Funeral services for Galen Shirley, (above) 52, well known Logan farmer of the Emden area, will be Sunday at 2 p.m. from the Christian church in Hartsburg of which he was a member. Shirley was fatally injured Thursday afternoon in a hay baler accident.

In charge at the last rites will be the Rev. Gerald Rupert and Dr. John T. Burns. Interment is to be in Bethel cemetery. Visitation at Holland and Barry Funeral Home will be Saturday afternoon and evening. Memorials may be given to Abraham Lincoln Memorial hospital.

The fatal accident occurred at 3:15 o'clock when Shirley, at work on his farm, was drawn into the baler. It is believed he died instantly.

Shirley had been working with a one-man baler putting up hay on his farm in Orvil Township in the Union community. It is believed his hands and arms were caught in the rollers as he attempted to repair the wire knotting unit.

Engine Still Running

Rodney Petro, employed by Shirley, was raking hay in the same field and driving past the baler saw Shirley in the machine. The engine was still running. The machine had to be partly dismantled to recover the body.

Coroner John Barry who investigated reported that Shirley's neck was fractured.

The prominent farmer was born at Hartsburg, Aug. 12, 1910, a son of George and Louise Nall Shirley. His marriage to Roberta Quisenberry took place at Edwardsville, Aug. 6, 1932.

Surviving are his wife, his mother, a son, James Robert, Hartsburg; four daughters, Mrs. Betty Wagner, and Karen Shirley, Emden; Mrs. Nancy Schleider, Champaign; Mrs. Janet Zimmer of San Jose; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Behrends of Hartsburg; and seven grandchildren.

Cool Weather To Follow 97 Degrees Here

Two words made weather news here Monday.

They are—"Much cooler."

The sky became clouded Monday forenoon after a sizzling weekend when the maximum was 97 degrees—high mark of the year which was recorded Saturday. It wasn't much cooler Sunday when the top temperature was 96 degrees.

During Sunday night the mercury dropped to 73 — it was at 79 degrees at 8 a.m. Making the weekend more miserable was the fact that oppressive humidity was a bedfellow of the heat.

90 AT SPRINGFIELD (By ASSOCIATED PRESS)

The temperature sailed into the 90s again today in Illinois, but a wind shift to the north and a spate of thunderstorms late in the day were a cue to return to cooler weather.

The state's pre-summer heat wave pushed the mercury to 99 degrees at Springfield Sunday, and brought 98-degree readings to Vandalia and Chicago's Grant Park. Elsewhere in the state the 90s were reached.

It was about 20 degrees cooler in most places early today, but the lows in the 70s held high humidity and only brief and modest respite.

Dramatic Drop Coming

The Weather Bureau said a dramatic drop in temperatures was expected tonight in northern Illinois, with low readings in the 50s. Relief will be less in Southern Illinois, but there, too, minimum marks in the upper 60s are expected.

Moderate weather will continue during the week, the five-day forecast indicated, with averaging readings 6 to 10 degrees under those normal for the season. In the southern half of Illinois.

The average range will be near normal, with extreme Southern Illinois getting weather 2 to 5 degrees above normal.

Wind to Shift

Southwest winds will veer to northerly for a period.

The hot spell has been marked by windy thunderstorms at night. Early Sunday morning, slashing

Threat for Judge for Nazi Order

CHICAGO (AP) — A Circuit Court judge was threatened with death Tuesday for ordering the American Nazi Party to vacate its dilapidated headquarters.

Judge Julian P. Wilamoski of Kewanee, serving in Chicago as a visiting judge, rejected offers of a police bodyguard. He said the threat probably was the work of a crank.

The judge said the threat was contained in a letter which stated: "You had no right to order our American Nazi men out of the building."

"For Exploiting Us" The handwritten letter was signed "S. Arbenz" and said, in part: "We should have killed you long ago for exploiting us and stealing the good jobs from the people. . . . And it should be a painful death which you deserve for exploiting the people and stealing and committing murders." It bore no return address.

On May 15, Judge Wilamoski gave Constantine Speros and Matt Koehl, owners of the building which houses the headquarters until June 19 to correct more than 50 building code violations or vacate the building.

A spokesman for the party appeared in court during the hearing and protested that the organization was being persecuted.

The letter was turned over to the FBI.

Judge Wilamoski, 53, has been hearing building code violation cases. He lives in a downtown hotel while in Chicago.

