Band Plans For Future

Plans for its 1962 season were drawn by Lincoln Legion band at its annual dinner meeting Thursday evening at the Moose lodge hall. The usual eight concerts are anticipated for Latham park bandstand — plus two Sunday afternoon concerts, in June and July.

Band officers will continue another year. They are—Bill Robinson, president; Don McKnight, vice president; Bob Fields, secretary; Charles Hoelscher, treasurer; Claude Marrs, Librarian, and Paul E. Rankin, director.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Ohmes, the former being the band's former drum major as well as liaison between the band and city council in the procuring of city funds for keeping the band going. Ohmes suggested the band gather the various trophies it has won and display them at the Legion Home.

Winter practice sessions were discussed but the plan was rejected. It is planned to commence rehearsals March 1, 1962. Speaking for the organization, Robinson said "we would like to thank the people of Lincoln for their

Shriners to Play Sunday

Members of Logan County Shrine club and their families are slated to join the more than 5,000 Ansar Shriners and Shrine candidates in Central Illinois Sunday afternoon and evening to partake in the fun and fellowship of the 1961 Ansar "family picnic" at the Illinois State Fairgrounds in Springfield. It was announced here by Paul H. Hauffe Logan Shrine club president.

The picnic, revived this year by Ansar Temple's Potentate S. Byron Gaines, is scheduled to open with a 1 o'clock concert by Ansar's big brass band under direction of James W. Humphrey. Following this, from 2 to 4, Don R. Park of Rochester will emcee an all-star revue in Radio Hall which will feature such acts as Harold Cockin, magician, sponsored by the Rasna Shrine Club of Jacksonville; the acrobatic Lehner Sisters, sponsored by the Logan County Shrine Club of Lincoln, a song and dance act; and the Ansar Temple's Chanters and the hilarious antics of the Ansar clown band.

The committee headed by William R. Schnirring, Jr. has provided a glittering gallery of carnival fun for all youngsters from two to ninety-two. In addition to two ferris wheels and two merry-go-rounds, the usual long lines will form at the Octopus, the Round-up, the Tub-of-Fun, and Kiddie trains. Possibly the biggest attraction will be the pony rides for the young cowboys and cowgirls.

Cold drinks, ice cream, popcorn and cotton candy will be furnished by Ansar Shrine to supplement the family picnic baskets. Ample parking near all activities has been provided, as well as numerous picnic tables and a convenient, supervised checkroom for picnic baskets.

Special Election Expense Opposed by Lincoln Mayor

Lincoln, Ill.
September 7, 1961
Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nugent
Lincoln Daily Courier
Lincoln, Ill.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Nugent:
Since the City Council meeting on September 5, when the Council voted to hold a special election to fill the office of City Clerk, several people have asked me if such an election is necessary, what it will cost, and other questions concerning it. Because of this interest and apparent general lack of definite information regarding the subject, I thought some of your readers might be interested in my opinion of it.

When Mr. Sparks was City Clerk he had three full time and one part time assistants. The salaries of two of these assistants were charged to general expense and the balance to the sewer revenues account. When Mrs. Zetter became City Clerk, the part time clerk-assistant became a full time employee, so there were then four full time employees, including Mrs. Zetter, as against four and one half, including Mr. Sparks.

Effective May 1 of this year, when Mr. Hodgdon became City Clerk, he retained the staff, making five full time employees. Mrs. Zetter's salary was reduced from $400 a month to $325 and Mr. Hodgdon's salary of $400 was added.

The above does not include the position of building and sewer inspector which has carried on without change through this whole period.

Illinois State Statutes provide that, in the event of a vacancy in the office of City Clerk, the Mayor has authority to appoint a successor, with the consent of the Council. If the Council does not concur in such an appointment, it may vote to hold a special election.

I have worked with Mrs. Zetter for over four years. She has an excellent knowledge of the duties and in my opinion is one of the best qualified persons in Lincoln to fill the office. She and the other three ladies in the office are perfectly capable of carrying on all of the work without additional help, which would be a savings of approximately $3,900 a year.

Our last city election cost $2873.00. A special election would cost about the same, although it is probable that less than 1,000 votes would be cast. In such a special election, where interest is low, it is very possible that the person elected would not have a working knowledge of the duties, might not be disposed to learn them, and would have to rely upon the present staff, or others of similar capabilities, to do the work, thereby adding the additional cost of approximately $3,900 a year mentioned above.

