FARMERS MEETING

Files Suit for $10,000 Damages

A $10,000 suit for damages is filed by Vernia Phillips, Galia Sherwood, Harlen W. Hamil versus General Motors Acceptance Corp., and Robert J. Lundin, a representative of the agency.

Hamil charges that on June 1, 1960, he was the owner of a 1957 Chevrolet automobile and that he had various items of personal property valued at more than $600 locked in the car.

The plaintiff charges that Lundin, acting for the company, took possession of the auto and its contents. He alleges that after many days the auto was returned to him, but not the personal property. Hamil charges that because of the loss of his auto he suffered expenses and was humiliated and is therefore asking for $10,000. He also requests a trial by jury.

General Landon Funeral Friday

Brig. Gen. Kurt M. Landon, 53, a former resident of Carlinville, died Tuesday night at Andrews Air Force Base hospital in Maryland after an illness of two years. Local relatives are Mrs. Jennie Hoblit, Mrs. Robert Werthum, Joseph L. Hoblit, and Frank D. Hoblit of Atlanta, and Mrs. Charles H. Woods of Lincoln.

General Landon returned in the summer of 1958 from his last tour of duty as assistant chief of staff of the Pacific Air Force at Hickam Field, Hawaii. He had lived in the Washington, D. C., area since that time.

The General wore the insignia of a command pilot, identifying him as a veteran of more than 3,000 hours at the controls of military aircraft and more than 10 years in the Air Force. He won his pilot wings at Brooks Field and Elly Field, Tex., after graduating from West Point in the class of 1930, and had a varied and extensive career during the growth of the Air Forces during the last decade.

In August, 1941, he became director of training at Turner Field, Albany, Ga., an advanced twin-engine school which, like the Blytheville, Ark., Advanced Twin-Engine Flying School where he was later commanding officer, gave aviation cadets the final training which graduates them as pilots with commissions as second lieutenants in the air corps.

He was a son of the late P. O. Landon and Mrs. Jean Hoblit Landon of Carlinville. He attended one year at Blackburn College before deciding upon a military career in emulation of his brother who preceded him to the U.S. Military Academy by two years.

Declines Hit Stock Market

NEW YORK — The stock market declined this afternoon as profits were taken on two days of advance. Trading was quiet.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell .50 to 223.00 with industrials off 1.00, rails up .10 and utilities off .10.

Key stocks took losses running from fractions to about a point. Steels backed away from their advance which began even in Tuesday's general market decline. Autos, oils, nonferrous metals and aircrafts were among losers. Electrical equipment was mixed.

Auto industry cutbacks and a report of deepening recession made to President-elect Kennedy were among background factors.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 3.20 at 619.47. Corporate bonds advanced. Governments were unchanged to lower. Trading was quiet.

Hotel Fire---

"we're still finding bodies."

Some of the victims were trapped in their rooms by the flames; others were asphyxiated. Ironically, the chief said, the fire was seen earlier and thought to be extinguished.

"The guy in 42 smelled smoke in 41," Murray said. "He found a mattress smoldering and poured water on it. Then he went back to bed."

The man in room 41 was identified as Ray Gorman. The man in room 42 was Ed Saylor. Both were taken to emergency hospitals, critically burned.

Earl Blake, chief of the city's emergency hospitals, directed a steady flow of ambulances carrying dozens from the hotel.

"There were two or three dozen seriously hurt," he said.

Recognition for Mrs. Zimmerman

Special recognition from the National Foundation came for Mrs. Kenneth Zimmerman at the Logan County M.O.D. kickoff dinner here Thursday evening.

She was presented a key award (pin) for her service as Mothers March leader in past campaigns. Mrs. Zimmerman is also serving as Mothers March chairman for this year's appeal.

The presentation was by Mrs. Delores Swords of Peoria, who is state MOD women's adviser. She pointed out that 60 per cent of the total funds raised for M.O.D. in 1960 came through Mothers March activities.

M.O.D. funds, Mrs. Swords said, keep sufferers from polio, arthritic diseases and birth defects alive and maintain their hopes. She outlined the scholarship setup of the M.O.D.

Stocks Turn Higher Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market early this afternoon pushed its way above the recovery peak of last August. Trading was heavy.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .50 at 225.60 with the industrials up .50, rails up .90 and utilities off .10.

