

Comb Area Where Girl of Five Years Slain, Buried

WHEELING, Ill. (AP) — A stunned neighborhood watched today as sheriff's deputies combed, inch by inch, the scene of the latest unsolved child murder — the seventh for the Chicago area in the last five years.

Little Betsy Benham, a 5-year-old moppet who liked to play "bride," was strangled, and apparently assaulted sexually sometime Friday night. The next morning, a search party found her partially nude body in a shallow grave in this suburb north of Chicago.

Staying On Job

Cook County Sheriff Frank D. Sain fanned his deputies out in a two-mile radius from the murder scene and they were kept at it today.

Persons with a known record of sexual crime were rounded up for questioning.

Although Sain theorized the killer was a man familiar with the neighborhood, the sheriff conceded that leads were skimpy.

Police held for questioning an 18-year-old former mental patient picked up Sunday night in a forest preserve by rangers who said he was acting suspiciously. The preserve is several miles from the murder scene.

The youth told sheriff's police he was a mental patient for 31 days last year after he suffered a nervous breakdown and attempted suicide. He denied any knowledge of the slaying.

Within two blocks from the grave, two bloodstained shirts were found Sunday.

They were sent to Chicago Police Crime Laboratory for analysis. Another test was being run to confirm whether the child had been sexually attacked.

For More Freedom

In the shock and grief of these harrowing hours, Betsy's parents told an ironic story: They had moved from an apartment in another suburb several months ago to give the children—there are four others—greater freedom to play.

"We wanted the children to have plenty of room to play and to be able to have pets," said Dallas Benham, 29, a motorcycle repairman.

"They couldn't play too much outside of our old apartment and we weren't allowed to keep pets."

The other members of the family are three children, 20,

Death Rides On Highways Over Sunday

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — A New Jersey couple and their 12-year-old daughter were killed Sunday when a semi-trailer truck rammed into the rear of their car on U.S. 52.

Killed when the heavy truck crushed them beneath the car dashboard were Edward J. Lucibello, 51, his wife, Katherine, about 50, and their daughter, Kathy.

State police said the Lucibellos, en route to their Glen Rock, N.J., home after a West Coast vacation, apparently had stopped, or were moving slowly, possibly to read road signs, when the collision occurred.

Tech truck driver, Merle Schwartz, 40, of Liberty, Ill., was uninjured. He was not held.

BOY OF 16 KILLED

State police said their car collided with another driven by Sydney Hensley, 20, of Streator. Hensley was ticketed on a charge of failing to halt at a stop sign.

Mrs. McGhiey was hospitalized in serious condition, her husband with less serious injuries.

To 'See' Subs

LONDON (AP) — Britain soon will begin mass production of a new electronic underwater weaponable to "see" submarines dozens of miles away, British naval authorities reported today.

Allied defense experts regard the device as a big step toward meeting the threat of the Soviet Union's long-range submarines.

The device, known as Variable Depth Sonar (VDS), was developed by Canada in association with Britain and the United States.

An admiralty spokesman said the gear and its performance still are secret.

Gains, Losses Mark Stocks

NEW YORK (AP) — Gains and losses battled to a standoff on a trendless, listless stock market early this afternoon.

Trading continued at a moderate pace as the tape showed gains were held to fractions for the most part while some losses were widened. These were scattered throughout the list, emphasizing the specialized, selective tone of the market.

Group action was mostly diverse, although -motors moved lower in a body, along with oils and most chemicals. Some strength in utilities was attributed to investor interest in defensive, or income type, issues.

Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was off 1.58 at 612.10 at noon. The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was down 0.30 at 213.80 with industrials down 1.00, rails down 0.20 and utilities up 0.20.

James C. Shores Of Atlanta Dies

ATLANTA — James C. Shores, 52, Atlanta first automobile dealer and a former professional baseball player, died at 6:50 p.m. Tuesday at Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital in Lincoln. He had been a patient one month. He was Atlanta's oldest resident and was the last of his family.

The body is at Quilam Funeral Home. Arrangements for private services are incomplete.

He was born Sept. 18, 1907, in Atlanta, a son of James and Louisa Ewing Shores. He married Josephine E. Hoff April 3, 1890, at Atlanta.

