NASON ON EDUCATION: Big Brothers of Aid In Fraternity Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED., D.
Professor of Education,
U of S California

..QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS..
Dear Dr. Nason:

How can a fraternity bring up its scholastic standing? What can a scholarship committee of a fraternity do? What can individual members do to improve their ratings? How can a faculty advisor help? I will look for your answer in the newspaper.

E. O., Appleton, Wis.

Answer:

Only a determined effort by all, led by upper classmen in a fraternity, can improve that fraternity's scholastic rating. It's up to each of you to realize what other fraternities have done, yours can do.

Here's a plan that has proved successful:

Assign each pledge and active who has low grades to a "big brother" who will work with him on the problem. Get both members of the team to study a manual such as my "You Can Get Better Grades" and discuss how to apply these procedures to the troublesome courses.

This procedure of working together to improve individual scholarship can prove to be the atmosphere inspiring success.

The scholarship committee and the advisor can emphasize that good scholarship is the most important part of college life. If this standard of excellence is upheld by the fraternity as a whole, each individual will strive harder toward it.

DEAR DR. Nason: ... ..

We have three children, two honor students and one hardly passing. The third child is quick and bright, eager and will se always to get poor grades and is always quick to tears.

A healthy little girl who makes friends easily, she seems to be well-liked, but is rather frustrating. Is her problem lack of the power to concentrate?

I'm beginning to fear, when she brings home a very good test paper (which is rare) that that she may be copying from some one else.

There have been times when

I feel sure she is gold-bricking.
A Reader, N.J.

Answer:

A third child following two honor students often feels it is useless to strive for excellence. You are making matters worse with your suspicions of cheating and gold-bricking. Make a special effort to surround this child with love, affection and approval, regardless of her scholastic shortcomings.

Have some adult outside the family encourage her to make the most of her opportunities in school.

Soon you will be proud of her too!

Dear Dr. Nason:

In a recent column you pointed to possible defects in scholastic segregation. However, study of your article indicates that actually the difficulty is in the operation of the program.

Teacher, Greenfield, Ind.

Answer:

The operation of any school program depends more upon the cooperation of teachers than it does upon rules and regulations set down by administrators.

We will make the most progress in education when the problems are understood by administrators, teachers, parents and, in many cases, by the students themselves. No one segment can be expected to lift all the others.

Home Service Of Red Cross Aiding Many

(This is one in a series of articles in connection with the current Logan County Red Cross appeal for funds.)

Assistance to servicemen and their families and veterans cannot always be measured by a dollar but the Home Service Department of Logan County chapter, American Red Cross, has spent hundreds of dollars in phone bills, telegrams and financial aid for servicemen in emergency situations. The Home Service Department is not a relief agency. Critical illness or death in the immediate family brings a request for an emergency leave for the serviceman. This in turn often results in a request for a transportation loan. Verification of the situation is a requirement of the military authorities and if possible, a leave and a loan can be arranged.

The average monthly phone toll call charges over a year is $40.00 with Western Union Wires accounting for about half this amount. In August, 1962, Red Cross communications were changed by the National Headquarters office. Now, most messages for servicemen in the United States are phoned to the field director, American Red Cross, at the military installation. Servicemen with APO numbers receive their messages from the National Relay Station in Washington D.C.

Loans totaling $1163.00 have been made by Logan County Home Service. Some are repaid almost immediately, others are returned at the rate of $5 and $10.00 checks which are deducted from the serviceman's pay check and others are never repaid. It is through repayment into the revolving fund of Home Service that financial assistance is available.

The United Fund of Lincoln and the county drive, (outside Lincoln) in March are the only sources of income for the needs of our county. There is always the possibility that an emergency such as the explosion at Mt. Pulaski would require additional funds and the Red Cross stands ready to assist in this type of emergency too.

The American Red Cross phone number is listed in the telephone book Mrs. Lester Wickline is Home Service chairman, Mrs. Omer Potter is executive secretary. Austin Schaffnacker of Mt. Pulaski is county chairman, Frances Myrick also of Mt. Pulaski is county drive chairman.

