Kills Father With Hatchet

STREATOR, Ill. (U) — Police said Stephen Dzurisin fatally wounded his father with a hatchet Sunday night, drove into the country and cut his own throat, then surrendered at a police station.

Craig Armstrong, La Salle County assistant state's attorney, said Dzurisin, about 40, was charged with the hatchet slaying of Andrew Dzurisin, 73.

Police Sgt. John Thew said the younger Dzurisin entered the po- station, pointed to a gas on his neck and said he had been in a fight.

Lived in Basement
Later, Thew said, Dzurisin admitted he struck his father repeatedly with a hatchet because the elder Dzurisin had thrown him out of the house several years before. The elder Dzurisin was a widower who lived in a basement apartment alone.

Dzurisin was taken to St. Mary's Hospital where he was held under police guard.

Dzurisin took a hatchet and a butcher knife from his house trailer in Kangley, about three miles northwest of Streator, where he had lived as a bachelor, Thew said.

He drove to his father's apart- ment, entered the bedroom and struck three or four times with the hatchet at the sleeping man.

The elder Dzurisin awoke and attempted to defend himself, but collapsed. His son fled, Thew said, and drove to a deserted spot north of Streator.

Drives to Police

There, he slashed at his neck with the butcher knife and sat in the auto for about a half hour. Then he drove to the police station.

Thew quoted Dzurisin as say- ing, "I just couldn't die."

The elder Dzurisin died en route to a hospital.

"Dzurisin told me he was fully aware at all times of what he did," Thew said.

Stephen is one of 13 Dzurisin sons and daughters living in the Streator area.

Near Last Lap Of Love Race

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (U) — An American airman and his Faroese Island sweetheart arrived here today en route to Iceland where they hope to wed.

Besppectacled Walter Baldwin, 28, of Cleveland, Ohio, told reporters he and Kirsten Anthoniussen, 20, plan to board the first plane for Iceland, where he is due back at the U.S. Keflavik Air Force Base by Friday.

The next plane for Reykjavik leaves Tuesday.

Baldwin's tour of duty expires April 2.

He could only hope that Ice- landic authorities would have to wink at complicated marriage laws under which Kirsten should have set foot on Iceland's soil before the end of February.

Approval Required

He also must get the approval of his commanding officer. Bald- win neglected to give him the re- quired month's notice of intent to wed.

The romance began nine months ago in Iceland, where Walter is stationed and Kirsten worked as a nurse.

Two Trapped Lads Rescued

VANCOUVER, Wash. (U) — Two high school youths — scared, chilled, but uninjured — were hoisted to safety Sunday night from a precarious perch midway up a sheer, 325-foot cliff.

Wearing light cotton shirts and no jackets, they had been trapped six hours by crumbling rock. Icy winds whipped down the Lewis River Canyon as they clung desperately to the cliff.

Seven men from the Mountain Safety & Rescue Council of Oregon came from Portland, Ore., 50 miles southwest of the area, to rescue them.

Clark County sheriff's deputies identified the two as Charles Haas, 17, and Darrell Jones, 18, both of Vancouver.

After the rescue the boys warm- ed themselves at a bonfire and drove home in their own car.

They said they started to climb the cliff, man-made during the construction of Pacific Power & Light Co's Yale power house and dam.

"We got about as far as half way, maybe," said Haas. "Then the rocks started breaking up."

Fix Cable, Operations Now Normal

NEW YORK (U) — The trans- atlantic telephone system of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. was back in normal operation today, after the repair of a cable break that caused an intercon- tinental incident.

The company announced com- pletion of the repair Sunday.

The cable system links the tele- phone networks of the United States and Canada with those of Britain and eight European coun- tries.

The cable was broken Feb. 21. A boarding party from the United States Navy radar picket ship Roy O. Hale searched the Soviet trawler Novorossisk for 70 min- utes Thursday in an effort to find if the ship had cut the cable. Finds No Evidence

Lt. Donald Sheely said he found no firm evidence of any intention to cut the cable, and believed the most probable explanation is that the trawler cut it accidentally.

The Soviet Union called the boarding "premeditated provoca- tion."

The break was 1,000 feet under the Atlantic, about 190 miles east of Newfoundland.

Cable ships in the area of four Western Union cables broken last week were hampered by rough weather, but were ex- pected to complete their work today.

Hodge Banker Due in Court

CHICAGO (U) — Orville Hodge's banker, out of prison just two days, today goes to court again.