His wife survives.

Mr. Shores pitched for Bloomington in the Three-Eye League two years, for Albuquerque, N. M., one year, and for Denver, Colo., of the Western Association League for two years.

He retired from professional baseball in 1890, operated dry goods and grocery businesses, and became Atlanta's first automobile dealer.

He repeatedly turned down many professional baseball offers after retiring. The late Oscar (Doc) Mountjoy of Atlanta once said Mr. Shores was able, when 40 years old, to throw silver dollars at a barn and make them stick in the wood.

"First he would throw just one, but then he'd make it two and make them both stick at the same time," according to Mr. Mountjoy.

Price Spreads Narrow for Swine, Cattle at Chicago Stock Yards

CHICAGO -- Narrow price spreads in both cattle and hogs continued at the Chicago Stock Yards this week. Receipts were increased, however, the wholesale meat trade held its own and the general action and undertone of the cattle and hog market improved.

The largest cattle supply in a month, 44,000 head, were on sale. The trade was active but prices were 25 to 75 cents lower. Weights from 1250 lbs. and up realized the sharpest decline.

Prime steers topped at $28.50 early in the week, but dropped to $27.50 at the mid-week session. Most high choice and prime steers cashed from $27.50 to $27.75.

Some steers in the high choice grade with a prime and carrying weights from 1400 up to 1550 lbs. sold in a range of $24.50 to $25.75. Average choice steers sold at a rather narrow range of $24.75 to $25.50. There were some yearling weight average to high choice steers in the $25.50 to $26.

a range of $16.25 to $17. The sow market was stronger. Most of the real smooth light sows sold from $16.50 to $17. The bulk of lightweights from $15.50 to $16.50; medium weight sows sold from $14.50 to $15.50 and heavy kinds from $13.50 to $14.50. There was a good shipping demand and an early clearance.

Receipts Moderate

Moderate receipts of sheep and lambs were received in Chicago this week. The bulk of the run was native spring lambs. The trade was fairly active on these kinds up until Thursday when losses of 50 cents to $1. were registered. Prime native springers topped the market early in the week at $22., but declined to $20. on Thursday. The bulk of choice and prime closed from $19 to $20. Most good and choice offerings closed from $17. to $18.50. There were some shorn yearlings carrying mostly No. 1 skins in trade from $15 to $15.75. Slaughter ewes declined about $1.

Sheridan Girl Hurt in Crash

Elizabeth Sheridan, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sheridan of route 2, Lincoln, was treated at Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital for a laceration on her forehead. Elizabeth was injured in an auto accident on Primus road Sunday.

Shooting Fatal At Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Jules Guimard, 27, was charged today with the fatal shooting of his former father-in-law, Demmon Squires, 66, on the front porch of Squires' home.

The shooting — with a 16-gauge shotgun — occurred Sunday night and a hearing was held several hours later before Justice of the Peace Frank Ledford, who ordered Guimard bound over to the grand jury on a charge of murder.

Police said Guimard, who is unemployed, admitted orally that he shot Squires, an auto parts clerk, but said it was accidental. They said Guimard had gone to the home in search of his former wife, Mildred, 25. Police said he had threatened numerous times to kill her.

Guimard was under $1,000 peace bond because of these threats at the time of the shooting, police said. Guimard was divorced by his wife July 6. They have three children.

Bramwell Rites To Be Wednesday

Berger of Trinity Episcopal church will have charge. Visitation at the funeral home will be after 7 p.m. Tuesday. Cremation will take place at Fairlawn, Decatur. Joliet Boy, 4, Released From 'Coop'

JOLIET, Ill. (AP) — Four-year old Anthony Escamilla was in a hospital today after being found cooped up in a dark, dirty cubicle of his parents' home and his father was in jail charged with child neglect.

Police said the father, Rudolph, 29, told them his son had been in the cell-like stairwell for a month. But police said neighbors reported that Escamilla, his wife, Paula, 27, and their three daughters had lived in the home for 18 months and that they never knew the family had a son.

The mother was allowed to go home to tend to the girls.

Police declined to speculate on the length of the boy's imprisonment.