If the gain were held by the close, it would officially put the AP average above the Aug. 24 high of 225.20 and mark a retacement of over-all losses since the second week of January 1960.

Gains of most key stocks were small, only a few going to a point of so. Small losses were scattered through the list. As gains were stretched, the market was having heavy going.

Reinvestment demand following year-end tax-loss selling was still said to be a factor. Underlying sentiment was anticipation of a business rebound by midyear or sooner. Increase in steel production following the holiday slackness was a cheerful note.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 1.30 at 625.72. Corporate bonds were mixed. Governments were about unchanged. Dealings were slow.

Parents Appealing

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — The parents of a Marine private slain in a robbery four years ago made a tearful plea today that the woman convicted of the slaying not be pardoned.

Mr. and Mrs. August Kirk of Petersburg, Ind., told the Illinois Pardon Board that Trudy Jo Baker's plea for freedom from a 30-year prison sentence should be denied.

"She's as guilty of killing our son as her husband," Kirk told the board.

Mrs. Baker, 20, and her husband, Robert, were convicted in 1958 of murdering Marine Private Larry Kirk, 21. His body was found Dec. 22, 1956 in a field northeast of Centralia.

ICY DIP

Brady Myrick, 24, Springfield, took a dip in 10 feet of icy Lincoln Lakes water Tuesday while attempting to rescue two dogs that had fallen through the ice.

However, the ice collapsed before he could reach the dogs. Members of his tree-trimming crew pulled Myrick out and one of the dogs also managed to get to dry land. The other dog was rescued later with the use of a boat.

HEADING FOR SUNNY HAWAII: Helps Enrich Life in Logan County Homes

A fixture in the home life of Logan county — Mrs. Mabel U. Albrecht — is busy packing for a trek from the corn and soybean land of Logan county to Hawaii, jewel of the Pacific, where sugar cane and pineapples are grown in abundance.

Coming to Logan in 1946, she has served as home adviser, organizing the Home Bureaus which dot the county. Now, more than 2,500 meetings later, she is bound for Honolulu, island capital, and a post with the University of Hawaii. Founded in 1907 it is a coeducational institution of learning.

The affable H.A. will wind up her affairs here Jan. 15 and set off for the West Coast and a vacation with friends. She will plan to the Crossroads of the Pacific, having her new car shipped across the ocean. She starts in her new field of endeavor soon after Feb. 1.

Native of Worden

Born in Worden, Ill., the daughter of a banker, Mrs. Albrecht was graduated from the high school in Edwardsville, Ill. She is also a graduate of Stout State College in Wisconsin, and Purdue University. Later she studied at Washington University in St. Louis and is a graduate dietitian of Barnes Hospital in St. Louis.

Mrs. Albrecht came to Lincoln from Washington, D.C. where she had been in the food service at the Pentagon. She was widowed 25 years ago when her husband, Louis F. Albrecht, a banker, was killed in a train-auto collision. Well known in Madison county, he had served many years on the board of supervisors.

Mother of Two Sons

Her sons are James of Chicago, employed by Armour Research Foundation; and Robert, also of Chicago who is with the international division of Kendall Company, manufacturers. Her two granddaughters are the children of James and his wife, a brother, Otto, is director of food services at the U. of I.

The friendly H.A. on arriving in Lincoln threw herself with energy into the task of setting up Home Bureau units for both rural and urban women. At first there were 18 units, now there are 25 in which are more than 500 members receiving the Home Economics Extension program benefits. The adviser, however, works with all county women regardless of organization affiliation and in a year an estimated 1,000 are embraced in the program and its contacts.

In addition to the local units, there is a central county Home Bureau organization. It cooperates in related fields, particularly health.

The departing adviser declares Home Economics Extension is in effect "adult education on a voluntary basis." It makes for better homemaking and community life through the areas of food, clothing, sewing, crafts, home management, home furnishings, and recreation. About 75 per cent of the women working directly with Mrs. Albrecht are rural dwellers. The women meet monthly for study of the above topics, gathering in homes. The program, Mrs. Albrecht stresses, is one executed by local leaders, and the educational phase is supervised by the home adviser.