I was very pleased earlier this year when the Council decided to cut expenditures wherever possible so we could remain on a sound financial basis. Consequently I am concerned, and I think all the voters of Lincoln should be too, to set this apparent about face.

Sincerely yours,
Edward L. Spellman

Miss America Starts Reign

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's newest dream girl started off happily today, along the year-long path she hopes may lead to a glowing career in the entertainment world.

It was in this show business role that Marie Beale Fletcher—the newly crowned Miss America—received her first glare of the bright lights.

The 18-year-old North Carolina beauty was a member of the Radio City Music Hall's famed Rockettes last year before she returned to her Asheville home to spruce up for the Miss North Carolina contest.

She was still sprucing today, but this time it was to prepare for her reign in the Miss America role that she won over 54 other beauties at Atlantic City, N.J., Saturday night.

The brown-haired, hazel-eyed Miss Fletcher will spend a month here, with much of it in the selection of a wardrobe suitable for her queenly proportions.

Miss Fletcher said she was "very, very honored and very thrilled" at winning the nation's oldest beauty title.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beale Fletcher, both dancing teachers and former professional dancers, were present for her triumph.

"That made it so much more real and wonderful," she said. "I've envied them so much."

Historic School On Salute List This Week Here

Lincoln this week is observing Salute to College Week by proclamation of Mayor Edward L. Spellman. It is an activity of the Civic Pride Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce. This Courier article deals with Lincoln College, which with Lincoln Bible Institute, is being saluted during the week.

The historic college claims to be the first named for Abraham Lincoln and the only one so named during the lifetime of the Civil War president. Founded in 1865, it has been here almost as long as there has been life in a community here. Ground was broken in 1864 for the first building. At the 1961 commencement, a statue of Lincoln the Student was dedicated and stands on the campus to the college with the Great Emancipator.

The philosophy of the school—now a two-year junior college is stated as—"To Limit of Ability."

In keeping with the ideals of death, services associated with the name of Abraham Lincoln, Lincoln College dares to say that young people should have the benefits of higher education to the limits of their abilities. Therefore Lincoln College may admit any high school graduate whose preparation, character and purpose indicated that he can benefit thereby.

Over the past year, approximately $235,000 was paid out to 114 employees, all but one living in Lincoln. The annual budget runs in excess of $500,000 and 90 per cent of the budget comes from tuition and fees. The remaining 10 per cent comes from endowment and gifts. Last year, with an enrollment of 350, it is estimated that approximately $85,000 was spent locally by students for food, services, entertainment, etc.

Enrollment for this year is 415 so it is estimated that approximately 18 or 19 per cent more will be spent locally.

On the faculty and administrative staff are 45 persons.

is Serve as President. There have been 12 presidents of the college: A. Freeman, J. C. Bowdon, A. J. McGlumphy, A. E. Turner (from 1868-1890) and Agnes (1890-1930) James Goodnight, Albert R. Taylor, B. C. Moore (acting president), James Henry McMurray, Arie Vanderhorst, W. D. Copeland, Milton D. McLean and Raymond Dooley.

Dr. Dooley, president now, came to Lincoln College in 1949 and the school has made its greatest strides during his administration. He is a graduate of Illinois Wesleyan University with a master's degree from Harvard and a Litt. D. from Stead College and a Litt. D. from Millikin University. He is a commissioner of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, chairman of the Illinois Conference Committee on Higher Education, trustee of the Illinois State Historical Library, a member of the Association of College Admissions Counselors, American Colleges Public Relations Association, Civil War Round Table of Chicago and Springfield, Logan County Historical Society and a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts in London, England.

The L.C.-Community Players produce plays to which the public is invited. (Last year "The Man Who Came to Dinner" was staged several times.) Musical programs are also given during the year.

ture and flower arrangements are open to townspeople. Have Lincoln Room. The Lincoln Room contains about 2000 Lincoln volumes, numerous pamphlets and assorted items. Notable in this collection is the original power of attorney drawn up in Lincoln's office, which was used to found the town of Lincoln.

The Museum of Presidents, the only one of its kind in an American college or university, was dedicated in May, 1955, in celebration of the 90th anniversary of the founding of the college. This room was especially designed as a shrine honoring the men who have served as president of the United States from George Washington's time to the present. This museum has been created to stimulate and dramatize the study of American history.