Police Break In

Neighbors reported they heard a child crying after the Escamilla family had left the apartment Saturday night and police broke into the makeshift 5-by-10-foot prison.

The boy, wearing only a T-shirt, was sitting on a pile of rags, which was his bed. He was locked behind sliding doors in what had once been a staircase foyer. The foyer had been blocked off and the stairway removed when the building, a former mansion, was converted into five apartments.

When found, the lad was staring at his dinner—a pan of milk.

Anthony was taken to a hospital. Authorities said there were several cuts on his body and lumps on his head.

Mentally Retarded?

Authorities were puzzled over the parents' explanations.

"We ashamed. We ashamed," was all Mrs. Escamilla would say. She indicated to police that the boy was mentally retarded.

"He's my son," the father said. "I love it (sic). No one will understand our own problem."

Escamilla said the boy used to bang his head against the wall and once struck himself on the head with a hammer.

"He's a sunny little boy," one of the nurses in the children's ward at Silver Cross Hospital told a reporter. "He answers questions in Spanish and English, but he never asks for his parents."

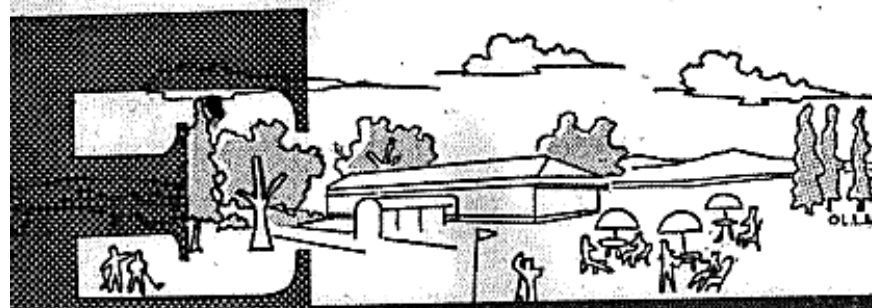

Wants More Cookies

"He likes to play with toys and he likes cookies. I brought him some cookies, and when he finished them he asked me for more."

Escamilla said he was born in Lockport, Ill., and said his wife was born in Texas. They met and married when she came to northern Illinois about six years ago. The three daughters are Lelores, 5, Rose Mary, 2, and Esmeranda, 9 months.

The nurse said Anthony knew of only two sisters.

The body of Mr. Mayer has been cremated and the ashes will be sent to the Schahl Funeral Home in Mt. Pulaski and later interred at the Mt. Pulaski cemetery.

Powers ---

On the stand today. He had testified for 5 1/2 hours Wednesday.

The handsome young American looked somewhat tired as he took the stand on the stage of the brilliantly lit hall of columns in the Soviet Trade Union Building. He wore the same blue suit and light blue tie he had on Wednesday. His wife, Barbara, and his father, Oliver W. Powers of Pound, Va., once more followed the testimony intently from their box in the rear of the hall. But the filer's mother, Ida Ford Powers, stayed in her hotel room, telling newsmen, "My presence might disturb my son." Mrs. Powers, who suffered from heart trouble, added that she felt fine.

SISTER ON HAND

Powers' younger sister, Jessica Hileman of Washington, D. C., arrived in Moscow late Wednesday night and was in the courtroom today. She sat next to the pilot's wife.

Prosecutor Roman Rudenko's first questions of the day were aimed at undercutting the Pakistani government's denial of any knowledge of Powers' flight, which originated from an air base at Peshawar, Pakistan.

To a series of questions, Powers agreed that Pakistani authorities must have known that his U2 plane was to operate from Peshawar, although he denied personal knowledge of that authority had been given.

The prosecutor also returned to the Soviet contention that Powers was prepared to fly to his destination, Bodoe, Norway, over neutral countries such as Sweden and Finland if his fuel ran low, a point the Soviets have been making in hopes of arousing anti-American feeling in those countries.

Rudenko asked about the route Powers took in a flight in 1958 from a Turkish air base to Bodoe. "I took off from Turkey, flew over part of Turkey, then Greece, Italy," he said, and after a long pause added, "either France, Austria or Switzerland - I don't remember." It was the first time anything had been said about American flights over neutral Austria and Switzerland. Powers went on to say that he continued that flight over West Germany, possibly over Denmark, and then to Norway.

