Crews from the department tre doing survey work with the use of temporary towers. Several are now standing in Logan County. The towers are used as reference points in the survey work and have lights so that they can be used at night.

The towers are erected for use in a particular area and then moved on to the next part of the project.

"Since this is a minimum amount needed to carry out the essentials of good Girl Scout program in the Land of Lincoln area, it is imperative that Lincoln raise its share of the budget to assure that our present program will continue and that more troops can be organized and more services given in Lincoln," according to Reinders.

Funds raised by the towns are used to organize new troops, train leaders, provide three kinds of camping for girls, troop camp, day camp and established camp (Camp Widjuwagan), provide professional services from a member of the Council's professional staff in guiding and train-

Youth Suffers Gunshot Hurt

Authorities are a little undecided how it happened, but at any rate, Marvin Gallagher, 17, rural Lincoln, is in Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital today recovering from a gunshot wound in his right thigh. He was ad-mitted to the hospital about 12:45 a.m. today. In telling his story to au-thorities, Gallagher stated first that he was shooting cans at the Zion cemetery and that when he went to look at one of the cans, his .22 caliber rifle fell and discharged a bullet into his leg.

In talking to city police officers, he would only say that his gun accidentally fired and the wound was self-inflicted.

Gallagher also gave the version that he went to the cemetery, got out of his car, and that an unknown person shot him in the leg.

Last Chance To See

CHICAGO UP-, Tonight may be the last time for several weeks that Illinoisans can view the Echo satellite in the evening sky. Echo will pass over the state Friday evening but may not be visible.

A change in Echo's orbit in relation to fixed stars is the reason for its disappearance from the evening heavens, Robert I. Johnson, director of the Adler Planetarium, said.

The satellite will become visible in the morning skies before sunrise around Sept: 27 or 28, Johnson said:

Tonight's pass will start at about 7:05 p.m. in the west northwest. Echo will move southwest to its peak at 7:12 p.m. 42 degrees above the horizon and will set at 7:19 p.m.

The Friday night pass will start around 6:42 p.m. in the west northwest and will reach its peak 46 degrees above the horizon at 6:49 p.m., moving southwesterly to its setting in the south

PEORIA - Hog numbers are increasing at the market but cooler weather has increased the demand for pork products and prices are expected to hold steady to strong through September according to the Dick Herm forecast. High moisture corn and corn unmarketable as corn will set the feeder pig market aftre for the next six weeks.

Beef prices have been declining regularly and will continue to do and Ocso through September tober. Fed cattle numbers are expected to increase and the price leveled weakened further. Feeder cattle will increase in demand as the amount of corn for feeding becomes apparent.

Lamb prices are approaching their seasonal low and not much advance in the market is expected before November. Make lambs fat with corn. Shear natives that are unfinished and need further feeding as this will increase gain and reduce feeding costs.