Edward A. Hintz, released Sat- ursday from Stateville peniten- tiary will appear before Federal District Judge Julius H. Miner to answer a charge of contempt of Congress.

Hintz, 70, once president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co., Chicago, is charged with refusing to testify before the Senate Bank- ing and Currency Committee on Oct. 9, 1936.

He claimed he balked only be- cause of the presence of newsreel and television cameras in the hearing room.

For Check Cashing

Hintz was sent to prison for the part he played in cashing phony state checks for Hodge, then state auditor. Hintz served 2 1/2 years of a three year term.

Upon his release, Hintz carried $25 in his pockets, the usual amount supplied by the state to prisoners who are released.

He was met at the prison gate in Joliet by his attorney, John M. Leonard Jr. Upon his return to Chicago Hintz and his wife, 69, went into seclusion.

"I hope all this publicity is over," Hintz said.

TEMPERS AS HOT AS FIRE IN E. PEORIA

EAST PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—The machine shed burned. The owner stewed. And the firemen watched.

That's what happened on the Lloyd Muller farm on the edge of East Peoria. Some of the ground here still are smoldering about it.

The trouble started Monday night when a fire broke out in the miller shed, which housed two tractors, 40 hogs, machinery, feed and seed.

Up chugged the East Peoria fire department under Capt. Keith Johnson. The firefighters stopped short of the blaze. The fire said Johnson, was outside city limits and Muller was not a subscriber to rural fire service.

So while Muller and his neighbors formed a bucket brigade, East Peoria firemen looked on. Tempers grew hot as the fire.

A short time later firemen from nearby Morton arrived. They joined Muller and his neighbors in battling the blaze. To their sides stepped — sure enough — the East Peoria firemen, operating they said under a mutual assistance pact between the two communities.

Muller would have none of it and ordered them off the land. LOSS SET AT $5,000

From a hydrant across the road, they still poured water on the blazing shed. But the shed and its contents were destroyed at a loss estimated by Muller at $5,000.

"It was mighty small of them not to fight it," said Muller of the East Peoria firemen. "I told them I'd pay them, and I would have."

Johnson said that fighting fires outside their jurisdictional land leaves paid subscribers unprotected.

Vandal Blamed for Chicago Blast

CHICAGO (AP)—Fire and gas officials blame a vandal who took copper tubing from a gas main for an explosion which tore through a three-story apartment building, injuring eight persons.

Three persons were reported to be in critical condition with burns. Fifty other residents of the South Side building were forced to flee into the street.

The explosion Tuesday ripped out windows and buckled a 10-foot section of sidewalk near the front stairs.

A spokesman for the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Co. said gas leaking into the basement apparently caused the blast.

Leaks Out Of Mains

The official said the gas apparently leaked from mains leading into a building next door which was being torn down. Copper tubing carried the gas from street mains into the condemned building.

Someone apparently pulled out the tubing in the basement of the wrecked building, opening stop-valves and causing gas to leak through the ground into the apartment building, the official said.

Grant Chaney, chief of the 10th fire division, issued the gas company's explanation.

Benefits May Be Continued

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast House passage appeared assured today for a bill to continue temporary federal unemployment benefits for some 300,000 jobless workers who would otherwise lose them April 1.

Although falling short of Democratic proposals, the three-months "tapering-off" measure had bipartisan support as about the best that could be passed before the present jobless pay law dies March 31.

Limits on Debate

To beat the expiration deadline, leaders sent the bill to the floor under procedure limiting debate to 40 minutes and requiring a two-thirds vote for passage. Its passage today would give the Senate two weeks to complete action.

The bill was opposed as inadequate by some northern Democrats from industrial areas still experiencing substantial unemployment. They called for a one-year extension of the existing program.

House Republicans, who have opposed anything but a sharply limited extension of the program, pronounced the bill acceptable to President Eisenhower.

What the bill does, in essence, is to postpone to July 1 the present April 1 cut-off date.

Try Woman For Murder

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — The long, hard-fought murder case of Elizabeth Duncan goes to the jury today.

The jury of eight women and four men will start deliberating Mrs. Duncan's fate after hearing Superior Court Judge Charles F. Blackstock's instructions.

They will determine whether Mrs. Duncan, 54, hired two men to kill her son Frank's pregnant bride, Olga, as the prosecution charges.

Jealousy Motive?

During the four-week trial the state produced a mass of evidence intended to prove that Mrs. Duncan was so jealous of her son that she arranged to eliminate her daughter-in-law.