Fiscal Reform Urged by M'Carthy

Rep. Robert W. McCarthy (Democrat), of Lincoln, called for the office of state senator Thursday night at the state organization meeting that fiscal reform is the most pressing need in Illinois.

Present Illinois Constitution dealing with taxation became effective in 1870 and the constitution geared to wealth as it then. Such wealth was real property. Today, the real property is an important part of our economy and stock and bond ownership as well as other intangible local taxation, with minor exceptions, comes from the tax on real estate and personal property tax, for the Constitution provision that all rates be "equal and uniform" is a realistic enforcement of the provision on intangibles.

When we come to the conclusion that an individual having $50,000 of real estate bears 100 per cent of the local tax load whereas an individual having a like amount invested in income-producing stock pays none. The revision of our Constitution to be changed to give the legislature the power to adopt different rates geared to different types of property. In this way local tax revenues may be increased and existing real estate rates lowered.

A Constitutional Amendment is adopted giving the Legislature broad powers of taxation — and I deem this advisable in the interest of orderly separation of government — then the Legislature must be advised by competent sources on what methods of taxation will be employed in the future.

"While I have practiced law for 14 years and have dealt with tax matters, I disclaim any knowledge as an economist. I know of no other member of the Illinois legislature who can legitimately call himself a qualified economist. We in the Legislature must receive guidance from qualified economists based upon an impartial study."

NEW YORK — The stock market declined on profit taking early this afternoon after a four-day advance. Trading slackened.

The Associated Press average for 50 stocks fell 50 to 224.70 with the industrials off 1.30, the rails off .10 and the utilities up .10. Losses of fractions to about a point were taken by key stocks which have picked up considerable ground recently.

Autos, steels, oils, chemicals, aircrafts and mail order-retail issues were among the losers. A scattering of small gainers appeared in various groups.

A break in the market's advance was regarded by many analysts as not only normal but overdue. As in recent declines, there was no great rush to unload and the slower trading on the downside was regarded as a bullish sign.

Dull Trade In Futures

CHICAGO — Trade in grain futures was generally dull this week as commercial demand was limited mainly to export markets in wheat and soybeans.

However, two influences stemming from government operations imparted a mildly bullish effect in corn and soybean considerations and were credited with steadying prices of both commodities.

Net changes in the market were small on most contracts as profit takers ripped at new bulges and short interests used setbacks to cover commitments.

An announcement that the Commodity Credit Corp. would cease selling into commercial channels its loan defaulted stocks of off-grade corn encouraged cash dealers especially to expand their futures commitments. It also attracted a little more speculative participation in the pit activity although dealers said it was not known how much of the damaged grain would be involved in the government policy or when it might again be abandoned.

KNOW HOSPITALS:

Pediatrics Important In Life of Kiddies

(This "Know Your Hospital") contribution is on Pediatrics and authored by Harriet E. Jodowski, registered nurse, for St. Clara's Hospital Auxiliary. These articles are offered as an exposition on services of hospitals).

Pediatrics is the care of the child from the time it is born through adolescence. The child and his illness is considered a very important factor in any hospital. It is given a great deal of thought and consideration in the minds and hearts of all who come in contact with the child. The pediatric nurse must have an interest in children. She must have the ability to establish the right relationship and realize the certain qualities within the individual and know a child's nature and needs.

There must be an interest and sympathy for children, an actual enjoyment for them as companions; a fundamental respect for them as individuals who have certain rights and privileges, an ability to see things from their point of view, to put oneself in their place, or as psychologists say, identify oneself with them. The pediatric nurse must not merely know one child well — but she must have knowledge and imagination which will give her an understanding of many different types of children.