The Historical collection of the late Dr. Robert Stanley Forsythe, class of 1908, left approximately 6000 volumes of his personal library to the college. These include Italian, French, Spanish, German and English literature dating from 1562 to 1933, also many of his own publications and original papers.

Cited by Alumni Assn. Every year the Alumni association honors outstanding alumni. (Last spring Dr. Walter Cremins, Miss Minnie Delbert, Miss Margaret Faith), L. C. has alumni faculty on many of the large universities. (Some of these are Dr. Fred Uhle at Harvard, Dr. Corvine Hansch at Pomona College, Dr. Melvin Baker, U. of Florida, Dr. George Dahlgren, University of Alaska, and Dr. Donald Whitman, Iowa State Teachers College.) There are many others. Others have achieved in the field of religion.

University Hall, started in 1865, was the first building on the campus and is still in use. The Administration building was erected in 1902. The ensuing years have seen these structures come along—the gymnasium, the dining hall, Olin Sang men's dormitory, Forsythe hall for men and the former art center—now a snack bar and recreation center.

Since the two dormitories for men will not house all the students, the overflow is taken care of in barracks from World War II days and private housing. Facilities for housing girl students is still inadequate. Dormitories include Harts Hall, Barrett House, Hensley Lodge and Burton House—each having a house mother in charge. Coeds do not live in private homes.

Founded by Church. It was in 1865 the college was founded and first known as Lincoln University. Its founding was by commissioners of five synods of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, working under a regular charter from the Legislature of Illinois. First classes were in September, 1866 when enrollment was 171 and preparatory to the college courses were offered. Degrees offered included bachelor of arts, bachelor of science and mistress of the liberal arts (for females). First commencement was in 1868 with three graduates.

In 1873 degrees of master of arts and master of science were added. In 1872 a theology department was added.

Decatur. The original Lincoln University charter served both colleges until 1953 at which time the union was dissolved. Since that date Lincoln College has been operating as an independent college under the original charter and with an independent board of trustees.

In 1903, the union of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church took away the clearly focused responsibility the Cumberland Church had previously borne and brought on gradually decreasing support as well as responsibility. The result is that since 1953 L. C. has been an independent college with an affectionate tie with the Presbyterian church but not one including control or financial obligation. L.C. continued as a four year college until 1929, when due to the fact that tax-supported colleges and universities had come to serve an ever increasing proportion of the young people of the state and most independent colleges were at a low ebb, it was changed to a 2-year college. Rise to Occasion.

The following is from the college's history.

When the Cumberland Presbyterian Church was looking for a site for a college, the 3,000 Lincoln citizens rose to the opportunity, competing with several communities who also wanted the college, guaranteed the present site and raised $30,000 additional!

Describing Lincoln and Logan County, the church leaders wrote their constituent churches in Illinois, Indiana, etc.—"For beauty of location and facility of access, as well as for enterprise and prosperity, the town of Lincoln, excelled."

The Lincoln citizens, petitioning the church to locate the college here, wrote: "The young and flourishing town of Lincoln as well as the young and prosperous county of Logan, having as yet no institution of high grade, would hail with joy and pride the location of your college in this place, and would take a lively interest as well as a commendable pride in fostering and endowing the institution."

"Always the Pride"

Stranger in his History of Logan County writes: "Lincoln College has always been the pride of the people of Logan County. From its classic halls, hundreds of students, men and women, have gone forth into the active arena of life to occupy positions of influence and trust. It has developed the very best types of manhood and womanhood, its standard has ever been high and its beneficent influence has been felt, not only in the community where it is located, but throughout the length and breadth of the nation, wherever its graduates have made their homes."

The records indicate the large number of Lincoln and Logan families who availed themselves of the facilities of the College, their sons and daughters doing preparatory college and even graduate work here.

Daily radioactive fallout readings will be made here, Donald Long of the Soil Conservation Service, stated Monday after a regular meeting of the Emergency Planning Commission. Retreat in Stock Mart

NEW YORK (U) — Industrials bore the brunt of the selling as the stock market retreated in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average at noon was off 1.20 at 253.70 with industrials down 2.40, rails down 0.30 and utilities down 0.10.

Key issues were down fractions to well over a point and the ranks of the small gainers grew steadily thinner.