Oppose Kerner 'Blank Check'

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Complaints by Republican senators that Gov. Kerner's "build now, pay later" program asked them to write a $66 million blank check put Democrats on their mettle today to fill in blanks.

Republicans demanded that Kerner's spokesmen in the Senate Executive Committee justify the capital building projects and set dollar limits on each.

Lawmakers must declare to the Illinois Building Authority that the projects are in the public interest before the authority can draw plans for university, penitentiary, mental health structures, armories, and state park facilities.

Then, to give the building authority a base for issuing revenue bonds, the legislature would appropriate to state agencies slated to use the structures the rents needed for two years.

Kerner told the legislature in his budget message the purpose of the plan was to spread the costs of buildings over their many years of use instead of saddling one two-year budget with the total cost of a building.

When the Executive Committee voted 13-10 against the proposal, Sen. W. Russell Arrington, (R-Evanston), led opposition. He said Kerner's administration brought the bill in late, cut out dollar ceilings on projects and failed to justify each project. "How do we know it is in the public interest to acquire land for Lake Le-Aqua-Na State Park?" he asked.

Kerner spokesmen answered complaints that other senators did not see their state parks mentioned by saying the State Park Division determined eligibility.

Sen. Everett Peters, (R-St. Joseph), criticized the program for tardiness, but said he supported it because of needed University of Illinois buildings in it.

Sen. Dennis Collins, (R-DeKalb), said the program provided only $5 million for universities under the Teachers College Board, compared to $14 million and $15 million respectively for the University of Illinois and Southern Illinois University.

Measures in s State Assembly

Bills who voted against the bills, said that abolition of the IPAC would not bring about a reduction of aid costs and probably would increase them.

"There would be a clampdown on public aid before elections, and after elections the gates would be opened," Mikva said. Rep. Paul Powell, (D-Vienna,) answering Mikva's charge that politics would be injected into relief, said that politics in government can be good or bad.

The executive committee approved bills by Rep. W. J. Murphy, (R-Antioch,) and Rep. Paul Elward, (D-Chicago), to raise lawmakers' salaries from $6,000 a year to $9,000.

Elward's bills would not take effect unless a proposed constitutional amendment calling for annual sessions of the legislature is approved by the General Assembly and the voters. The legislature now meets six months every two years.

Murphy's bills also would hike the governor's pay from $30,000 to $40,000 a year and would increase pay of other state officials from $5,000 to $10,000.

The Senate Industrial Affairs Committee voted against endorsing a $1-an-hour minimum wage and apparently killed such legislation until the 1965 General Assembly.

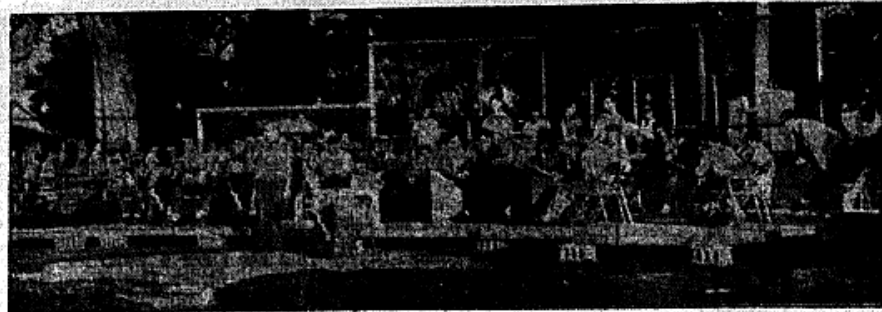

The measure, part of Gov. Otto Kerner's program, was opposed by spokesmen for restaurants and Joseph Meek, president of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association.

Illinois does not have a minimum wage law and the federal minimum affects only firms engaged in interstate commerce.

Lincoln State School will present its 25th annual Summer Festival this weekend. According to Dr. Joseph Albaum, superintendent, the first phase of the festival will begin at 8:30 p.m. Saturday with an open air production called "Holiday on the Green."

"The production which is free and open to the public will be staged on the north campus baseball field under lights," Dr. Albaum said. "While our guests sit in the bleachers, more than 1,200 of the boys and girls at Lincoln will put on a first class musical production."

"The show is produced and directed by our activity therapies staff. These 43 specialists, headed by supervisor Mary E. Downey begin planning the event early in spring."

