

SIRENS MOAN:

Wires, Trees Bear Brunt Of Storm Damage Here

Lincoln residents sought basements and storm shelters Saturday night for the first time this season when winds, rains and tornadoes lashed the Central Illinois area.

Damage in the city was heaviest on the east side, with limbs and power lines down in several places. Portions of this city were without electricity more than three hours.

Power to both Abraham Lincoln Memorial and St. Clara's hospitals was off as the result of a line being broken by a falling tree limb on Seventh st. near Deaconess Memorial home.

First indication of the severity of the storm was at 8:30 p.m., Saturday when a tornado funnel was sighted north of Lincoln. Shortly before 10 p.m., another funnel was seen, and the Lincoln City Civil Defense sirens were sounded to alert residents of the weather threat.

CD workers, local police, firemen and street department workers immediately began their work, and patrolled the streets to assess damages and locate danger spots where power lines were down.

Damages resulted to the Clyde McGee home at 1406 N. McLean st. and to the Gullett & Sons greenhouses, where glass was blown out by the winds.

No serious emergencies resulted at either hospital from the "blackout" although one person was treated at Memorial hospital for a minor injury by light from a flashlight, and the power was restored as the birth of a baby was imminent.

All lines had been back in service by 2 a.m. Sunday, according to John L. Gordon, of the Central Illinois Electrical and Gas Co. Power was also disrupted at Atlanta and Benson. Telephone lines were also down by the storm.

Hail preceded the storm in many parts of Central Illinois, and was reported locally in Chester township, where some crop damage resulted.

Short on Rain
Weekend rain in the city beat the 2.50 inches mark, according to John Zuckhammer, weather observer. Most of it fell in the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. Sunday. Ponds were noted in many farm fields Sunday and branches were blown off trees and some trees downed over the county.

Despite the weekend downpour, May ended in a moisture deficit here. The total was only 1.54 inches compared to normal of 4.19 inches. And the year (so far) is also short. Precipitation so far has measured 7.87 inches whereas the standard is 14.69 inches.

May 31 was the month's warmest, the mercury rising to 83 degrees in "muggy" atmosphere. The freezing mark (32 degrees) was registered May 7.

Storm Strikes City

ST. LOUIS (A) — Three persons were reported not seriously injured in a heavy rain and wind storm which lashed the St. Louis area Sunday.

Some 25,000 homes were blacked out when wind and falling limbs cut power lines but the service was restored with little delay.

Some blown down trees crashed into houses and cars.

There were scattered reports of roofs ripped off and plate glass windows broken by the wind.

A small frame house near Collinsville, Ill., was reported knocked down but most property damage was minor.

Dr. Barringer Best Speaker

Weary Red Cross workers assisting in the Mt. Pulaski emergency, and proud parents of Lincoln high school graduates were unable to fulfill program assignments Monday evening for the Lincoln-Logan Toastmaster club.

In their absence, three impromptu speeches were presented by Ed Kolowski, Jim Hillard and Charles Hibbens. Their subjects were "Your Future," "Toastmaster's Ice Breaker," and "The Part You Play in Our Air Defense."

Dr. D. M. Barringer was voted speaker of the evening for "Speech Construction" and Dale Hinman, who spoke on "Little Things," was voted most improved speaker.

Have Discussion

Toastmaster Arthur Begolka introduced Bill McCormick, who presented discussion topics, which were: Which do you prefer, a mildly inflationary or deflationary economy? In view of the recent anti-American sentiment in South America and the Near East, should we cut foreign aid? Since Dick could smile through the recent Caracas outburst, does this qualify him as a presidential candidate in 1960? and Should Kim Novak and Miss Gabor return Trujillo's gifts?

Bill Gossett was general evaluator and Charles Wilson was timer. Frank Mast was grammarian and Alfred Dube gave invocation. Critics were Jesse Johns, Frank Mischhorn, Orville Werth, Emil Stahlhut and Roland Budd.