In another field, that for 4-H girls, the home adviser serves also as supervisor. When she came here there were 14 clubs with 267 members — the count today is 22 clubs and 363 members. Through their projects the girls become better citizens and ultimately home makers.

After 20 years in home economics extension work, Mrs. Albrecht's fondest recollection is that of watching the development of leadership among both women and girls. She also put in four years of such work in Montgomery county.

Name in Who's Who

Personable and vivacious, H.A. Albrecht admitted it was difficult for her to decide when she received the offer for extension work in the new 49th state. "But I had always wanted to visit Hawaii and since the surprise offer also involved a larger salary, I finally decided to accept." She is regretful at leaving the many friends she has made in Logan.

In 1959 as well as in 1960, the adviser is listed in "Who's Who of American Women." Its 1959 edition carried the names of some 10,000 U. S. women. She is one of 500 in her field in "Who's Who."

The departing adviser lives at 206 Pulaski st. has had her office in the Farm Bureau building for her work for the Home Economics Extension of the University of Illinois.

While "Aloha" is the Hawaiian word of greeting, it is also a word of farewell. The Courier and the many friends Mrs. Albrecht has made in the Logan area join in saying "Aloha" (farewell to thee).

Early Spring In U.S. Areas

(By Associated Press)

Intrusion of cold Canadian air into extreme northern areas was the major exception today to the general pattern of unseasonably mild temperatures that have blanketed the country the past week.

Readings climbed into the high 50s over much of the area from Kansas to Ohio with reports from Iowa that dandelions were blooming, other plants popping up and a grasshopper was found sunning himself on a porch in Red Oak.

While most areas enjoyed the spring-like thaw a cold front dropped temperatures below zero in northern Minnesota and the Dakotas, with freezing temperatures extending into the central Rockies and in scattered areas of the Northeast.

Thundershowers with winds gusting to 35 miles an hour swept across the Southeast from Kentucky to the South Carolina coast and the Gulf States. And in the Northwest a steady parade of fronts continued to spread rain over much of the area, changing to snow inland to the Rockies.

missile systems. The budget for the coming fiscal year, by contrast, programs more than four times as much for strategic missile systems as for manned bomber systems. Similarly, defense against ballistic missile attack took only a small part of the total capital investment in continental air defense as recently as fiscal year 1957, whereas in the coming fiscal year it will be a substantial percentage of the total.

"There has been a gradual shift from guns to missiles on surface ships, and from conventional to nuclear power for submarines. For surface ships, the relative utility of nuclear or conventional power is a question that requires case by case consideration in each year's shipbuilding program.

"In total, there has been an emphasis on versatile and modern multi-purpose military units equipped and prepared for all forms of military action — from limited emergencies to a general war."

Under the budget recommendations, total military manpower would remain unchanged at 2,492,900. Each service would hold the same manning table. Army 870,000; Navy 625,000; Marine Corps 175,000; Air Force 822,900. At Same Strength

Nor would the numerical strength in weapons and units change radically. The Army would continue at 14 divisions; the Navy's combat fleet at 381 ships; the Air Force would decrease from 88 to 84 combat wings, but with more new aircraft in the units.

Eisenhower asked funds for five more Polaris submarines, which would bring to 19 the number of the rocket-firing, nuclear-powered submarines for which full funding was provided. In addition, he recommended money for buying equipment in advance for five additional Polaris boats.

Funds were asked for 30 new ships of various types, including three more atomic-powered attack submarines.

Spending for research, development and testing of new or improved weapons systems would total $4.38 billion — about $240 million above the present year.

Eisenhower Belongings 'Leaving' White House

By MARTHA COLE
WASHINGTON (AP) — Any American citizen who has plodded through the topsy-turvy turmoil of moving knows what's been going on at the White House.

Trucks have been coming and going for more than a week carrying away boxes, crates, more boxes, more crates. It's been a gradual process. But by this afternoon, the personal belongings, except for clothes, of President and Mrs. Eisenhower were expected to be gone from their home of the past eight years.

Moving is difficult for any American.

For an American president, it is a gigantic task, almost like moving history.

LT. Col. John Eisenhower has been supervising the exodus for his parents. The General Services Administration is doing the moving.