Over Long Period Miss Downey said the patients begin talking about the summer festival just as soon as the Christmas Program is over.

"By May 1, we have selected a theme and have worked up the numbers for the show," Miss Downey said. "Shortly after we begin rehearsing. While rehearsal moves along, patients in industrial therapy sew many of the 1,200 colorful costumes used in the production."

Highlight of the 11 number show this year will be Mayday, Miss Downey said. It features 80 children doing maypole dances around five poles.

sent Frontier Days. Among the features are a cowboy and Indian battle, stagecoach and wagon train, a barn dance plus a gun drill and a demonstration by the school's drum and bugle corps.

The State School band will provide accompaniment for both performances.

Miss Downey said the festivals serve three important purposes.

"The main purpose centers on the child in the show. He or she takes great satisfaction in being a part of a successful undertaking. Secondly, the festival is a dramatic way of showing people who have never seen mentally retarded children the possibilities for training that exist for these boys and girls."

Good For Morale

"Finally, the festival is a good morale builder throughout the school. Every department strives to make it a success. Carpenters help us with our props; electricians take care of the lights, and others like the nursing service, the dietary staff, and the laundry go out of their way to help out."

Miss Downey said the show would not be possible without the assistance of Ronald W. Pherigo, Mrs. Betty Eaton, Miss Carol Howe, assistant supervisors and the other members of the activity therapies staff.

'Cautious Mood' Prevails Over Friday Stock Market

NEW YORK — Tobacco resumed their recovery while sugars were easy in irregular stock market early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.
Most of the top auto stocks took small losses. Steels were narrowly mixed.
Trading interest seemed focused on an aggregation of lower or medium-priced issues which were very active and were apparently moving in response to special recommendations.
The market as a whole was in a cautious mood. One veteran analyst said, "It's a typical Friday market." He meant that at the last trading day of the week traders usually are averse to leaving themselves out on the limb, with markets closed over the weekend.

Although rising auto sales and retail sales provided encouragement there was some caution over the possibility of a nationwide rail strike next week.
The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .1 at 272.4 with industrials up .3, rails up .2, and utilities off .2.
Twentieth Century-Fox in early trading was fractionally lower despite news that it has received some $20 million in cash guarantees from theaters which will show the multi-million-dollar "Cleopatra" film. The stock erased the loss in the afternoon.

Colgate-Palmolive rose another point in further response to its 5-for-4 stock split proposal.
Chrysler and Ford lost fractions. General Motors and American Motors edged. Studebaker picked up a fraction.
Liggett & Myers rose nearly a point.
Du Pont advanced a point. Pan American World Airways was more than a point lower.
The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .77 at 722.30.
Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange.
Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. Most U.S. government bonds were unchanged.

COP Assails Kennedy for 'Peace' View

WASHINGTON — The Republican congressional leaders have bitterly assailed President Kennedy's "strategy of peace," charging him with an unrealistic view of the Communists.
Kennedy's declaration that the United States would not be the first to test nuclear weapons again in the atmosphere was especially scored Thursday by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and House GOP leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana.

"We are deeply troubled," said Dirksen. And, at the same news conference, Halleck declared: "The President's latest course—the adoption of a self-imposed moratorium—is the most doubtful act of all."
The target of the Republicans' fire was the major foreign policy address Kennedy delivered Monday at American University commencement exercises.
The theme of the address was that the time has come for a break in the Cold War and that both the United States and the Soviet Union should re-examine their basic attitudes toward each other.

Dirksen and Halleck said the President's "drastic shift in policy toward the Soviet Union" makes congressional review of U.S. foreign policy imperative. His "proposal" to re-examine our attitude toward the Soviet Union is a triumph for all the accommodationists in his administration and it flies in the face of all common sense and experience.

Will Appeal Convictions

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A federal court jury convicted four men, including former Congressmen Thomas F. Johnson and Frank W. Boykin, of conspiracy Thursday night. Attorneys for the four said they will appeal.

Johnson, 53; Boykin, 78; J. Kenneth Edlin, 64, and William L. Robinson, 37, were found guilty on 32 counts. The maximum punishment totals 19 years imprisonment and $70,000 in fines for each defendant.

U. S. Dist. Judge Roszel Thomson postponed sentencing pending motions for appeal.

Johnson also was convicted of conflict of interest and the other three men with aiding in the conflict. He was accused of trying to get Edlin cleared of mail fraud charges lodged in 1959 in connection with his operation of a Maryland savings and loan firm.