$237,500 in TV Winnings

NEW YORK (U.S.)—Elfrida von Nardroff Monday night became the all-time high money winner on television quiz shows.

The 32-year-old Brooklyn woman raised her winnings to $237,500 by defeating two contestants on the NBC show Twenty-one.

The $21,000 she picked up Monday night pushed her ahead of Robert Strom of the Bronx, an 11-year-old science whiz, who amassed $224,000 on two different shows.

Miss von Nardroff's victims were Charles Hewitt, an insurance consultant from New Brunswick, N.J., and Emile Libresco, an industrial relations consultant from Pound Ridge, N. Y. She blanked them both 21-0.

He Didn't Know

Hewitt didn't know that Andrew Johnson had been military governor of Tennessee and vice president before he became president. Libresco failed to name poet Edwin Arlington Robinson as the author of "Miniver Cheemey" and failed to identify Prince Rudolph of Hapsburg as the son of Franz Joseph, emperor of Austria-Hungary.

Next week Miss von Nardroff returns to tell whether she'll continue or quit with her $237,500. She recently left her job as a personnel consultant to devote full time to the quiz show business.

HATCHED

ST. LEONARDS-ON-SEA, England — Mrs. Ella Petry reported today a chicken had hatched from an egg she carried in her bosom for 21 days.

Mrs. Petry, 48, said the whole thing started as a gag in the bar of her neighborhood pub. The proprietor's son had a startling egg which he wanted hatched. Mrs. Petry put it down the front of her dress, but two days later it broke.

"Everone said I couldn't hatch out an egg," she said. "So I went out and bought a pullet's egg from a breeder. I carried it night and day in a cotton-lined wire holder next to my skin."

Monday night at the pub, the chick "made its way out of the egg in the presence of a dozen witnesses," Mrs. Petry said.

Will Keep Trying

WASHINGTON — Despite four failures in five attempts, the Navy will continue trying to blast Vanguard satellites into orbit.

This is the blunt answer given at the Pentagon to inquiries as to why the Vanguard project isn't dropped in favor of more satellite launchings with the Army's Jupiter-C rocket combine.

The Defense Department says its reasons for sticking with Vanguards are that they are the best vehicles available — when they work — and that the country requires a greater return on the millions invested in the program.

Stocks Reach Higher Level

NEW YORK — The stock market resumed its drive into higher ground for 1938 in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key stocks rose from fractions to about a point, with some wider moves.

Steels wavered. U. S. Steel fluctuated between slight gains and losses. Other major steelmakers leaned to the upside.

Coppers moved up solidly. Oils were up a little. The meat packing issues added fractions. Some losses appeared among aircrafts and chemicals. Leading rails and utilities were ahead on average but industrial issues were chief gainers.

Wall Street sources noted confidence in financial recovery and large sums seeking investment outlets as factors in the rise.

American Tobacco gained around a point while Lorillard dropped more than that, shaving its loss in later trades.

Wilson and Armour each picked up fractions.

Youngtown Sheet, up about a point, was the best of the major steels.

Allied Chemical rose about a point. American Cyanamid lost a point.

Gulf Oil, International Nickel and Texas Co. rose about a point each.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Erratic Stock Market Trend

NEW YORK (U) — Selected industrial stocks moved forward in an erratic stock market early this afternoon to push the general price level toward another high for the year. Trading was fairly active. Leading rails showed little change.

Key stocks gained narrowly, generally within a point. Small losses and unchanged prices were scattered.

Oils, aircrafts, motors and steels were mostly higher. Rubbers and motion picture stocks also showed plus signs. Chemical, base metals and tobaccos were irregular.

Market background included the report of the House - Senate economic committee which said the nation's economy might not get back on its feet until late 1960. Meanwhile, auto assemblies were estimated at a higher rate.

The news that unemployment had dropped below five million for the first time since January was another bullish factor.