There are papers to be stored and boxed—this for the Eisenhower Museum at Abilene, Kan., for the new office to be opened at Gettysburg, Pa., that for the national records.

There are gifts — things like a golf bag shaped like the Washington Monument, a silver punch bowl from Burma, a stone Buddha from Cambodia, Oriental rugs, a 100-year-old cowbell.

Eisenhower has said there are 18,000 gifts he has received in eight years of being president which are being sent to the Abilene museum. Other items have been sent to the Smithsonian Institution.

Some gifts were personal ones meant just for the Gettysburg country home awaiting the Eisenhowers. These include cattle, horses, a flagpole, a fancy $4,000 tractor-cultivator and even a putting green.

Fortunately, Mrs. Eisenhower doesn't have to worry about packing pots and pans at the White House, or a lot of furniture.

What to bring to those personal living quarters now is the problem of young Jacqueline Kennedy.

She has a date with the moving men at the Kennedy home in the Georgetown section of Washington the first thing Monday after the inaugural weekend.

Fall Hurts Fatal

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — A deputy somner says Jacquelin Joan Farrell, 22, of Joliet, Ill., apparently suffered fatal injuries in a fall while hiking.

The body of the University of Colorado student was found Friday in foothills near Boulder. She had been missing since Jan. 4.

Deputy Coroner George W. Howe said Miss Farrell probably tripped over a rock. An autopsy showed she suffered a ruptured liver and fractures of the pelvis, right elbow, left wrist and right shoulder.

Death was attributed to internal bleeding.

Miss Farrell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. J. Farrell of Joliet, had been attending the university's extension center in Denver this session.

Quizzed for Shooting

CHICAGO (AP) — A 32-year-old jobless laborer was held by police today for further questioning in connection with the fatal shooting of two men and the serious wounding of his estranged wife. Police said Mrs. Grace Bush, 30, mother of three, told them her husband, Raymond, 32, fired the

Thieves Take Jewels Worth Little Fortune

CHICAGO (AP) — A pair of burglars, apparently well-drilled in how to enter and where to look, invaded the bedroom of an elderly, semi-invalid widow early Sunday morning and escaped with jewelry valued at $200,000.

For an hour they held Mrs. Anna Wagner, 81, prisoner as they went through drawers and closets of her fifth-floor bedroom on Lake Shore Drive. In furnishing the estimate of the loss, Mrs. Wagner said the gems were not insured.

Mrs. Wagner is the widow of Emil W. Wagner, a pioneer Chicago grain broker.

Police gave this account of the break-in:

Careful not to trip a burglar alarm, the pair climbed over a pile of lumber to reach the second floor landing of the fire escape. When they reached the fifth floor, they removed small panes of glass in the door and entered.

After instructing Mrs. Wagner to be quiet, they went to a closet, where Mrs. Wagner had stored the jewels while she was hospitalized last November, then to a

Logan C.D. Leaders in Area Posts

Lincoln, Mt. Pulaski and Chestnut was at Bloomington Sunday for a Central Illinois Area Defense Council meeting which attracted more than 150.

Larry Shroyer of Lincoln, who has been president of the area group the past year, was elected a director. The director of Civil Defense in Logan county, he presided for the afternoon program.

Mt. Pulaski Man Named
Richard Mueller, director of C.D. in Mt. Pulaski, was also elected a director. Attending from Lincoln were representatives of Logan county board of supervisors, the city council, city police, and Courier. Special recognition was given to Supervisor Fred J. Armbrust, who at 80 is a C.D. booster.

Succeeding Shroyer as president will be Guy Parkins, C.D. director for Galesburg and Knox county. Other officers include Herbert Borgelt of Havana, vice president; and Billie Beavers of Pekin, vice president.

In the forenoon the Illinois division of the United States C.D. Council met. A dinner preceded the afternoon area meeting. Chief afternoon speaker was Gen. Don Carlton, C.D. director for the city of Milwaukee, Wis.

Fear Psychology used
The psychology of fear, he said, is necessary to alert citizens to the need for civil defense. He tabbed it a program, being anything but popular or glamorous. Yet, the retired Army officer said, there is a growing tendency "for the better."