The defense contended that two minor criminals, Augustine Baldonado, 26, and Luis Moya, 20, kidnaped Olga in a ransom plot last Nov. 17 and then killed her.

Baldonado and Moya confessed strangling the 30-year-old Canadian nurse and said Mrs. Duncan had promised them $5,000 for

The plane, a Convair 240, and its cargo, valued at $400,000 were written off as a total loss.

W. H. Whitacre, director of the airlines' midwest operations, said witnesses, including Larsen and Kinne, will be called to testify.

The report of the inquiry will be forwarded to the Civil Aeronautics Board.

No Cause Fixed
Neither investigators for the air line nor the CAB could assign any immediate cause for the crash.

An airline spokesman said the plane appeared on a normal landing approach when it sheared the tower.

Larsen told police he was being guided to a landing by radioed instructions from the control tower. Torrential rain blocked his vision, he said.

Last of Old Train Theives Dies in West

DENVER, Colo. (U) — Bill LaTrasse, 77, last of the old-time train robbers, is dead.

Released from the Kansas Penitentiary last Dec. 30, LaTrasse came to Denver to live with a sister, Mrs. Edna Shelton. Ten days ago he entered a hospital. A kidney ailment took his life.

LaTrasse made his reputation on Christmas night, 1910, when he held up a Missouri Pacific train between Kansas City and Leavenworth, Kan. He pushed a frightened porter ahead of him through the cars and robbed the passengers of $2,000.

Made His Escape
Captured and sent to the Kansas prison, he escaped in 1915. Then followed a Chicago robbery, a battlefield wound in World War I, another arrest and the completion of his prison term.

LaTrasse made an effort to go straight and opened a shoe repair business in Kansas City. But the experiment ended with a holdup of a gambling game and he went to the Missouri prison. Released, he went back to the Kansas prison after two men were shot in a holdup of a dice game at Parsons, Kan., in 1942. This time it was for life.

Hodge Reform Cost High, State Assembly Finding

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (U) — Hodge reform, the program written in 1957 to safeguard the Illinois taxpayer's money, has demonstrated during its infancy how costly a watchdog system can be.

It cost more than $270,000 in the last two years, and could run into the millions with the cost pegged on the expense of running a complex system of checks and balances.

In Wake of Scandal
The system was created by the Legislature in the wake of the Orville Hodge scandal of 1956. To plug loopholes, lawmakers created two new code department's and one new legislative agency. The impact of these operations is being felt initially in this session.

To handle post-audits of state spending, the General Assembly established the Department of Audits and voted its director, Auditor General Frank Whitney, a $15,000 annual salary. Whitney was appointed to the post for a six-year term.

To audit the auditor general, lawmakers created a Legislative Audit Commission and appropriated $117,000 for the first two years of its operation. In its budget request for the next two years, the commission is seeking $131,100.

Takes Over Jobs
The Department of Financial Institutions was established to take over most of the jobs previously handled by the state audi-

the State Insurance Department received $130,000 two years ago.

Officials of the new department contend the increase is necessary, chiefly to hire additional supervisory personnel. For instance, at the time the auditor transferred his responsibilities for supervising state funds, he employed 59 examiners.

The Financial Institutions Department has asked to hire 27 more beginning in July and requested more travel money to permit them to make more frequent examinations throughout the state.

APPROVED FOR MILITARY

Club Here Visited By Kiwanis Leader

Armin E. Fricke, Kiwanis lieutenant governor, made his official visit to the Lincoln club Tuesday at its luncheon at Hotel Lincoln. He took occasion to give a broad outline of Kiwanis activities in general.

Ken Zimmerman, president of the Lions club, was a guest and outlined activities of the district Lions convention which will be here Sunday. It was announced the Circle K club at Lincoln college is presenting the Lincoln Kiwanians a new banner.

The service club in 1959 is seeking to "build individual responsibility" on the part of its members, Fricke said. He mentioned the many projects under the heading of boys and girls work, including the development of leaders and interest in government. This district has a good record in the spastic paralysis field, it was reported.

Public affairs, civil defense, agriculture and related conservation and support of churches are other leading Kiwanis activities. The club official said the average Kiwanis age is 48½ years and that international is shooting for 175 new clubs in 1959.

Opposes Hearing Asked by Young

State's Attorney Darrell E. Klink moved quickly Friday to "strike" a petition for a post-conviction hearing filed in Livingston County by Charlie Wesley Young, 26, now serving a prison sentence in Joliet State Prison for participating in the shooting of state troopers.