Pickup Reminder

First significant change in the 89-year-old Civil War Soldiers' Monument since the present Logan county courthouse was erected in 1903 was noted by those who attended Memorial Day rites at the courthouse.

The entire monument had been cleaned, with names of the veterans who gave their lives for their country readable for the first time in many years.

Members of the Lincoln Lions club, who obtained permission from the board of supervisors and Sheriff William Keys rehabilitated the monument as part of their club project.

Shines Brightly

Rescued After Going Under Lake in Texas, 'Drowning'

DALLAS, Tex. (U. S. A.) — A Dallas man cheated death Sunday, living to tell how it feels to "drown."

Leroy Reed, 30, was rescued and revived after leg cramps caused him to go under 30 yards off shore in Lake Lavon.

While his wife and relatives watched helplessly from shore, the husky construction worker sank. Unidentified boatmen cruising nearby rescued him, hauled him ashore, and successfully administered artificial respiration.

"I was swimming along fine when all of a sudden my legs began to draw up under me," Reed said.

"I was scared"

"I couldn't straighten them out. I was scared. I had to fight to get my head above water. I sank anyway. I fought my way up again and shouted to my wife."

Reed said a "funny feeling" routed his panic as he sank the second time.

"All of a sudden I began feeling good. I felt good all over. Everything seemed good. I could feel a sort of pressure all over me. And everything seemed to be drifting back away from me. The whole world was moving back — but it felt good."

Remembers Nothing. Ella Mae Reed, 21, his wife, said she watched her mate fight for his way to the surface three times more, then disappear.

Reed said he remembers nothing of these struggles.

He insisted he felt relaxed and was not fighting.

U.S. Navy Practices for Evacuation of Nationals

WITH U.S. 6TH FLEET, OFF Dikili, Turkey (U. S. A.) — Major units of this mighty Mediterranean fleet assembled off the Turkish coast today to train in rescuing Americans from the turbulent countries of the Middle East.

The heavily armed amphibious force of Marines, backed up by sailors and naval aviators, are practicing for duty they might face at any moment.

TO "REAL THING"

If the crisis deepened in Lebanon, only 12 hours steaming to the south, the units could switch from training to the real thing.

The fleet is currently reinforced by 18 ships over the usual 50 and by double the usual complement of 1,800 Marines.

At dawn, transports, warships and landing ships maneuvered around the Greek island off Lesbos for a landing near Dikili.

The amphibious task force was backed up by the cruiser Des Moines, the 6th Fleet's flagship, its sister ship, the Salem and a screen of destroyers to give gunfire support.

Farther out to sea lay the carriers Saratoga and Essex to lend air cover with nearly 200 planes —including jets capable of carrying nuclear bombs.

A third carrier, the Wasp, was part of the reinforcements.

One of the day's problems was to establish a beachhead on two miles of coast and control an area within a 25-mile radius by artillery, planes and gunfire.

After the exercise, the bulk of the fleet leaves for a visit to Greek and Turkish ports — still only about a day's forced sailing from smoldering Lebanon.

Lincoln Speech

'House Divided' Fete Monday in Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — The 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's famous "house divided" speech will be celebrated Monday in Springfield with a re-enactment of the classic address.

The portrayal will take place in the same room where Lincoln delivered his speech—the circuit courtroom of the Sangamon County Court House, which in Lincoln's day was the Illinois House of Representative Hall.

It was there that Lincoln, against the advice of friends, clearly set forth his strong beliefs on slavery and defined the issues which were to split the nation and throw it into Civil War:

"A house divided against itself cannot stand. I believe this government cannot endure half slave and half free. I do not expect the union to be dissolved — I do not expect the house to fall — but I do expect it will cease to be divided. It will become all one thing or all the other."

At Final Session

The occasion was the final session of the Illinois State Republican convention at which Lincoln accepted his party's nomination to oppose Stephen A. Douglas for U. S. senator.