NASON ON EDUCATION: Uprooted School Pupils Need Special Attention

(Editor's Note: This is the second of several articles on the nation's major problems in education.)

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED. D.
(Professor of Education,
U of S California)

This is a country on the move. Families move from south to north, from east to west, from cities to suburbs. And newcomers in a city often move several times before getting situated permanently.

As a result, of course, children are almost continually changing schools.

One California junior high school principal reports a 65 per cent turnover in his school population after the first month. Some children attend as many as eight different schools in one year.

This is a problem that until the last decade never faced us in such enormity. But now we are compelled to face up to methods of dealing with it.

Properly handled, children can benefit from changing schools. They can learn early the adaptability to change that recurs in our modern world. As their horizons broaden, their interests grow. And they have more chances to make new friends.

Grade System Unwieldy

But, under the typical school organization in which children move from grade to grade almost automatically, transfers are apt to prove difficult.

Here is a typical example. Joe's parents moved halfway across the country. Joe's old school record indicated "C" work in the fifth grade, so he was placed in the fifth grade.

Actually Joe had been doing average work in a low reading group. But it took his new teacher several days to discover that he read at the third grade, not fifth grade, level. Finally Joe was placed in proper groups according to his performance in reading and arithmetic. But those first days were difficult for both Joe and his teacher.

A system of more complete records could have smoothed Joe's transfer.

Detroit is one city where they are trying to develop more usable pupil records. These records, which show progress or lack of it in each of the fundamentals, should follow each student from school to school.

But even with adequate records, the present organization by grades presents problems for the new students and their teachers. Recognizing how prevalent school transfers are today, schools should base their organization more heavily upon performance.

Rise of Ungraded Schools

One development to meet this problem is the establishment of ungraded elementary schools in several cities. In them, from kindergarten through second grade, each child works in a group at his own level of development in each skill.

At junior high level, as in Issaquah, Wash., performance grouping rather than grade level grouping has proved successful. There, five levels are offered in each subject. A student can be in a high group in one subject, and a low group in another. He can progress from one group to another through improved performance.

However, while awaiting any re-organization of schools, parents should be alert to the problem.

Your child's ability to learn and adjust to a new situation depends largely upon his skill in reading, arithmetic, and handwriting. As long as these are kept at least up to grade level, his moving from school to school can proceed smoothly.

Mrs. Deverman Funeral Tuesday

Mrs. Lydia Deverman, 43, of Lincoln rr 2, died at 6:50 p.m. Saturday in Abraham Lincoln Memorial hospital.

will officiate and burial will be in Union cemetery. Friends may call at Holland and Barry Funeral Home after 3 p.m. Monday.

She was married to Walter Deverman in Hartburg Nov. 18, 1939, and he survives as do her mother, Mrs. Henry Toll of Hartburg; two sons, Darrell of Lincoln and Robert, who is in the Air Force at Whiteman AFB in Missouri; two daughters, Carolyn and Doris of Lincoln and two grandchildren.

A local youth home could give the courts more discretionary power and could, I believe, benefit and save many of our youths. NOW CALLED HELPER

Management contends: "You can't run a modern railroad on conditions set up years ago."

The unions call the firemen a diesel helper and say he's needed for greater safety on trains. Gilbert says 190 train employees were killed in one recent year.

"The name firemen is outmoded because he doesn't shovel coal," a union spokesman says. "But his presence is needed as supervisor of power; he supervises the diesel equipment and does engineroom work while the train is en route."

2. An overhaul of the wage structure, with pay geared to a combination of time and mileage. This is calculated to result in pay raises for 75 per cent of the workers while others could make up for pay cuts, in part, by putting in more hours and riding more miles.

Management holds the present pay structure to be a relic of a slow-moving era when a 100-mile trip was regarded as the equivalent of a full day's work.

The unions challenge the commission finding and contend wages actually would be cut and hours would be lengthened by the proposed changes.