"The C.D. group was told that 'a well protected civil population is a strong additional deterrent to possible enemy aggression.' The Wisconsin C.D. authority proclaimed that 'Our (C.D.) mission is to save as many lives as possible in time of war or national disaster.'"

Repeatedly General Carlton said "Americans are not apathetic — they just don't know what to do about Civil Defense." He declared Russia does not have Civil Defense and that its citizens have little understanding of personal defense should there be a nuclear attack.

drawer to which she removed them upon her return. Police said the intruders obviously knew what they were looking for, since less costly costume jewelry was ignored, as were mink and suble fur pieces.

The FBI entered the case to determine if the theft involved articles in interstate shipment.

Democrat Celebrations to Commence Monday Evening

WASHINGTON (AP) — If ever there was a week for Democrats to celebrate, this is it. On Friday, one of their own, John F. Kennedy, will be inaugurated president, ending eight years of Republican federal rule.

And the Democrats mean to celebrate, starting tonight with a reception for one of their venerable leaders, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, 79.

Having Transition Ball
The Republicans, however, won't be entirely left out in the cold. The soon-to-be "outs" cut into a week of partying for the new "ins" with a "Transition Ball" tonight in honor of the outgoing Eisenhower administration. What started out as a modest affair has gotten unexpected response from Republicans.

They hope to muster 15,000 to dance until midnight to a 13-piece orchestra.

Throughout the week, Washington will be on a party kick with scores of dances, receptions, dinners and private celebrations.

Kennedy himself is coming back from Palm Beach Tuesday and will put in an appearance at a party his sister, Joan Kennedy Smith, is giving for the cast of the inaugural gala.

Entertainment Planned
The gala is a star-studded evening of entertainment being produced by Frank Sinatra and Kennedy's brother-in-law, actor Peter Lawford. Top talent from Broadway and Hollywood, taking part in the event, will be guests of the Smiths, who have expanded the facilities of their small Georgetown home by setting up a heated tent in their garden.

The governors of 44 states, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands, their wives and military aides will attend a special luncheon in the House Office Building Monday immediately following the swearing-in ceremonies.

Utility Company Maps $800,000 Improvements

Projected additions to the electric, gas and water service systems of the Lincoln Division of Central Illinois Electric and Gas Co. during 1961 will cost in the neighborhood of $800,000, according to an estimate made by L. S. Berry, division vice president.

Berry said the construction expenditures will enable his company to "stay ahead of increased service demands," and are being made in anticipation of greater home construction activity, general business improvement and favorable industrial conditions during the next 12 months.

For the most part, the construction funds budgeted for the Lincoln Division will cover normal system growth projects, and almost half of the $800,000 will be spent in additions to the complex electric transmission and distribution systems which serve the Lincoln Division, Berry explained.

Will Be Modernized

Another major project slated for 1961 is the beginning of work on extensive modernization and improvement of the Lincoln water system. The company has already purchased a site in North Jefferson street as the location of a storage reservoir of 1,000,000 gallons capacity and a booster pump station. Lonely Hearts Club Turns Sour

CHICAGO (AP) — Police have started a search for a 42-year-old man accused of absconding with a Missouri widow's $5,000 after wooing and winning her through a lonely hearts club. Police said Mrs. Adelaide Kippling, 42, told them she married Cole Kippling Dec. 17 after he sent her $50 to come to Chicago from her home in Aurora, Mo. She said she sold her home in Aurora before coming to Chicago to marry Kippling. He disappeared last Thursday. Mrs. Kippling said her husband told her he was a silverware manufacturer but she said she never found out the name of his firm. Mrs. Kippling told police $145 of the money her husband took was the amount she received for selling six pedigreed cats-at his request. She said a friend, knowing of her loneliness after her first husband's death a year ago, had sent her name to a lonely hearts club. "I guess they thought they were doing me a favor," she reflected sadly. "He only left me 16 cents."

Wally Talks 'Persecution'

LONDON (AP) — British royalty and government officials today preserved expected silence toward the Duchess of Windsor's charge that she and her husband have been persecuted by his family since he abdicated in 1936.

Only a few of the duke's former subjects chimed in—some bitterly denouncing the duchess and the man who quit the throne to marry her, others supporting them.

