severe Syrian-Egyptian Communist pressure.

The government's policy apparently is to contain the riotous and bombings, and to avoid bloodshed. With this goal in mind, security forces attempt to confine the violence to the area of origin instead of using heavier measures that could bring a dreaded full scale war between Moslems and Christians.

Jobless Claims Decrease Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third straight week, the government has reported a decline in the number of workers drawing unemployment benefits.

But there was an apparent increase in new layoffs as workers eligible for jobless payments.

In its weekly summary, Labor Department reported today that the number of workers claiming unemployment compensation dropped by 70,900 during the week ended May 3 to a total of 3,154,800.

On the other hand, the department said initial claims for less benefits, reflecting new layoffs, rose by 5,400 during the week ended May 10 to a total of 408,600. The previous week initial claims declined by 19,500, dropped by 13,700 during the corresponding week a year ago to a total of 233,500.

"It all started last November when I built a fire in the fur-

Crash Survivor Says He Didn't See Other Plane

BRUNSWICK, Md. (P) — Capt. Julius R. McCoy, sole survivor of a plane collision that killed 12 persons, leaned back in his hospital bed and took a drag from a cigarette.

"We were cruising at about 8,000 feet in clear air," he said. "At no time did I see another plane. The next thing I knew there seemed to be an explosion. There were flames and wreckage all around me."

The 34-year-old Air National Guard officer, his hands swathed in bandages, his face red, black and blue from second-degree burns, was the only person to live through Tuesday's collision. His condition was not serious.

A Chicago-to-Baltimore Capital airliner and the Air Guard T33 jet trainer collided over the lush Potomac River Valley eight miles west of this railroad town and about 50 miles northwest of Washington.

The fourcrewmen and seven passengers aboard the turbo-prop airliner were killed, along with the only passenger in the trainer. Capt. McCoy was blown from the jet plane by the explosion and his parachute somehow opened, carrying him to safety.

In Washington, two congressional investigations of air safety were set swiftly in motion as a result of the collision. The Air National Guard also convened an accident investigation board.

It was the third air collision this year between passenger-carrying planes and military aircraft.