"It's hardly a pay increase," a union official said. "It would amount to a cut in pay as much as 80 per cent for locomotive engineers."

Warm Sun Soon 'Erases' Snow

The quarter-inch of snow falling in the Logan area Tuesday night, lasted but briefly under the sun's rays Wednesday. The snow came on the heels of .44 of an inch of rain here Tuesday. From a Tuesday maximum of 44 degrees, the temperature skidded to 26 degrees in the night.

There are many ponds and "lakes" in Logan as a result of the heavy precipitation, much of which becomes run-off because of the deep frost layer in the ground. Some roads remain closed because of the high water. Erosion is being noted on some farmland.

Arena Play at L.C. March 8th

"A Thurber Carnival", a series of comedy writings by the late James Thurber, will be the next play produced by the Lincoln College-Community Players in the college auditorium. The comedy will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday and Saturday nights, March 8, 9, 15 and 16.

The Players will present the light-hearted Thurber comedy in arena style. The audience will completely encircle the stage area which has been formed in the middle of the auditorium floor.

This will be the third time "theatre-in-the-round" has been presented at Lincoln College. The two previous arena plays were "The Moon is Down" and "The Man Who Came to Dinner".

Lincoln College dramatics director Louis E. Catron said that he had hoped to present at least one play a year in this intimate style but the plays last year did not lend themselves to arena. "However, we are finding that this Thurber play seems to be made for theatre-in-the-round," he said.

Tickets for the play may be reserved by calling Mrs. Martha Brown at the college.

American Red Cross Blood Banking has been a part of the Logan County scene for more than 11 years. During these years we've had our ups and downs, our successes and failures. More than 12,000 pints of blood or blood derivatives such as plasma, serum albumin, and fibrinogen have been provided to the St. Clara's and Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospitals for use in the care of their patients.

The standard operating procedure has been for the hospital to keep on hand only the amount of blood it will use in the next few days. Unfortunately whole blood has a very short dating (approximately three weeks). When and if blood in the hospital

WAYNESVILLE — Dale Reinhart, village fire chief, reported 19 volunteer firemen were named at a recent organization meeting, and there is room for more volunteers.
Those named are Francis Brisdraws, Keith Liesman and Dean Lohrenz are the only seventh graders returning for next season. The heavyweight team finished the season with a 22-0 mark.

The lightweight team was also introduced as were the cheerleaders. Music was provided by the junior high band. Many friends of the team and coaches were on hand to acclaim the fourth-year-in-a-row champions.

Trapped in Automobile

WAYNESVILLE — A mother of six children was trapped inside her car Monday when the vehicle was swept off the highway into deep water on a black-top road near the Kickapoo Creek bridge, north of Waynesville. Two McLean-Waynesville high school youths finally came to the woman's rescue and escorted her to safe ground.

Mrs. Paul Smith, rural Waynesville, said she drove, during heavy rain, into water that she believed to be about only six inches deep, when suddenly the car was swept off the road into the icy water. Mrs. Smith said the water rose past the window level and into the interior of the auto.

The woman's plight was discovered by the two youths, Jerry Barr and John Harris, minutes later. The boys waded into the armpit-deep water to assist Mrs. Smith to dry ground and a neighbor's home.
When the car was hauled out Wednesday, only four inches showed above the water.

Congress to Begin Serious Work, Predict

WASHINGTON (U) — After two months of dilly-dallying, the 88th Congress buckles down this week to some serious floor action, starting today with consideration of the draft extension bill in the House.

Bills scheduled for votes in both the House and the Senate will give critics of President Kennedy's budget an opportunity to test their strength and start toward their goal of a cut of from $10 billion to $15 billion in appropriations.

The Senate legislative menu is relatively thin. It serves up a vote Tuesday on an administration bill to coordinate federal and state outdoor recreation facilities.

Basis For Scrap
Republicans have decided to use the bill for an initial scrap in their budget-cutting drive. The measure carries no actual appropriations but would authorize a program that would require some money later. Such new programs, Republicans claim, must be nipped in the bud before they start draining off federal revenues.