Just before the convention, Lincoln called about a dozen friends to the statehouse library and read them his speech. Early manuscripts reported everyone there condemned the address except Lincoln's law partner, William H. Herndon.

The critics believed it would cost Lincoln votes if he aired his views on the controversial slavery issue.

Prophetically, Herndon told Lincoln: "Deliver that speech as read and it will make you president."

Weighted Sentiment

Lincoln was well aware of the cause. He carefully weighed Herndon's remarks against the criticism of the others, then decided:

"The time has come when these sentiments should be uttered; and if it is decreed that I should go down because of this speech, then let me go down in advocacy of what is just and right."

A few days later, he delivered the immortal speech to a cheering crowd gathered in the stifling-hot assembly room.

Although Lincoln lost the election to Douglas, his speech set the policy of the two-year-old Republican Party. As Herndon had predicted, it was the stepping stone from which Lincoln went to the presidency.

Carefully Prepared

Lincoln gave more careful preparation to this speech than to any earlier effort. For weeks, he jotted down ideas on scraps of paper which he kept in his hat. Later he painstakingly combined these notes into the polished speech.

Explaining the "house divided" passage to a friend, Lincoln said "I want to use some universally known figure expressed in simple language, that it may strike home to the minds of men in order to arouse them to the peril of the times."

The re-enactment will be portrayed by actors from Springfield Theatre Guild and, in addition to the famous speech, will include events leading to Lincoln's nomination.

State Rep. William Horsley of Springfield will take the part of Lincoln.

BLAMES SCIENTISTS — Col. William O. Davis, 38, key man in the U. S. Air Force rocket space planning program, is an officer who resigned his commission with the statement: "The over-conservatism of big scientists who influence decisions at the top level is holding us back." Davis, at Los Angeles, plans to do research. (UPI Telephoto)

Prairie Trails Tales

More Boy Scouts than ever will go to camp this summer. They will camp for the most part by patrols and troops because that is part of the educational procedure of Scouting. The objective is "Every troop a camping troop and every Scout a camper."

The Boy Scouts of America is a pioneer in camping and a leader in camping the world over. Every boy who is a scout should know how to cook, know how to take care of himself and how to carry his own equipment.

A Scout camp has specific activities, programming and trained leadership—all very definitely working together to meet the fundamental objective of the Scouting program, that of character building and citizenship training.

First objective of any Scout camp is to give the boy a happy, joyous experience. Scouts want to and should camp frequently. Considerable skill is required to guide the camp activities in a troop. Leaders should be trained in a camping program including camp site selection, sanitation, cooking, menus, and health and safety.

At Valley Forge
Last year thousands of Scouts and their leaders camped together at the fourth national Jamboree at Valley Forge, and this year they will enjoy short-term camping at their local council camps throughout the nation.

This short-term camping program is rapidly growing in Scouting, because of interest shown by the troop leadership in wanting to give their boys a special opportunity for educational and social adjustment through group living.

Troops going to camp expect a great experience, just a good time will not be enough for them. The programming at the local council camp on Lake Bloomington will more than fill their expectations of fun, adventure, and learning opportunities. The purpose of any camp is to provide experiences for the units that will make them more able to conduct camping programs when they return to their homes. The services available include counseling, coaching, and supervision by trained personnel of all activities. The success of a camp pro-

Compromising On Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON — A compromise $1,675,000,000 foreign aid program is ready for final congressional action.

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said today he will call up the authorization bill for a vote early next week. Passage there, and by the Senate later, would clear the way for action on a separate money bill to finance the spending for which the authorization bill sets terms and ceilings.

The program recommended Wednesday by Senate and House conferees is $266 1/2 million dollars below President Eisenhower's request for military and economic help to friendly nations in the fiscal year starting bill still in House committee.

Drop Amendment

Before finishing work on the authorization measure, the conferees dropped a Senate amendment aimed at halting use of nonmilitary and funds for purchase abroad of Japanese textiles and other commodities in competition with American business.