General Motors widened its loss to nearly a point as contract negotiations were recessed until tonight and United Auto Workers members began striking some of the firm's 129 plants. Ford, up nearly a point earlier, turned lower and Chrysler was about unchanged.

Foreign Aid Big Problem

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foreign aid remains the toughest problem for Congress to settle before adjournment.

Senators and House members already were drifting away from Washington as leaders on both sides passed the word they were determined to close down the first session of the 87th Congress Saturday night.

Senate-House conferees held their first sessions on the foreign aid bill Thursday and broke up in flat disagreement without even fixing a meeting time for today. But they were expected to get together by this afternoon.

The Senate passed a $4,196,500,000 bill while the House voted $539 million less. House conferees Thursday demurred strongly against accepting compromise figures close to the Senate version.

The controversial bill to ease the tax burden on DuPont Co. stockholders who might receive General Motors stock in a divestiture proceeding comes up for Senate debate today.

But chances for final action on it this session appeared slim.

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he would put it over until January if prolonged controversy developed.

New Phobia, Fear of Atom, Put on U.S. Medical List

CHICAGO (AP) — A physician said today the nuclear age has spawned a new phobia-nucleomito-phobia, or fear of the atom. An article in Today's Health, a magazine published by the American Medical Association, said public officials have received a rash of calls from persons who believe they are radioactive.

The author, Dr. Milton A. Dushkin, medical director of North Shore Hospital, Winnetka, Ill., said the callers report such things as mysterious rays shooting from submarines in Lake Michigan to flying objects charging women's hair curlers with radioactivity. "It's a product of the age," he wrote.

"When a person feels overwhelmed by feelings of insecurity and frustrations beyond his control, he must find a scapegoat. Anything popular will do. Nowadays it's fashionable for the emotionally ill to blame their confused state on radioactivity in their environment."

Farmers need more and better representation in Washington. Believe we should put more effort into national legislation; Illinois farmers co-operate with present farm program with the amendment that historic crops be dropped and substitute prorated for percentage of crop acres and proper land use.

$35 Contributed For Crocus Fund

Crocus fund sponsored by the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce has reached $35.00, according to Mrs. Betty Kiefer, chairman. The fund was established to finance the planting of 4,000 crocus bulbs on the courthouse lawn, and for the beautification of other downtown areas.

"A large part of the donations to the fund have come through the mail and we're very pleased with the response to the program," Mrs. Kiefer reported. Donations may be mailed to Mrs. Kiefer, Mrs. Harold Broughton or the Chamber of Commerce Office.

The crocuses will be in bloom for approximately three weeks early in the spring. They require little care and will be appreciated because they are among the first flowers of the spring, it is believed. Five different varieties will be planted.

Big three motors, oils, aircrafts, chemicals, rails and electronics displayed a generally lower trend while a mixed pattern prevailed in a number of other important groups.

As finalists, the students will be eligible for scholarship awards sponsored by about 130 business corporations, foundations, associations, individuals, and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself.

In the final phase of the competition, the high school grades, extracurricular activities, school citizenship, and leadership qualities of the students will be evaluated along with their scores on the tests.

$1,300 for Driving Kids To School

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — A lawyer in an Albany suburb has been offered a contract whereby he would be paid $1,300 a year by his school district for driving his two daughters to a private school in the family car.

The lawyer, Walter F. Wessendorf Jr., bid for the contract and has it but has not returned it, signed to the school district, the district business manager said today. The manager said the contract would not be final until the state approved it.

The district awarded the contract for transportation to the Albany Academy for Girls, under terms of a state law that extended the distance districts must transport pupils who choose to attend parochial and other private schools.

Wessendorf was the lowest of two bidders on a contract to transport his daughters to school, the superintendent of the Guilderland Central School District said. Wessendorf's automobile has been licensed by the State Public Service Commission and is, in effect, a school bus for the two girls, Supt. Alton U. Farnsworth said.

"The state doesn't say a parent can't bid on transportation of his children," he said.

The law, which went into effect at the start of this school year, requires school districts to supply transportation for pupils within the district to schools they choose within 10 miles of their homes.

"We don't like the law, but we have to live with it," Farnsworth said.

Parents of pupils attending private schools must request transportation from the district. Wessendorf, who practices law from his home, made the request, the school official said.

The superintendent said the district uses its own buses within the district, provides bus tokens for high school pupils attending private schools and lets contracts for other needed transportation.