Edlin eventually was convicted of the charge and served five months in prison. He and Robinson, his attorney, are from Miami.

Boykin, a Democrat, had represented Alabama's 1st District in Congress for 28 years until he was defeated in a primary in May 1962.

The indictments against Johnson were returned three weeks before last November's general election.

Johnson, also a Democrat, lost his bid for re-election to Republi-

Realistic Flag Attitude Asked

Flag Day was observed here Thursday night in a program at Latham Park, presented in connection with the weekly concert of Lincoln Legion band. George Wolcott of Mt. Pulaski, chairman of the Lincoln Elks' Flag Day committee, presided. Prayer was offered by Dr. John T. Burns, pastor of First Presbyterian church.

An appeal for a realistic and not over-emotional attitude toward the Stars and Stripes was voiced by Ken Goodrich, the speaker. The Courier managing editor, who is a past exalted ruler of the Elks, pointed out that some overlook the fact the flag is a symbol of the principles of individual freedoms, liberty and justice, and look upon the banner as something that gives them a thrill as it passes in parade — then is forgotten.

He asked for a more thoughtful and fervent attitude when the Pledge of Allegiance is spoken — rather than the mere reciting of the words. The Elks' toast to the flag was recited and a fervent prayer offered that Old Glory may continue "to wave forever over this land of the free and home of the brave."

Band numbers directed by Paul E. Rankin were in several rhythms, including some to fit in with the flag birthday program.

CALLS FOR TESTING

ATLANTA—June 24th will mark the 125th anniversary of the Eminence Christian Church, located about five miles northwest of Atlanta. The celebration will be Sunday, June 23.

Formerly called the Sugar Creek Church, the church was organized on June 24, 1838. The first building was erected in 1839 and was located a short distance southeast of Morgans' Mill, on Sugar Creek and served for 17 years. In 1856, a new building was erected because the former had become too small and not conveniently located.

After thirty years it was determined still more room was needed, so the old building was sold and in 1891, a new structure took shape, which had a seating capacity of 600. This building served for 10 years and was destroyed by fire, March 18, 1891. The present building was completed April 18, 1902 and has served the congregation for 61 years. June 23rd was designated as homecoming day instead of the regular meeting time on Monday. A basket dinner will be served on the lawn, under a tent, at 12:30 p. m.

Special music will be provided by Mr. and Mrs. David Hargrove of Lincoln. Rev. L. H. Appel, of the Lincoln Christian Church will be the guest speaker for the afternoon program, at 2:30 p. m. During the program, several trees will be dedicated, which have been planted this year to replace some old trees that have died and been cut. The new bulletin board, erected at the church entrance, will also be dedicated. Eminence Ladies Aid Society has presented the church this weekly notice of meetings, with money received by their organization for communities service, such as serving dinners at Rotary, Lions and special occasions. Gifts will be presented honored members during the afternoon program. Members of the church board are Ray E. Thompson, chairman; Roy H. Thompson, treasurer and A. E. Adams, clerk. Stress on Health Among 4-H Clubs

CHICAGO—It pays to be physically fit in more ways than one especially if you are a 4-H Club member enrolled in the national 4-H health program.

About 50 boys and girls will be richer by the experience of spending a week in Chicago as delegates to the 42nd National 4-H Club congress to be held the first week in December.

A half dozen of the groups will be recipients of $500 college scholarships for having the best 4-H health projects in the nation, announces the National 4-H service committee.

The fourth "H" in the 4-H clover emblem stands for health, and all 2.3 million members pledged their "health to better living." But the specific 4-H health awards program has stated objectives which members are supposed to achieve.

In a recent report furnished the program's sponsor, Eli Lilly and Company, the 4-H service committee points out that in 1962, nearly 700,000 boys and girls between 10 and 21 years of age participated in specific 4-H health activities.

Members were involved in personal health improvement, better health for the community, public health education and service.

Said a 1962 health scholarship winner, "Lessons in first-aid, child care and home nursing have enabled me to react quickly in emergencies and administer nursing care to the sick."

Another winner had this to say: "Since taking health as a 4-H project I've learned that serious illness can often be prevented by having regular medical and dental checkups. My whole family is up to date on these."

Individual clubs also promote health through demonstrations, meetings, displays and by participating in local health drives. The Cooperative Extension Service supervises 4-H Clubs.