The bill provides $1,605,000,000 for military assistance planes and other hardware to allies, for which Eisenhower sought $1,800,000,000.

It also carries $10 million dollars of the $35 millions the President asked for defense supports. This is economic aid for allied countries to enable them to support adequate military forces.

Swedish Flavor for Celebration Opening for Three Days in Geneva

GENEVA, Ill. — The land of the krona, the smorgasbord and the birchwood bursts forth today in the land of Lincoln, soybeans and the big shoulders.

The occasion is Geneva's three-day "midsommar" festival, during which thousands of Americans of Swedish descent and Swedish settlers and immigrants will gather in this Fox River Valley settlement to honor their ancestors and relive midsummer in the old country.

Native costumes, birch-hung streets, blue-and-gold flags and Maypole dances will blend a Scandinavian atmosphere for the 10,000 to 15,000 persons expected at the celebration.

From Long Ago

The festival, spurred by the success of the Minnesota Centennial Celebrations, is a revival of Swedish festivities which were staged decades ago in this predominantly Swedish town of 6,000.

"Our hope is to make this an annual celebration," said Mrs. Betty Johnston, co-chairman of the organizing committee. "The 88-year-old father captive within an electric fence.

Sheriff's deputy Charles Thornton said Daniel George Cole, a husky 60-year-old, was taken into custody after police saw him kicking his elderly father. Cole was charged with assault and battery.

The father, skinny Eugene W. Cole, was taken to a hospital where his condition was described as fair.

CANADIAN CHIEF DIES

TORONTO — Antoine Buihot, 72, winner of a gold medal for his sugar pastry and one of Canada's greatest chefs, who retired two years ago after 34 years at the King Edward Hotel, died Wednesday. He was born in Gueugnon, France.

whole thing just seems to grow and grow."

And the fact that Mrs. Johnston is of Irish descent demonstrates the international favor of the celebration in a town where two-thirds of the residents are full or part Sweds.

The first two businessmen to pick up Swedish costumes were of Italian and Polish extraction. The man who arranged birchwood shipments from Wisconsin is of English ancestry, and the organizer of the "Sweden Day" parade is Italian.

Swedes Three Days

"Everybody in Geneva is Swedish for at least three days a year," one merchant explained.

Pre- celebration festivities included a public breakfast of "plattar och sylt" pancakes with lingonberries, a re-enactment of a Swedish country wedding reception and a soccer match between the Vikings and the Red and White.

A speech by Costa Oldenburg, Swedish consul general in Chicago, will close the summer solstice festival Saturday night. He will present official greeting from the home country, after sampling a smorgasbord prepared on behalf of Illinois' 56,128 Swedish-born citizens.

Funerals

John Rule

WAYNESVILLE — The funeral of John Rule, 82, of Bloomington was at 3 p.m. Wednesday at the Metzler Memorial Home, Bloomington, with burial in Pleasant Hill Cemetery, Lexington.

Mr. Rule was born at Mt. Auburn, Dec. 24, 1875, a son of Sam and Sarah Rule. He married Grace Disney in 1914. She died in 1919 and on Sept. 1, 1934 he married Ada Winslow, a former Waynesville resident.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters and two sons, two stepdaughters and a step son.

2nd Setback Handed Ricca

CHICAGO — The U. S. Court of Appeals has landed Paul (The waiter) Ricca his second setback in a week and opened the way for his deportation to Italy. A unanimous three-man decision Wednesday declared invalid the citizenship of the one-time member of the old Al Capone gang.

It upheld a U. S. District Court ruling handed down a year ago by Judge Walter J. LaBuy that Ricca assumed a false identity to enter the United States in 1920.

The 60-year-old Ricca last week was sentenced to nine years in prison and fined $15,000 by U.S. District Judge Julius H. Miner for income tax fraud, jail or deportation.