A bigger and tougher budget fight is due on the House floor Tuesday when that body considers a record $15.8 billion military authorization bill which will require some implementing funds later.

Anticipating a Republican attempt to cut the military bill, House leaders have served notice that there will be a roll-call vote on the measure.

Military Bill Boosted
The House Armed Services Committee has boosted the military bill by about $497 million over the amount requested.

The biggest share of the increase, $363.7 million, is to step up the controversial R570 reconnaissance strike plane program.

The draft bill up for House action today would keep the draft in effect until July 1, 1967, paving the way for induction of an estimated 360,000 men. The Army figures it will have to draft about 90,000 men during each of the next four fiscal years.

Armed Thief, Shot, Nabbed After Chase

LYONS, Ill. (U) — An armed gunman was critically wounded and a policeman injured early Monday in a high speed, bullet-punctuated six-mile chase following a motel holdup in Lyons, Ill.

Officer Fred Ander, of Lyons police, said an armed gunman walked into the Presidential Motel at about 2:05 a.m. and brandished a .32 caliber automatic at the clerk, Gerald Elmo, 44, of Bellwood, Ill.

As the gunman was being given $68, the manager of the motel, Wayne Papineau, called police from another room.

At High Speed
Lyons police arrived as the holdup man was climbing into his car before they could stop him. He sped off at high speed.

Squad cars from Stokely and Berwyn — both Chicago suburbs — joined in the chase with officers firing at the fleeing car. Berwyn police set up a roadblock at 18th and Ridgeland Ave.

Patrolman Lawrence Chieffo, of Berwyn police, said the gunman approached the roadblock at an estimated speed of 70 miles an hour and crashed broadside into the parked squad car. The police car was spun around hitting Patrolman Joseph Venturini, 37, of Berwyn.

Venturini was treated for contusions of the leg at MacNeal Memorial Hospital in Berwyn, and released.

Wounded in Head

Officer Chieffo identified the gunman as Edward Bernatowicz, 48, of Chicago. He was found to be suffering from a bullet wound in the head, Chieffo said.

It is not known what officer fired the shot that hit Bernatowicz.

Bernatowicz was in Cook County Hospital in critical condition. He also suffered internal injuries resulting from the collision with the squad car, which was demolished.

HIT-RUN BLAMED

LYONS, Ill. (U) — Police believe a hit-run motorist who dumped his victim in a forest preserve instead of taking him to a hospital was the killer of Elza McCraig, 46.

The man's battered body was found Saturday in a forest preserve parking lot off U.S. 66 in Lyons, a suburb west of Chicago.

Lyons police said Sunday they learned that McCraig had set out to hitchhike from Chicago to visit relatives in St. Louis. They believe a motorist hit McCraig, stopped, picked him up, dumped him where he wouldn't be found for awhile, and fled.

Lt. Allen Schiefelbein of the Lyons police said an examination showed the body suffered two spinal fractures and a broken neck.

McCraig was a meat packing worker who lived on Chicago's Near West Side.

State Pledges Aid For M.C. Schools

MASON CITY — Ray Page, state superintendent of schools, visited the scene of the high school fire disaster at Mason City Monday and pledged full state support.

Page told Ralph Helton, Mason City superintendent of schools, that the state will give its approval to almost any system to allow the high school to complete the current year. This could include extending the school year to make up for the days lost after the March 5 fire, permitting two four-hour school sessions a day and not penalizing the school for not having the required physical education and library facilities.

The state superintendent was informed that the city now has $295,000 out in bonds for its 1955 grade school. Helton said the high school district could issue up to $375,000 in bonds to supplement the insurance settlement on the burned building.

The school administrators also discussed the possibility of getting

Review 'Black Monday' in Stock M

NEW YORK (AP) — The story behind "the most dramatic stock market event in more than three decades" was told today by the New York Stock Exchange.

It reported what investors did during the May 28, 1957 market crash and the May 29-31 recovery.