Made Comfortable
She must have an alertness to notice symptoms. She must have an ability to make the child comfortable in mind as well as body. These things are only possible through the guidance of a well organized hospital pediatrics department such as we have at St. Clara's. Our pediatric department has helped many children in our community become reunited with their loved ones in a near healthy normal state. This too has been made possible through the loyal help of the family physician, supervisor of pediatrics, head nurse, R.N., aides and the very kind help of the Hospital Auxiliary in decorating, painting, putting on floor coverings and many items too numerous to mention when we expanded our pediatric department. The auxiliary also supply many of the toys, favors etc, for our department.

ver. One must be alert and well informed on many other infectious diseases such as tetanus, undulant fever, rabies, recurrent vomiting, diarrhea etc.

This takes a wide book of knowledge for not only the physician but the pediatric nurse. The child is never without supervision, 24 hours a day when a patient is in the hospital. The child's treatment and care are administered to the best of the nurse's ability through the orders given by the family physician.

Aid In Diagnosis
The laboratory and X-ray department have helped in many diagnoses of the child. The operating room has been the room which has found the cause of many a sore throat and tummy ache. Our dietary department has been the help to many a nutritional problem. There has been many a fracture mended in the emergency room and many a finger has had sutures by the physician with the help of the sister in charge of emergency. Many stomachs have been pumped with the help of the pediatric sister by the family physician.

All contagious diseases are transferred to the contagious department at St. John's Hospital in Springfield. We have pediatric consultants on our staff and have several pediatricians on call from other cities for consultation.

There are many antibiotics for the child's benefit and recovery have been of great value. The croupette (which is one of the newer items of equipment used in the pediatric department) is for children with asthma.

Break Cuts Off Water

Water service was expected to be restored to the State Farm (of Lincoln State School) by noon Saturday. The service was halted in mid-afternoon Friday by breaking of the 10-inch water main between the water plant and the Farm area. Erosion at the point where the main intersects Salt Creek is believed to have caused the break.

Service at the Farm was cut off save for the reserve supply in the water storage tank. Crews of Central Illinois Electric & Gas Co. worked through the night to restore water.

E. V. Lindsay, superintendent of the gas and water department; and his assistant, Walter Heins, were credited with "a remarkable job of making temporary repairs."

Caught in Act

Albert A. Coleman, 16, Decatur, is being held in the Logan County jail on burglary and larceny charges. Sheriff Joe Scanlon reports the youth was "caught in the act" of burglarizing Tibbs' Service Station at 17th and Elm streets about 3:30 a. m. Sunday.

Deputies Ken Simons, Ken Zimmerman and Bill Wilson and city policeman Robert Hahn happened to be passing the station in patrol cars and noticed a car parked at the station. They investigated and report they caught the youth as he was taking cigarettes and a pair of sun glasses from the station.

The parked car had been stolen from Decatur and it appeared that the youth had attempted to turn the gas station pumps on in order to get gasoline, according to the report.

Find Missing Girl Dead in Well on Farm

HERRIN, Ill. (U.S.) — A pretty waitress kidnaped by a blond gunman from a lover's lane four days ago was found dead in a well at an abandoned farm house Sunday. She had been shot through the head.

The FBI, which took over the investigation from local authorities, apparently was without a major lead toward the identity of the killer.

The kidnaper fled with Mary Lilly Ellen Roberts, 17, in a green and white car after seriously wounding her fiancé, John Bryant Jr., 20. The couple had been parked at a remote spot on Crab Orchard Lake in a wildlife refuge near Carbondale.

18 Miles From Spot
That was 18 miles southwest of the weed-choked farm where the body was found.

The FBI roped off the area, frequently used by picnickers, for a painstaking search for any articles the killer might have left. A spent cartridge and a blood-stained mattress found near the well were to be analyzed.

The body was brought out of the well in a wire basket after Police Chief Charles Edwards of nearby Marion, Ill., was lowered to the water level on a rope.

"Oh no, that's my Mary Lilly," said Mary Lee Roberts, the mother.

Alibis Accepted
Two men were cleared in the kidnap-slaying Sunday night after lengthy questioning. Both established alibis.

An autopsy disclosed that Miss Roberts had been shot in the head just above the left ear.

Coroner Adolph Fluck said the pathologist had been unable to determine whether the girl had been raped. Her panties were not found with the body, otherwise fully clothed.

Bryant, a Carbondale barber, was shot through the face as he stepped from the car upon being accosted by a man he described as tall, blond and in his mid-20s.