He and accomplices were indicted in Logan County Nov. 27, 1936 but received a change of venue to Livingston County. They were convicted, in Pontiac.

Although the change of venue, requested in the petition asks that neither Logan County Judge Frank S. Bevan nor Judge Hubert Edwards, Livingston County, be allowed to preside over any post-conviction hearing Klink will remain the prosecuting attorney if a new trial is ever granted.

Klink refutes Young's contentions in his motion to strike on two counts in particular, saying—"Young fails to establish that his constitutional rights were in any violated, and fails to furnish any facts not already brought to the court's attention during trial proceedings."

Case Continued In Court Here

Two Lincoln men charged with contributing to the delinquency of a 16 year old minor girl appeared in Logan County Court Friday and heard their cases continued.

John Campbell, 20, who also faces a five-count charge of burglary and arson in Circuit Court March 30, pleaded not guilty and will receive a jury trial in County Court. No date has been set. In lieu of bond Campbell was remanded to jail.

The second man, Paul Anderson, also 20, pleaded guilty to the delinquency charge but was allowed a delay of sentence until March 26 to give him time to file a petition for probation with the County Court. His case will be referred to the County Probation Officer, Mrs. Mary Andrews.

Welfare Check Delay Causes Hardship Cases

CHICAGO (U) — The Illinois Public Aid Commission today worked on emergency measures to meet hardship cases created by a statewide delay in mailing welfare checks.

An IPAC spokesman said county and township relief officials will be asked to provide money from general assistance (poor relief) funds to tide over recipients of old age assistance, aid to dependent children and blind and disability pensions.

Checks have been delayed up to two weeks because of installation in the Springfield IPAC office of electronic data processing equipment to handle record keeping, Peter W. Cahill, IPAC executive secretary, said.

"Checks will continue to be late for at least a week, he said, while the new system becomes fully operative.

About 235,000 persons in the state participate in the four public aid programs affected by the delay in payments. Not all are hit by the delays in checks, however, IPAC checks are distributed over 20 mailing dates during the month, a spokesman explained.

Record keeping bottlenecks are expected to be cleared before end-of-the-month check mailing dates arrive, he added.

Kefauver Won't Seek New Hampshire Vote

CONCORD, N.H. (U) — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who swept the Democratic presidential primaries in New Hampshire in 1952 and 1956, has decided not to make a third try here in 1960.

Democratic National Committee man Bernard L. Boutin, who was chairman of Kefauver's 1956 New Hampshire campaign, promptly came out for Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.).

In a letter replying to an Associated Press question if he would enter this state's "early bird" presidential primary, Kefauver said: "My only plan for 1960 is to run for re-election to the Senate."

Traffic Signs Repair Pledged

The potentially dangerous traffic condition that exists at Kickapoo and Broadway streets because of faulty electrical traffic signs is going to be corrected, Police Chief Earl Minder said today.

The "no left turn" signs have not worked correctly since the traffic signals were installed, he said, because they are not weather proof and are affected by moisture.

The one on the northwest corner, which should inform traffic coming north on Kickapoo that there is no left turn allowed, has not worked at all for several weeks.

Minder said the signs will be replaced with weather-proof signs as soon as such signs can be obtained.

Meanwhile drivers are advised to be particularly careful at the intersection because drivers unfamiliar with the "no left turn" provision there might turn left into oncoming traffic because of the absence of proper signs.

In the last few weeks there has been only one arrest for an "improper left turn" at the corner.

Farm Census Takers Will Start Rounds in Townships April 1st

April 1 Illinois assessors and their deputies will begin the 22nd annual farm census in their respective townships. The census is taken by the assessors in rural townships — over 1600 of them, when they visit each farm to assess personal property. The census will cover land use and livestock numbers. Under the law farmers are required to answer questions asked by the assessors but the information given is confidential and may not be used for tax purposes.

Farm operators can save time for themselves and their assessors if they will have their crop and livestock figures in mind when the latter call on them. Each operator will be asked to report for his present farm the 1958 acreages of corn, small grains, soybeans, grass and legume silage, principal kinds of hay, legume and grass seeds, truck and other crops, plowland and other pasture, and all other land. Fruit questions cover only current numbers of apple and peach trees.