William Barnett, assistant U.S. district attorney, said the Justice Department will have to decide whether Ricca should be imprisoned or deported.

The Appeals Court reversed a $500 contempt of court fine imposed on Ricca for his refusal under the Fifth Amendment to answer 103 government questions relating to the two homicides in Italy.

The judges said his refusal at a deposition hearing in February 1937 was constitutionally privileged.

May Ask Rehearing

Ricca's attorney, William Scott Stewart, indicated he will seek a rehearing or file an appeal before the U. S. Supreme Court on the citizenship ruling. He already has filed notice of appeal in the tax case.

The government's denaturalization case included evidence that Ricca concealed his true identity as Felice de Lucia who was wanted for two murder convictions in Italy. Ricca entered this country under the name of Paul Maglio and was naturalized in 1928.

Illinois Oil Indus Have 'Birthday

CENTRALIA, Ill. — A bobbing oil well pump on a hill near Centralia takes on special significance Saturday — the 20th anniversary of the state's greatest oil discovery.

It was June 21, 1938 that the E. Tate No. 1 opened the river of oil hidden under rolling country near Lake Centralia.

The well made a dramatic entry. It blew in as the riggers say, spewing oil over a watching crowd and then bursting into flame. The fire, started by a cigarette in the crowd, was extinguished quickly. The well still produces thousands of barrels annually.

Bible School Begins

Personal Letter From Middletown

Dear Friends:

Have you had your share of rain? We certainly have. Most of the farmers in our area are getting anxious to get in the fields.

We drove to Arlington Heights this weekend to visit my brother, William Busch and family. Fields up north are flooded just as ours are. Water had gone across the highway in several places.

Union vacation daily Bible school began Monday at Presbyterian church with an enrollment of over 60. Theme of the school is "Bible Sea Adventures."

Honored at Shower

There was a large crowd at the miscellaneous shower for Miss Donna Litwiler Thursday night at the Legion Home. Decorations were in a delicate pink and green. The gift table was decorated with ruffles of crepe paper with an umbrella as centerpiece. A musical program was presented by several young ladies from New Holland and San Jose. Hostesses were relatives and classmates of Miss Litwiler. Donna received many lovely and useful gifts. Miss Litwiler and Dale Stewart will be married at 6 p.m. June 21 at Middletown Methodist church.

Paul Boward is a surgical patient at St. Clara's hospital. Durrell Knowles is ill with the red measles and Ronnie Armintrout has the mumps. I believe we are going to have mumps and measles through the whole summer, it seems like they die out and then another case pops up.

Earl Talkington of Girard is visiting the Rev. and Mrs. Roy Adams and Debbie this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boice and family of Goodland, Ind., visited his mother, Mrs. Beatrice Boice and other relatives during the weekend.

Reports on Luncheon
Mrs. Arthur Keiser, reporter for the West Side Country club, ing was held. Mrs. Merle Armintrout presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Walter Boyer. She gave a report on the club's trip to the Beach Candy Co. at Bloomington. It was decided to hold the annual picnic in Lincoln Park in Springfield on the last Sunday in July. The meeting was then adjourned and a social hour followed.

The young boys in town are hoping the rains soon come to a halt. Their games in the little league have had to be postponed the past few nights.

Until next week

Rain Delays Flag Removal

In response to several inquiries regarding flags on graves of deceased war veterans, A. J. Berry-hill, chairman of the Lincoln Legion post 263, states that flags are to be removed after Memorial Day in accordance with recommendations of the American Legion, Department of Illinois.

Removal of the flags has not been completed, Berryhill explains, because of continued rains during the past few weeks. Legion post 263 furnishes flags for graves in Union, Holy Cross, St.
Mary's, Zion, Lawndale, Lucas
Chapel cemeteries.

Other posts and the county's department on reconditioned cemeteries supplies and places flags in other cemeteries in Logan county.