On "Black Monday," May 28, the market was rocked by its worst loss since 1929. About midday Tuesday it made an abrupt about face and scored a partial recovery. On Thursday, after a Memorial Day holiday respite, it more than recaptured Monday's loss.

During this period 35 million shares changed hands in 673,000 individual transactions, swamping the exchange's reporting facilities.

The exchange surveyed a portion of these transactions to find out who was buying and selling, said Keith Funston, exchange president.

Here is what the survey showed: —the public, individuals, sold heavily when the market was declining and bought heavily when it was rising.

—Financial institutions, commercial banks and non-members broker — dealers ducked market trends throughout the three days, buying when individuals were selling, and vice versa.

—Individual exchange members and member organizations generally were net buyers when the market was declining and net sellers as the market rose.

The survey also shows over the three days individuals in the middle and upper income groups were net sellers. The under-$10,000 income group were substantial net buyers, especially on May 31.

Investors with incomes over $5,000 were buyers, even on May 28, when all others sold en masse.

Given Year At Vandalia

David Crawford, 20, of Lincoln, was sentenced to one year at the Vandalia penal institution when found guilty of violation of probation by Judge John McCullough in the Logan county court Monday afternoon.

In a hearing before the court, Crawford had pleaded not guilty to the violation, that of being involved in the Jan. 3 robbery at the Wash House laundromat.

Another Lincoln youth, Donald Eckert, 19, who admitted taking part in the robbery Feb. 20 in a petition to revoke probation hearing in county court, and who had implicated Crawford at that time, first changed his testimony when testifying Monday, saying Crawford was not involved in the robbery.

Asst. State's Attorney Rodney Bucher then reminded Eckert of his testimony at the previous hearing and read the youth a section of the penal code regarding perjury.

Eckert then changed his testimony again and stated Crawford was with him at the time of the Wash House robbery. Eckert is now in county jail awaiting transfer to Vandalia where he will also serve a year's sentence.

News From Here, There Around the World Today

BONN, Germany—Despite strong parliamentary opposition, an executive order by Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government banning shipment of pipeline pipe to the Soviet Union went into effect today.

Parliament had until midnight Monday night to override the ban.

Adenauer's Christian Democrats thwarted the opposition by walking out. This shut down the session because a quorum was not present.

Those in the chamber voted 244-1 against the order.

The United States has put strong pressure on its allies to ban the sales, arguing that the pipelines increase Soviet military strength and threaten to flood Western Europe with cheap Soviet oil in competition to Western oil interests.

They also approved an American plan for a NATO fleet of 25 surface ships armed with Polaris missiles and manned by mixed crews from the various NATO nations.

The ministers said the two plans were "two elements of the same basic idea" for a NATO nuclear force. The British won American approval of the same two-phase policy at meetings with special U.S. envoy Livingston Merchant last week.

Stocks Go 'Sidewise'

NEW YORK—The stock market pursued an irregular course today, continuing what Wall St. observers called a "sidewise" movement. Trading was slow.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 1.1 at 255.9 with industrials and utilities unchanged and the rails off 3.

Some of the stocks which were off sharply in Monday's decline rebounded fairly well.

Except for a slight preponderance of losers among rails, most sections of the market were thoroughly mixed.

The economic background included the seventh straight weekly rise in steel production and a gain in factory employment in mid-February for the first time in seven months.

The pace of trading, however, lagged even behind Monday's slow rate.

Hardest hit was the 20-family settlement of Hall, town near Golconda. Pope County officials said nearly 100 residents were driven out as the Ohio backed into Lusk and Miller creeks that surround the settlement.

Several families in southern Pope County were moved. Metropolitan police said at least 100 persons in river front dwellings had moved, and that Civil De-

Although the time is getting short, there is still an opportunity for feed grain producers to take part in the 1963 Feed Grain Program, according to Gerald E. Gehrke, office manager of the Logan County ASCS. March 22 is the date which concludes the sign-up period.

Bataan Survivor's Family Resting Easier at Onarga

ONARGA, Ill. (AP) — A Bataan Death March survivor and his family expressed happiness today after the State Department said it has temporarily suspended attempts to collect payment of World War II emergency relief.