There was no comment from the palace or the government—nor is there likely to be. Only three national newspapers reported the duchess' complaints, made in a copyrighted article in McCall's magazine. Only two papers carried comment.

Accused of "Erasing"

The duchess, the former American divorcee Wallis Simpson, said the treatment given her husband, ex-king Edward VIII, has been "enough to break anybody's spirit." She accused the royal family—Queen Elizabeth II is the duke's niece—of trying to "erase every vestige of fondness his

Counterfeit Ring Cracked In This State

BLOOMINGTON, Ill. (AP) — Federal and local authorities seized two men at a roadblock Thursday night and announced the breakup of a statewide counterfeit money ring reaching into at least seven communities from Chicago to St. Louis.

Source of the bogus bills, said Fred Backstro, agent in charge of the Springfield office of the Secret Service, was a printing plant in Chicago.

Distribution points ranged from Chicago to Peoria, Mount Vernon, Benton, Champaign, Decatur and St. Louis, he said.

Nab Bogus Bills

The two men were seized at a roadblock near Carlock, a community between Peoria and Bloomington. Agents said they found $20,500 in bogus $10 and $20 bills, in uncut sheafs, in the men's car. They also found a paper cutter.

The men, identified as Joseph Stoecker, about 30, and Joseph Brown, about 40, both of Peoria, were named in warrants charging possession of counterfeit bills.

Also named in warrants were two younger Stoecker brothers, Ronald and Franklin. They were sought after they were reported seen recently in Mount Sterling.

Stoecker and Brown were seized after agents staked out along U.S. 150 reported their progress from Peoria.

On Small Scale

Backstro said the statewide counterfeit operation apparently was on a small scale and the money circulated to date probably did not exceed $5,000. He said the activities — under way for about a month — were under surveillance for some time.

Neither Stoecker, Brown nor the brothers apparently was responsible for printing the alleged counterfeits, Backstro said.

Both Stoecker and Brown declined to comment on the charges. There was no immediate word from the Chicago Secret Service office.

Kennedy singled out Latin-American countries for special aid, after saying that "Communist agents seeking to exploit that region's peaceful revolution of hope have established a base on Cuba, only 90 miles from our shores."

In the political and diplomatic arena, Kennedy noted he already has taken steps aimed at expanding and coordinating the nation's disarmament effort.

"The deadly arms race, and the huge resources it absorbs, have too long overshadowed all else we do. We must prevent that arms race from spreading to new nations, to new nuclear powers and the reaches of outer space."

Kennedy said further that in this same general area: "This administration intends to explore promptly all possible areas of co-operation with the Soviet Union and other nations 'to invoke the wonders of science instead of its terrors.' There he borrowed a phrase from his inaugural address."

MORE DIFFICULT

Reporting on his study of world problems since taking office, the President said: "Each day the crises multiply. Each day their solution grows more difficult. Each day we drag nearer the hour of maximum danger, as weapons spread and hostile forces grow stronger."

"I feel I must inform the Congress that our analyses over the last 10 days make it clear that in each of these principal areas of crisis — the tide of events has been running out and time has not been our friend."

"In Asia, the relentless pressures of the Communist Chinese menace the security of the entire area," Kennedy said.

"In Africa, the Congo has been brutally torn by civil strife. . . . In Latin America, Communist agents have established a base on Cuba."

"In Europe, our alliances are unfulfilled and in some disarray. The unity of NATO has been weakened by economic rivalry and partially eroded by national interest. . . ."

Overall, Kennedy said, the first great obstacle to solution of these problems "is still our relations with the Soviet Union and Communist China."

"We must never be lulled into believing that either power has yielded its ambitions for world domination," he added.

As for his orders for a three-way speedy bolstering of the nation's defenses, Kennedy said:

The Polaris submarine construction program pace will be accelerated by nine months by using unobligated ship-building funds. This will add units to a fleet "that never will attack first, but will possess sufficient powers of retaliation, concealed beneath the seas, to discourage any aggressor from launching an attack on our security."

Stepping up the missile program calls currently for improved organization and decision making—on cutting down wasteful duplications and time lag that have handicapped the whole family of missiles.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 1 below zero at Moline and Vandalia to 7 above at Quincy. Sunday highs extended from 12 at Vandalia to 21 at