Many of the graves, Berryhill adds, are not marked as veterans graves by the emblem, and some of the lower headstones cannot be seen. However, every effort is made to include all veterans graves each Memorial Day.

ing Feature of Market This Week

Standard and utility heifers sold from $20.50 to $24.

Demand narrowed somewhat for cows at the midweek session. Closing prices on canners and cutters, as well as beef cows, were weak to 50 cents lower. Bulls were active and steady to strong. The top was unchanged at $25. Vealers were steady from $31. and down.

May Record Set
During May the nine Corn Belt States set a new record for buying stocker and feeder cattle. Midwest cattlemen bought 277,348 cattle last month and the trade has noted a leveling off in price.

Continued good demand for dressed pork more than outweighed the available supply. As a result, hog prices showed gains of $1. or more.

Well muscled, meaty hogs topped at $25. late in the week for a new four year peak. Most meaty offerings sold from $24.25 and up. Average light-weight hogs sold from $23.75 to $24.25. Order buyer demand for top offerings remained strong and supplies acutely scarce. A spread of $1.50 exists between these kinds and over-fat hogs of the same weight.

Butchers up to 260 pounds cashed from $23.25 to $23.75 and sold

Caesarean Operation Fails To Save Life of Zoo Cub

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP)—A lioness, Delilah, appeared to be recovering satisfactorily Friday after a Caesarean operation which saved her life but not that of the cub delivered.

The operation, rare in the annals of lion captivity, was performed Thursday by Charles McCannon, a private veterinarian, and Grover Kathhoefer, superintendent at Miller Park Zoo where Delilah is caged.

They decided upon the operation after prolonged labor brought the five-year-old lioness to a critical condition and her death appeared imminent.

The operation was performed under total anesthetic administered orally. A single female full term cub was delivered.

Only Duke, Delilah's 27-year-old mate, seems to be upset about her condition. He has been pacing in a separate cage complaining.

$20.50 to $21.25. Most kinds weighing 400 pounds sold from $19.75 to $20.25. Medium weight offerings sold from $18.75 to $19.75. Heavyweight sows met with some buyer pressure but closed from $17.50 to $18.50.

Moderate receipts of sheep and lambs, including a good supply of choice and prime new crop offerings met with a brisk demand at Chicago. The top on prime offerings moved up to $26. The bulk of this class sold from $24 to $25.50. Old crop lambs and yearlings sold steady to strong. On deck of fancy No. 1 skins sold at $22.25 with the bulk of this class from $19.50 to $22. Slaughter ewes were under pressure after the midweek session at 50 cents lower rates. Most sales were completed from $5 to $7.50 with an outside top of $8. at the close.

Double Funeral Wednesday for Latham People

Double funeral services for Mrs. Victoria Pauline Johnston, 68, and her son, Robert Kenneth Johnston, 43, of Latham, will be Wednesday at 3 p.m. from Brintlinger Funeral Home, Decatur.

Jury Says "Suicide"

A Macon county coroner's jury ruled the death as a suicide. The body was found in an upstairs bedroom of the farm home. A yardstick had apparently been used to discharge the shotgun, which inflicted chest injuries.

The gun was similar to one taken from Johnston last Thursday by Macon county sheriff's officials when he threatened to kill himself and the law enforcement officials. His parents were both

In another accident, the rescue was successful, but the rescuer died.

Near Fostoria, a father turned from his fishing to see his 3-year-old son waddling on railroad tracks in the path of an oncoming train.

He raced to the rescue. When only six feet from his son, the train struck and killed the boy, knocking the body into the father's outstretched arms.

Falls to Death

At Cincinnati, a 4-year-old boy saw his 3-year-old brother leaning out of a second-story window.

Near Kelley's Island in Lake Erie, a Vermillion couple was aboard a 30-foot cabin cruiser when tragedy struck. The husband went below deck momentarily, leaving his wife sitting at the rear of the boat.