Quizzed About Stock

The livestock questions will include current inventories of milk cows and layers, numbers of grain fed and other cattle marketed in 1958, and spring and fall sows. As soon as the statistics are gathered they will be turned over to the county clerks and forwarded to the Division of Agricultural Statistics, Illinois State Department of Agriculture, where the figures will be summarized into township, county, and State totals.

The assessors' annual farm census supplies much needed measures of the constant changes taking place in agriculture, Illinois' basic industry. With its 21 years of record, the assessors' census provides a factual foundation for agriculture planning at all levels, township, county, and State. When the farm census data have been added up next fall, the sums of the acreages of the various crops harvested, together with pasture and other land use, and livestock numbers will give a good picture of Illinois agriculture from township details to State figures.

One thing is certain, the pictures will be different from those of other years because of the annual shifts in crops and fluctuations in the livestock population. Whether the trend in crop acreages or livestock numbers is up or down, the assessors' farm census will measure it.

Farm Numbers Drop

Total farm land in Illinois is only 3 per cent below the peak of the last two decades but the number of farms reported by the assessors has declined from 213,000 to 168,000 in this period, due largely to the increase in average farm size from 147 acres in 1938 to a record of 182 acres last year. When the assessors made their first farm census in 1938, they enumerated 1.4 million acres of soybeans and last year they counted 4.8 million acres or more than three times as much. The farm census has measured the fluctuations in wheat acreage, ranging from a million to 2½ million acres and in corn from 7.6 million to 9.2 million.

Interest in the farm census lies not only in how many acres of the principal crops have been harvested and what the livestock population is, but also in their relative geographic distribution. According to last year's census, nearly three-fourths of the wheat is grown in the southern half of the State and about 90 per cent of the oats are grown in the northern half. Roughly one-fifth of the State's spring sows farrow in five northwestern Illinois counties. Five southern counties account for more than half of the thirds of the apple trees were reported in six southern and southwestern counties.

Round Table Meets At Lincoln College

The Springfield chapter of The Civil War Round Table, composed of Civil War students and hobbyists, met Friday night at guests of Lincoln College at the college dining hall. President and Mrs. Raymond Dooley were hosts at a buffet supper which was followed by a program of recorded Civil War music and a talk on Ship Island, staging area for the invasion of New Orleans during both the War of 1812 and the Civil War.

Thirty members of the Springfield field group heard Dr. Dooley sketch the 300-year history of the island located just off the Gulf Coast near Biloxi, Miss. which has been used as a military and navy base by France, Spain, England, and both the Union and the Confederacy. The speaker depicted the present neglect of the historic fort on the island and urged the group to use their influence to promote the proper preservation of what he characterized as "one of the fine examples of 19th century military construction."

After the program, the group toured the Lincoln Room and the Museum of the Presidents at the college.

Khrushchev Series Will Begin Monday in Courier

East and West are slowly moving toward a summit meeting. There the West will match wits with a 5 foot 5 ex-coal miner named Nikita Khrushchev.

What are the things that made him what he is today? How did he rise out of a morass of Red intrigue to become a leader of a third of the world's people? What are his strengths and weaknesses?

These are some of the questions William L. Ryan deals with in a perceptive series of articles beginning in the Courier Monday.

"Khrushchev: Key to the Kremlin" brings into focus communism's aims of world domination and the methods its leaders use to advance their cause at all costs.

You'll find it an absorbing story of the way Khrushchev works, of the stark pressures that underlie the West's grasp for peace—and of the things that can change Russia.

Lower Ocean Probe Starts In Fortnight

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A weird-looking "water balloon" will begin a series of dives in about two weeks that eventually may take it into ocean depths man has never seen before.

The bathyscaphe Trieste, recently purchased by the Navy for $200,000 from designer Auguste Piccard, already has descended nearly 10,000 feet in the Mediterranean.

With changes now being made, it will be capable of diving into the Pacific's deepest trenches — almost seven miles below the surface.

The Trieste took two short dives off San Diego in December.

Observers said the bathyscaphe experiment is the Navy's first big move in developing deep-water submarines. Today's sub cannot operate much below 750 feet, yet 90 per cent of the ocean lies beyond that level.

To Be Consultant

On April 4 Piccard's son Jacques will arrive at the Navy Electronics Laboratory here to act as consultant in the Trieste's new adventures.

By April 10 the Trieste is expected to be ready for launching again and three days later is scheduled to begin a two-month program of dives that will take again and three days later is deep as nearby coastal waters go.