The State Department maintains that the family of Noble Frank Smith owes $1,421 for relief provided to Mrs. Viola Smith and her son, Carl, while they were interned in the Far East by the Japanese during World War II.

Smith, 47, told The Associated Press Tuesday night: "I'm real happy about it. I'm not only happy for myself, but for others in similar circumstances."

CALLED "BEST NEWS"

His wife added: "This is the best news I've had in a long time."

Smith, an ex-Marine, said the State Department has informed him there are 2,000 persons in the nation who owe money for various reasons, including war relief.

In Washington, Sen. Paul H. Douglas, (D-Ill.), asked the State Department to delay its demand for payment and introduced a bill which would cancel the debt. A spokesman for Douglas said the department did not agree to put off attempting to collect the payment pending the outcome of the Douglas bill, but agreed to waive the Thursday deadline it had set for payment.

Smith said the State Department has dunned the family for payment since the 1950's, adding that each bill was larger because of accrued interest. He maintains that the government has nothing coming, adding: "They are not going to get the money." Rep. Leslie C. Arends, (R-Ill.), said he would attempt to have the State Department cancel the Smiths' bill.

Married in Service

The Smiths were married while he was serving with the Marines in Shanghai before World War II. Mrs. Smith was employed as a secretary for General Motors Corp.

When war loomed, Smith was transferred to the Philippines. His wife, the daughter of a White Russian mother and a Portuguese father who was born in Hong Kong, stayed behind. She was pregnant at the time with their first child.

However, before she was able to follow her husband, Shanghai fell to the Japanese. Both she and her young son, Carl, now 22, were interned with other Americans in Shanghai.

It was during this time that federal stipends were supplied the interned refugees through an arrangement with the Swiss Embassy.

Captured by Japs

Smith was captured by the Japanese at Bataan, survived the infamous Death March and spent the remainder of the war in prison camps in Manchuria, the Philippines and Formosa.

The couple were reunited in San Francisco after the war. Mrs. Smith and Carl were brought to the United States aboard an Army transport.

The Smiths now have five children aged 6 to 22. They operate a 160-acre farm near Onarga. Smith also operates a small company which manufactures grave vaults.

Take on Insect Problems Here

Underground soil insects cost farmers thousands of dollars annually, according to Harold Brinkmeier, Logan county farm adviser. These insects eat their way into corn profits by destroying corn root systems which feed precious water and nutrients to the plants.

A special underground insect identification and control class will be held at the Logan County Farm Bureau meeting room from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Wednesday, April 3. Brinkmeier and the Logan County Ag Extension Council which planned this meeting feel that agricultural businessmen cannot only help themselves but the farmers they supply with seed, chemicals and fertilizer by attending.

A canon is a dignitary who possesses a "prebend" or revenue allotted for the performance of divine service in a cathedral or collegiate church. An honorary canon does not receive any payment. The statutes of the Cathedral Chapter (by-laws of its governing body) adopted last November, provide for the appointment of two honorary canons.

The two honorees are The Venerable William E. Berger, archdeacon of Springfield and rector of Trinity Church in Lincoln, and The Rev. William L. Jacobs, rector of Christ Church, Springfield.

Serves with Kindness
Commenting upon the appointment of the two canons, The Very Rev. Edmund M. Ringland, Dean of St. Paul's, said, "Canon Berger has served the Diocese of Springfield through difficult years with kindness and great thought-

Following Evensong, the Cathedral choir and soloists will present Bach's Cantata No. 78 with organ and harpsichord accompaniment. Robert L. Bankert of Illinois Wesleyan University will play the harpsichord.

The Rt. Rev. Albert A. Chambers, Bishop of Springfield, who will be present for the service, has indicated that the purpose of his nominations of the two canons was to honor distinguished achievement and to extend the voice and purpose of the Cathedral beyond the Cathedral parish and the city of Springfield.

An informal reception in the Cathedral parish house will follow the service.