Late this summer a mother ship will carry the Trieste to Hawaii for dives that will equal or better her old record of 12,000 feet.

The bathyscaphe is designed to carry two men, in a six-foot sphere suspended below a 50-foot-long tank which bears a stubby resemblance to a conventional submarine.

The steel tank, filled with gasoline, acts as a balloon to carry the sphere up and down. The tank walls are only one fifth of an inch thick — just strong

Kansas Has Over-Supply Of "Mothers Of the Year"

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A mail mix-up caused 39 women to think they had been designated "Kansas Mother of the Year," but the selection committee today will end the confusion by naming a bonafide state "mother."

Mrs. John Selfridge of Wichita, Kansas chairman, is stuck with the job despite the distraction resulting from the mistake. She will preside at the committee meeting here.

Car Into Ditch Near Salt Creek

No one was hurt Sunday afternoon on route 66 near Salt Creek bridge even though the car of Ray F. Marten, 26, Springfield, reportedly was crushed all the south bound lane, plunged across the northbound lane and into a ditch and then went 125 in the ditch before stopping against a railroad embankment.

Harold M. Dunham, 19, Lincoln, was cited by state police for making an improper turn. They said he swerved his car as Marten attempted to pass him, forcing Marten off the road.

FINED $50 HERE

William H. Slayton, 17, 113 Willard ave., was fined $50 plus $9 costs Saturday by Justice Dan Attebery on a charge of illegal possession of liquor. He was arrested by city police on the charge.

CHARGED WITH SPEEDING

James E. Michels, 16, 329 Ninth st., was cited by city police Sunday on a speeding charge. He is to appear on the charge Tuesday.

The confusion originated in New York, where volunteer workers mailed the wrong batch of letters form national headquarters of the American Mothers Committee.

Invites to Convention

Mrs. Aileen Fogarty, national director of the organization which selects the national Mother of the Year from state winners, said there were two batches of form letters to be mailed. One, addressed to "Dear Member" was an invitation to the national convention in New York May 4-9. The other, addressed to "Dear State Mother," was to be sent after 39 states chose their winners.

The volunteers inadvertently mixed the letters in mailing invitations to Kansas members.

The mistake became known Sunday after two Kansas women disclosed they had received the "state mother" letter.

Mrs. Nellie Krueger of Washington, Kan., thought her letter was genuine. Her town took steps to honor her.

Comes Another

While the embarrassed committee was trying to explain to Mrs. Krueger that the choice hadn't been made, Mrs. Fred Gould of Arkansas City displayed her "state mother" letter.

Mrs. Krueger's name was submitted to the committee as a nominee in an effort to ease her disappointment.

Mrs. Selfridge said Mrs. Gould declined a nomination.

She said Mrs. Gould told her "lots of lovely things have happened to her in her life and she doesn't feel a bit about the mistake."

APRIL FOOL

Jokes—practical and otherwise—will be played by both children and their elders Wednesday.

Beginning of the fourth month brings April Fools' Day or All Fools' Day. Assuming the jokes follow the traditional patterns, they will be absurd and harmless. This has been going on since before the 1600s and the butt of a joke, now as then, is dubbed an "April Fool."

Aside from fun, April Fool's Day has no other significance, according to Courier research. Wednesday's forecast calls for showers and by tradition, showers in April bring flowers in May.

Open Cancer Crusade 1st

At least two million volunteers across the nation will participate in the American Cancer Society's annual Crusade, to be launched Wednesday, April 1. Mrs. Robert Keck, county campaign chairman, announced Tuesday. Volunteer workers throughout the country will bring the Crusade's new slogan, "Guard your family—Fight cancer with a checkup and a check."

Every home, together with a life-saving message designed to protect families against the disease. Many types of cancer can now be detected in the early stages and it is then that the disease is most curable. There are 800,000 living Americans who have been cured of cancer, spectacular proof that the disease is no longer fatal if diagnosed and treated in time. Health checkups save lives by detecting cancerous or pre-cancerous conditions early.

The 1959 ACS Crusade, in the 49 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii, will provide funds for the Society's nationwide program of research. At least 1,000 top-flight scientists, supported by ACS funds, are engaged in the research effort to find the cause, and ultimately the control, of cancer.

In addition to the vast research effort, the Society is continuing its national program of professional and public education to save more lives. In the last decade it has seen the ratio of lives saved from cancer rise from one in four to one in three. It believes that with present knowledge and improved methods of treatment, the figure can be transformed to one out of two.
